RAINBOW SPRINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Storie were in Franklin last week end shopping.
Miss Allie Caler was in Franklin for a short visit to her friends and relatives last week end.
Mr. F. W. Tittle and his daughter Edith, were in Franklin last Saturday afternoon shopping.

Among the party who motored over to Franklin last week end shopping were; Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Paul Vaught, John Sneed and his son Glenn.

The new water tank and fountain have been built for the Rainbow Springs school by F. W. Tittle, water and light engineer of W. M. Ritter lumber company. The change was made in order to improve the water supply for the school.

The drouth in this section has been dry almost the past 2 or 3 months. Our water supply has been going low and so far as we are told that the Nantahala river is getting low.

Rev. Geo. Cloer made a business trip to Franklin last Saturday afternoon.

Prof. William Crawford went to Franklin in his old "flivver" last week end to attend to some business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stanley and children and the Bryant family have returned home last Monday evening from a few days visit to their friends and relatives at Lenior.

Mr. G. M. Caldwell, an official of the W. M. Ritter lumber company, paid us a short visit recently. While in town he made an inspection tour through our plant.

Mrs. Howard Bateman is spending two weeks vacation with her relatives at Judson.

What Is Your Boy?

He is the person who is going to carry on what you have started. Do you realize that you can't work always as you do now. Old age will come and it can't be stopped. You will totter and then fall. Your boy will have to pick up the load where you left off.

He is to sit where you are sitting, and when you are gone, attend to those things which you think are important. Do you think enough of him to educate him and give him a chance? It is no fun to try to carry dad's work, to sit where he is sitting without a trained mind. Give him a chance—give him an education.

You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they will be carried out depends on your boy, and whether they will be carried out depends on the chance you give him.

Even if you make leagues and treaties he will have to manage them. "Peace" we talk of peace, but whether we have love and peace depends on your boy—not you. Soon you will be gone and only your influence on him will count.

He is going to sit at your desk, in the Senate, or occupy your place on the supreme bench, or be a merchant, or doctor. Whether he deals justly, fairly and squarely, depends on the way you train him.

He will assume control of your cities, states and nations. How he will guide them again depends on you and on the chance you give him. Ignorance can never control our government again. Give that boy a chance—Send him to school where he will be trained to take hold the reins of our government.

He is either going to move into your church, your schools, and your universities or your prisons. Where he goes you will send him.

All the books you write—or buy for him to read are going to be judged, praised or condemned by him. Give him clean books and he will have a clean mind. Give him a clean mind and he will be a man among men.

All your work is for him, and the fate of nations and humanity is in his hands. In truth he will someday be the man that you are now, and God pity you if you are giving him a dirty deal by not being a man.

He will take up your work, your ideals — your character—your home—your church—your schools and all you have—so it might be well to pay him some attention.—Burnsville Eagle.

Mrs. H. E. Barnard, of Asheville, spent several weeks here visiting her brother, Ebb Hurst, and relatives.

Cook large prunes and cut them in halves, removing the stones. Spread these neatly on a lettuce leaf and pile on each a cream made by-beating cream cheese with cream. Lay half a pecan nut on top of the creamed cheese and serve with a French dressing to which is added a little thick ketchup and a few drops of Worcester'shire sauce.
