Camp Taukeetah News

The first month of the camp season at camp Taukeetah, Franklin, North Carolina, closed August the first. The annual banquet was held that night. The dining room was decorated in the cattail the camp flower, and candles. The tables were arranged in the letter T, and appropriate place cards and favors were at each place. Various toasts were given the different phases of camp life, and camp songs sung. Awards were made to the winners in the swimming meet, the posture contest, the horseback show, the flower show, the tennis tournament, the camp song contest, and the horseback tournament. The climax of the evening's program was the presentation of the Evelyn Penny loving cup. Each year this cup is presented to the girl who is voted as best representative of camp spirit. The honor this month went to Lela Hooker, of Durham, North Carolina.

After the banquet, the annual dance drama was given. This was the climax of the work done in the dancing classes, and was presented under the direction of Miss Phoebe Baughn, of the Denis-Shawn School of Dancing. The following program was given:

CAN SELL IRISH POTATOES

The county agent states that he has prospective buyers for a few carloads of Irish potatoes. These potatoes are to be delivered to the car where the farmers will receive checks. Several farmers have agreed to put in part if not all of their potato crops. The co-operative sales on livestock have resulted to the farmers receiving quite a bit of money and the county agent is now working on co-operative produce sales. SEE OR WRITE THIS WEEK about the number of bushels you will have for this sale for in all probability these potatoes will be loaded next week. If his potato sale is supported by the farmers it means another crop for Macon county and a brighter future along agricultural lines.
