

$200.00 PAID FOR ONE COPPER CENT

J. D. Martin of Richmond, Va., is the proud possessor of a check for $200.00 paid him for an old copper cent. The Numismatic Company, Dept. 664, Fort Worth, Texas, who purchased this penny from Mr. Martin, says there are numerous old coins, bills and stamps in circulation for which they will gladly pay big cash premiums. So that you will know the value of old coins and stamps and what to watch for in your change, the Numismatic Company will send for only 4c to any reader of this paper who writes them, a large illustrated coin folder describing some of these wanted articles and the big profits to be made. Better write them to day for this large folder so you can post yourself and know just what to look for. Remember that Mr. Martin's knowing the value of his penny meant a difference of $199.99 to him. Without knowing its value that penny might still be in circulation, passing through the hands of thousands until some one like Mr. Martin, who knows old coins, recognized its value. It pays to be posted. Send 4c now for the illustrated coin folder. You have nothing to lose, everything to gain.

BANKERS TO HOLD GREAT CONVENTION

Cleveland, Ohio, has been designated for the 1930 annual convention of the American Bankers Association. This organization, which numbers about 20,000 banks with $65,000,000,000 in assets, is annually the nation's most important, financial event. The attendance ranges between five and ten thousand.

Cleveland is especially significant in the history of the Association's educational traditions since it was in this city, when the organization last met there in the year 1899, that the original resolution was presented looking to the formation of an educational section. This subsequently resulted in the American Institute of Banking in which are now enrolled 35,000 bank men and women engaged in the study of the technical and scientific phases of the business.

There is a new pasture fence to be found on nearly every road out of Rockingham in Richmond county, observes J. L. Dove, county agent.

MODERN EDUCATION REVERSES OLD IDEAS

Business Institutes Use the Plan of Getting People to Think Rather Than Merely to Learn.

There is one general principle at the basis of all good teaching and it is that a person learns more readily by assimilating the experiences which he himself encounters than in any other way, says Harold Stonier, National Educational Director of the American Institute of Banking. This Institute is the educational section of the American Bankers Association through which 35,000 bank men and women are receiving scientific instruction in their chosen business.

"The most advanced people in teaching today are emphasizing the importance of activity on the part of the student," he says. "In the school-room of former days we often heard such phrases as, 'Be still,' 'Learn by heart,' 'Don't do that,' 'What does the book say?' The newer education asks, 'What do you think?', 'What was your reaction to that experiment?', 'What did you discover?', 'What reasons have you for answer?'"

The New School Calls for Action
"The 'expressing' school is taking the place of the repressing and listening school. The classroom is becoming an open forum, a studio of self-expression, a place of mental growth. The modern concepts of education are personal experimentation, individual investigation, critical discussion and creative self-expression. The pupil really learns only as he is able to assimilate the new meanings of facts and principles with his previous experiences. Activities therefore constitute the pivotal force around which are grouped the new factors in education. The primary responsibility of the teacher is to furnish a constant stream of activities which will afford the stimulating urge to mental growth."

"Education is a process of experiencing, and the program of the institute is so arranged as to give the greatest opportunity to gain by such experience. Through this we develop the art of thinking. Thinking has been described as the ability to handle experience and to bring it to bear on a problem. Effective thinking arises when we are presented with the choice of conduct. Our previous experiences become helpful as we marshal them and bring them to bear upon the matter of our choice."

The students in the American Institute of Banking by reason of the fact that they continue to go on about their employment in banks while taking the banking association's study courses have an opportunity to combine learning with practical thinking and action

THANKSGIVING (By Cecil Gibson)

Thanksgiving is coming before long. The people will sing a merry song. The pumpkin is getting brown and yellow. The apples are getting round and mellow.

The turkey is strutting all around. To get his last view of the town. Out in the field the pumpkin lies. In the kitchen mother is making pies.

MAXWELL SCHOOL

Maxwell has been living an irregular and much adjusted schedule for the past few weeks but hopes to settle down soon to "normalcy." Mr. Culver is growing better. Carlton's arm is about well and Howe Taylor's football scars are less troublesome.

Shredding and other harvesting progresses somewhat haltingly on account of the depleted force and conflict with school routine. In fact we are in the midst of one of the so-called "rocky" times. But some nice things have happened too. Mrs. Rheims, Mrs. Allbright, Mrs. Rose, Jas. Rose and Mr. Rheims came over from Waynesville Sunday bringing some cooking utensils and a very delicious pound cake. These are friends from Mr. Crockett's former congregation who often show friendly, helpful interest. Friends whose deeds are kind are a great help to the "morale" friends in Franklin have been nice too. Some ladies of the Needle Work Guild designated their gifts for Maxwell. We needed these things sorely and they helped especially just at this time. We are very grateful to these ladies.

Mrs. Ford of Hayesville, Miss Ford, and the Rev. Oplinger with Mrs. Oplinger and children from Cleveland, N. C., were interested visitors and bought some of our home-made apple butter. We have made eighty-two gallons of this healthful sweet and will sell some of it to help pay some of our bills. This was the only sweet allowed in the diet of the "Praying Colonels" famous football squad of Centre College, Ky., whose achievements in stamina have never been surpassed in the history of the game.

Mrs. P. L. Davis and little daughter Mary, of Florida have been visiting Robert, Carlton and "P. L." for the past week. Mrs. Davis left Sunday to visit her daughter at Swannanoa.

HELPING YOUNG FOLK TO BECOME BANKERS

Through the American Institute of Banking, which is the American Bankers Association's educational section, the banking profession is educating 35,000 bank men and women in the technical and scientific departments of their work. These students are enabled by this institute, which is entirely non-commercial in its operations, to obtain a grasp of the finer points of banking without interrupting their employment or interfering with their earnings, in their bank jobs.

The courses given, including banking economics and law and bank administration in all the departments, have been worked out under the direction of senior college educators and the lectures are always given by practical men, such as lawyers in the legal courses, experts in banking operations and college professors in the economics courses. There are chapters with meeting rooms in over 200 cities and also a number of smaller study groups are fostered with correspondence aid.

It has been said that the A. I. B. as it is familiarly known throughout the banking field, is the greatest adult educational organization in the world and is supplying the banking business with the largest supply of trained workers each year that any comparable line of business is receiving. The organization holds an annual convention attended by hundreds of young bank workers as well as senior bank officers actively interested in furthering the institute's educational work, at which numerous technical subjects of practical banking application are presented and discussed. This year's convention will be held at Denver, Colorado, June 16 to 20.

Sweepstakes for the best female in the State Fair Poultry Show went to a Dark Cornish hen owned by Olan Barnes of Guilford Road, Greensboro.

Fifty-two Jersey cattle from Caldwell county were exhibited at three fairs this fall and took more than the usual number of ribbons.
