ITEMS OF NEWS FROM HIGHLANDS

Interesting Locals and Other News from Macon County's Popular Mountain City.

The P. T. A met in the auditorium of the schoolhouse, on Tuesday March 6th. The topic under discussion was ways and means to raise money for school commencement and for playground equipment.

The Community Club sewing circle met with Mrs. E. R. Gilbert, on Thursday March 8th. Twenty minutes are given over during these meetings to a Bible study class conducted by Mrs. S. T. Maret, who is a well informed student.

Mrs. Sarah Parker Ellis and Mrs. Lyles Harris paid Highlands a visit on Friday. Mrs. Ellis is Home Demonstrator for Western North Carolina and came up to talk to the 4-H club girls. Mrs. Ellis has a charming personality and spoke most interestingly on her subject, impressing all present with the importance of the work she is doing and what it will mean to our girls. Already fifteen girls have joined and they are looking forward, not only to a profitable summer but to lots of good times and fun along with it all. The boys are looking forward to Mr. Harris' visit in April.

The P. T. A. gave a dance in Mr. I. E. Rice's new building on Saturday night. Quite a sum was realized.

Mr. Scott Hudson, Mr. Carleton Smith, Mr. Samuel N. Evans and Mr. R. F. Adler, architect, of Atlanta, Mr. Donald Ross, golf course architect, of Pinchurst, N. C., and Mr. A. H. Hutchinson, of Chicago, paid Highlands a visit on Friday and Saturday. They came in the interest of the new golf course to locate the site for the club house, plans for which have been completed by Hentz, Adler & Shutze, architects, and to lay off the last nine holes. Mr. Carleton Smith opened the season by playing on the first nine holes, with credit to himself and the links. He said the first two holes were fine. There are still many finishing touches to be made on the several days in Highlands last week attending to business. The friends of Mr. J. Quincey Pierson are rejoicing over his improved condition and are looking forward to seeing him in his accustomed place in the not distant future.
