The public is invited to attend a children's day program at Higdonville on Sunday, July 6, at 10:30 o'clock.

MAXWELL

Maxwell boys are more cheerful and vigorous despite the torrid temperature in the fields. They had a camping trip of two days as a reward for special effort. Howe Taylor's big bow and the possibility for skill and accuracy in archery are amusing them, too. Association of ideas reawakens their interest in Indian relics of which they have quite a collection; bits of pottery and various types of arrow heads turned up by the plow.

The traditions here are interesting. The site of the first house in Macon county is at the Crockett's back door and that of the first "shop" but a few yards away. Mrs. McGuire shared some of her plants with us and a garden of bulbs, shrubs, and perennials is being planted in front of the old log house that marks the spot of the old homestead.

Mrs. Lucas had the pleasure of a week-end in Waynesville with friends and relatives. Mrs. Rhiems of Waynesville was her hostess and Mr. and Mrs. Lucas with Miss Eleanor Lucas of Elizabethton, Tenn., were fellow guests. Mrs. Rhiems bought one of Maxwell's sugar cured hams for the occasion. We are happy to say that they were pleased with it.

Big Turnips Are Grown By Morrison Of Cowee

Californians can boast for a lifetime of their giant trees and vegetables, but J. M. Morrison of the Cowee section of Macon county wants the world to know that he will match the turnips off of his patch with anybody else's. Mr. Morrison grew two turnips on his patch this year weighing 7½ and 6¾ pounds, respectively, that he displayed in Franklin last Saturday. Turnips which he grew on a patch of less than a quarter of an acre averaged 3½ pounds each. The largest turnip measured 32 inches in diameter.

PANCROME

Pancrome is worth the price:

The only way to know, is to try it once or twice, And see if this is so.

Pancrome will never rip, Nor stain your wooden floor; Now please accept a tip If you have not before.

Pancrome is "tuff," and still, It will not even crack; No other sole its place can fill; Pancrome will save you jack.
