

MOVING PICTURE OF WAR SCENES

Famous "Over There" Movie To Be Shown Here Saturday Night

Presentation of an authentic moving picture of the World War at the court house in Franklin is scheduled for Saturday night under the auspices of the American Legion. This picture shows the training of soldiers in American camps, the actual battles on land, at sea, and in the air. It is endorsed and recommended by army and naval officials, veterans of the war, by the American Legion, Daughters of the American Revolution, and other patriotic organizations.

The title of the film feature is "Over There." Scenes include the kaiser reviewing the goose-stepping maneuvers of his troops, American, Belgian, English, French, Italian and other allied troops in action at Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, Cantigny, Argonne, Verdun, and Belleau woods. Smashing of the Hindenburg line is pictured, the signing of the armistice, and the surrender of the German fleet. Special sound and music effects are included.

L. E. Downing of the Educational pictures company of Asheville and Greensboro is in charge of the presentation at Franklin. A supplementary comedy will be shown entitled "Apple Sauce." Admission will be 15 and 30 cents.

MOTHERS' DAY SERVICE

A special Mothers' Day service will be held on Sunday morning at the Methodist church, according to an announcement from the pastor, Rev. R. F. Mock. Appropriate exercises will be held and the sermon subject will be "Mothers."

Subscriptions Pouring In For Leading Positions

believe the better way is to take each house in its order rather than skip here and there. One never knows where a subscriber is to be found and by skipping houses one might miss an order.

Good Returns

It is strange, but even after a smaller town or rural route has been gone over by several contestants, it yields good returns to the next one. There will be people coming to The Press office with their subscriptions in the days following the campaign, having been overlooked entirely by the contestants.

The entire county is ripe for you to cover and will yield results right up to the last day of the campaign.

Good producing territory may be found everywhere and anywhere.

The winning votes can be secured these next two days—between now and Saturday night, May 10. And the second period should practically decide who the winners of the big prizes will be. You can't idle your time with such valuable prizes at stake—you should throw your hat in the ring and let nothing stand between you and the prize you are determined to get.

And the way to win is to pile up the largest number of votes. It takes votes and votes alone to win. So the larger your vote score is at the end of the second period, the better for you.

Say It With Votes

Those who have a friend in the campaign or someone whom they are interested in, have a real opportunity of showing their friendship by actively helping them, if they want to see them come out on top. It is surprising how quickly you can fill up a book of subscriptions for that friend. It can be done in your "spare time" and certainly something to be proud of—is to know, after the campaign is over, that the assistance you gave may have been the cause of "YOUR FAVORITE" winning the automobile. Wishes are fine, but there is only one thing that will help a candidate win, and that thing is VOTES, and VOTES are given for subscriptions, the longer the term of the subscription, the more votes they receive. So if you really want to help and are not just TALKING EMPTY WORDS get out and get a few subscriptions for that friend.

struction of a sewer line from Harrison avenue to point near the Nantahala creamery was discussed, and definite action will be taken at a call meeting scheduled for this week. This sewer is later to be extended from the Nantahala creamery to Porter street.

John B. Henry asked for the construction of a water line on Wayah street, pointing out that no protection from fires is provided for houses in that vicinity. Construction of this line may be made this summer, members of the board indicated.

This period of the campaign is called the "Tell-Tale" period, because it begins to reveal for the first time just who the real "go-getters" among the candidates are, and it permits them to prove their true worth.

To let up—to slacken one's pace is almost certain to result in defeat as a new entrant, or a "dark horse" may get busy and show such speed as to walk away with the major prize.

In fact, it CAN be done—it MAY be done.
