State Fair

Raleigh, Oct.—The approaching North Carolina State Fair here gives opportunity for expressing the spirit of North Carolina in an impressive manner and for impressing on other states the true greatness of this great commonwealth, according to the opinion expressed by Governor A. W. McLean to officials of the fair.

The fair, which opens Monday, October 22, and continues through the entire week in the fine new plant provided by the state government, will be by far the greatest event of its kind ever held in this state, said W. S. Moye, the secretary and manager. The tremendous number of exhibits already obtained gives assurance that the fair will attain in its first showing a place of high importance among the means of educating the residents of this and other states concerning the diversity, abundance, and quality of North Carolina products. Requests are coming in daily for entry blanks, this is especially true as to the winners in many of the county fairs.

Almost unlimited evidences of co-operation by the public in the preparations for this fair, which will be housed in a plant provided by the State Government at a cost of more than $200,000, are regarded by fair officials as proof of the wisdom of the Legislature which created this institution, and of a record attendance, it was said by fair officials.

The fair officials have not confirmed their efforts, however, to the preparation of a place for showing the exhibits and to encouraging the entering of exhibits. A great expense is incurred in arranging for a wide variety of amusements, races, and various other contests, all for the purpose of increasing attendance. That activity was part of the great task of making the fair "an exposition that will be both educational and entertaining." The program of horse races is one of the fair's most important offerings of amusements.

Welfare Workers to Meet

The sectional meeting of the Western District Welfare Conference will be held at Bryson City on Friday, October 12. The section to be represented will include Graham, Cherokee, Clay, H. Wood, Jackson, Swain and Macon counties. Problems in public welfare which are of special local interest will be discussed at the meeting to which not only welfare officers but county boards of education, county commissioners, county boards of public welfare, ministers, doctors, and all interested citizens are invited. The meeting will be held at the Fryemont Inn, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning.

D. Hiden Ramsey, of The Asheville Times, will be the luncheon speaker. Mrs. John C. Campbell, who is principal of the Folk School at Brass-town in Cherokee county, will address the gathering on the "Economic Value of Social Work." Mrs. Cathleen Warren, superintendent of public welfare in Cherokee, will outline a constructive county program. Mrs. Charles Quinlan, chairman of the county board of charities and public welfare in Haywood county, will discuss the functions of the county board in relation to the county program. The state board of charities and public welfare will be represented by Mrs. Kathleen Holding, assistant director of Mothers' Aid, who will discuss Mothers' Aid in the state.

On account of the topography of the first district, which includes nineteen western counties, it was decided to hold two sectional meetings, with the general district meeting to take place in Asheville in November. Superintendent N. E. Wright, of Swain county schools, is president of the district conference and W. G. Byers, superintendent of public welfare in Haywood county, is secretary.

MRS. MUNDAY ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Theodore S. Munday entertained with a bridge party Saturday evening at home at the Munday hotel in honor of her brother, Mr. Aaron Rowell, of Manchester, Ga.

The hotel was effectively decorated with Gordon flowers. Refreshments were served in the dining room.

Those invited to meet the honor guest, Mr. Aaron Rowell, were Miss Mattie Angel, Miss Kate Higdon, Miss Lucile Patillo, Miss Grace McClure, Miss Margaret Cunningham, Miss Eloise Sherrill and Mr. Alford Higdon, Mr. Robert Johnston, Mr. Kesler, Billy Hames, Avery Cunningham, Phil McCullum.

Four tables of bridge were enjoyed. Miss Kate Higdon and Mr. Phil McCullum won the high scores. All reported a very enjoyable evening.

$80,000,000
for New Equipment

NEW engines and cars purchased by the Southern Railway System since 1920 have cost $80,000,000. The 364 new locomotives, 31,000 new freight cars, 266 new passenger train cars, which have been added to Southern equipment during the past eight years are an indication of the extent of the improvement program that has been carried on steadily for years.

The Southern, as a consequence of such large investments, is equipped to handle the great increases in Southern commerce which are coming with the progress of Southern agriculture and industry.

And as the South's growth continues, the Southern is constantly anticipating the needs of tomorrow by planning ahead today.

The millions of dollars spent in the South each year by the Southern for materials, supplies, and new equipment provide a strong stimulus to Southern prosperity.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

Laid in a network across the South; linking together nearly every important Southern community, the Southern serves that territory east of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio and Potomac as perhaps no other area of equal extent is served by any single railroad system.
