ONE MORE COUNTY FREE OF SCRUBS

Raleigh, N. C., May—By satisfactory disposing of the last scrub dairy bull within its limits, Buncombe county now follows in the foot-steps of Gaston to be the second county in North Carolina to be 100 percent for pure bred dairy sires and lays claim as the fifth such county in the nation.

The campaign for pure bred dairy cattle was begun in Buncombe back in 1924 when a farm to farm survey made by the county agent and the dairy extension specialists. Since that time the movement has progressed slowly but surely with the dairymen replacing their scrub sires with pure breeds as they found money for the investment. Within the past 12 months, county agent Dale Thrash says that between 35 and 40 scrubs have been eliminated. The last one was disposed of last week. Since the campaign began, 183 pure breeds of the three most popular breeds have been purchased by dairymen. These have cost the farmers all the way from $10 to $750 depending on the age and quality of the animals and the production records back of them.

In this work Mr. Thrash has been assisted by F. R. Farnham, dairy extension specialist, and has had the close co-operation of the dairymen. In some instances, the bulls purchased have not been registered as the owners have not thought it necessary to go to this expense. At the present time, however, every scrub has been satisfactorily disposed of.

Along with this campaign for pure bred sires, Mr. Thrash is now beginning a movement to have a silo on every dairy farm where 10 or more cows are kept. So far 26 farmers have agreed to build this summer and about 50 will likely be built before the season is over. A companion movement is for at least 5 acres of alfalfa on every farm with 15 or more cows and this is making steady progress. Mr. Thrash reports that the agricultural committee of the Asheville Chamber of Commerce has greatly assisted him in all of this work.

CAPT. DONALDSON REGAINED HEALTH

"Many a night I lay awake wondering if there was anything that would help me. Sargon put me back on my feet feeling like a different man when everything else failed. "Stomach trouble had me in a very bad way for three years.

CHARLES F. DONALDSON

My food would ferment and cause so much gas I could hardly get my breath, and my heart would palpitate like it was running away. The stomach pains would wake me up three or four times every night. Nearly all railroad men suffer from constipation and I had a bad case of it for years. My liver was torpid and I felt bilious and dull. I didn't have an ounce of energy or ambition. "I am on my third bottle of Sargon and I can now eat and relish my meals as well as the best of them. I sleep soundly. The shortness of breath and palpitation are things of the past. I am full of energy. "I have taken practically every known liver medicine and laxative during the years I suffered from constipation, but Sargon Soft Mass pills beat them all. "The Sargon treatment is different and far ahead of anything I ever knew." The above statement was made recently by Capt. Charles L. Donaldson, retired passenger conductor of the Southern Pacific, who now resides in Savannah. Capt. Donaldson is a member of the Order of Railroad Conductors and is highly esteemed. Sargon may be obtained in Franklin at Perry's Drug Store. —Adv.

Co-Operative Poultry Sale

At the co-operative poultry sale Monday the county agent states that 3655 pounds were loaded at the car and that the farmers received for the poultry $1036.24. The sale included 995 pounds of fries which sold at 34 cents. Four weeks ago the price was 45 cents per pound. Mr. Sloan suggests that the people next year buy incubator chicks and get them on the market early. That this method is feasible was demonstrated Monday by Frank Norton and Donald Baldwin. Norton sold $85 worth of incubator chicks and Baldwin $71 worth. Mr. Baldwin bought 200 baby chicks and raised 174 out of the lot. After keeping 45 of the best ones for laying purposes Mr. Baldwin received the amount mentioned above for the remainder.
