Crawfords Hold Annual Reunion At Black Place

The Crawford family held its annual reunion at the Black Place, Sunday, July 13. The reunion was well attended in spite of the inclement weather.

The oldest member of the family, John Crawford, was there still hale and hearty, although he has celebrated his one hundredth birthday.

Gilmer A. Crawford and family, and Charles Crawford and family of Franklin attended the reunion.

LOOKOUT BIDS LET

Bids were awarded last week by the Nantahala National forest for material with which to construct a two-story 14x14 feet observatory on Standing Indian mountain, the highest peak in Macon county. The lookout will be of the latest type, and will replace a cabin now used by forestry officials at the summit of the peak.

Camp Taukeetah Open For Season

Camp Taukeetah, one of the two girls' summer camps near Franklin, opened for the season on Tuesday, July 15. A group of camp enthusiasts from several southern states is included in this year's enrollment. Several directors of activities included in the training at Taukeetah have been secured by the owner, Miss Olive Patton.

Following the close of the regular season, Taukeetah will be occupied by a group of students from a number of the women's colleges of North Carolina, who will use the camp as a base for recreation and experimental work in college activities.
