

A HOMEBODY

The wife and mother is a big part of the picture of life in the home. She is about morning, noon and night, when the family are at home, and is an inseparable feature of their memories of home life. How will they think of you when they look back upon other years?

Were you a sweet, kindly, interested person, with a funny bone as well as back bone? Were you too absorbed in your cooking or business to give them much attention? Did you seem to them cold or were you a comfy fire at which they warmed their hearts? More than you think, you made the atmosphere of that home. What sort of an atmosphere did you make, warm or chilly, anxious or serene, loving or hateful, sweet and confident or nervous and sour? The type of atmosphere you are diffusing in that home makes not only for temporary comfort, while your dear ones are in the home, but it is being woven into the background of their characters and largely determine the kind of atmosphere they will carry on into their own homes and into life. It's a dreadful—but a sweet—responsibility to be a hombody and determine the tenor of a home.

BUYING CLOTHING

When purchasing new clothing, consider your costume as a whole and select only such things as will go well with the rest. Think of quality of material. Will it wear well; will it dry clean without going to pieces; will it require frequent cleaning; will it fade easily; will it shrink in being cleaned?

Think of the lines: Are they becoming to you; are they such as will remain in style for some time, or are they so extreme as to soon become passe. One can perhaps afford to buy inexpensive things for the season, only; but then, she should wear them on every possible occasion and get the good of them while they are in style.

Consider accessories. They do much to brighten a costume. One might well have several collars, cuffs, ties and belts for one dress; one set daintily, one more severe and business like, one dark, and one bright and gay.

SALADS

Many delicious salads are made with gelatin as a base. Fruits or vegetables are added when the dissolved gelatin is beginning to thicken. When molded, these salads are sliced and served on a lettuce leaf, with or without salad dressing.

For tomato salad, heat two cups of canned tomato and one tablespoon of vinegar and add to the gelatin. Season with salt and pepper and when it begins to thicken add a diced cucumber or pickles.

Ground carrots and raisins; carrots and pineapple; pineapple, pimentoes and pickles; red peppers, cabbage and celery are some pleasing combinations of filler. The juice from a can of fruit is added to the liquid which dissolves the gelatin, and the chopped, solid portions are added later. A tablespoon of vinegar or lemon juice or a little sugar often add to the flavor.

LIVER HEALTH

This largest organ in our bodies, which accounts for much biliousness and ill health, may be kept in good working order, if from youth up, one observes the following rules.

1. Avoid alcoholic beverages.
2. Avoid condiments, as mustard, horseradish, pepper, cloves, cinnamon and bottled sauces.
3. Eat no heavy meals.
4. Eat a light evening meal or none at all.
5. Avoid fats, greases and meat.
6. Take enough exercise.
7. Maintain sufficient intestinal activity.
8. If bilious, skip a few meals or play some outdoor game, but do not take laxatives.
9. Drink plenty of water.

LAMPS

Lamp shades vary in material from georgette to metal, with mica in the lead, and parchment, chintz, cretonne and silk holding their own. Lamp bases are of wrought iron, or glass to resemble the old fashioned kerosene lamp, or jar or vase effects, or of figurines. A novelty lamp takes the form of a statue, a flower, a swan, or what-not, with the inside bulb shining through dimly and giving a beautiful, subdued light.

Thanksgiving To Be Observed At Higdonville

There will be a Thanksgiving service at the Higdonville school house Thanksgiving afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The first part of the program will be given by the school and Sunday School children. We hope to be able to have some one deliver a Thanksgiving address following the program. Every one is urged to come.

The Woman's Missionary Society of this place is in charge of the service, and an offering for the Baptist orphanage at Thomasville will be taken. Each year we are asked to give one day's earnings to this great cause. They are depending to a great extent on this offering at Thanksgiving, so let's not fail them. Every one come to this service and if you have something or this cause whether it be little or much, please bring it with you.

AQUONE

The people of this section seem to be satisfied with the results of the election held last week and we hope that those elected will discharge the duties which our constitution and statutes enjoins upon them. And we are sure he, him or her, is a Democrat or Republican we will have a good government.

We are pleased with the work Mr. C. W. Teague has had done on the Nantahala bridge and road which was badly needed, and now seems to be safe, and bids fair to last quite awhile.

The farmers are making good use of the pretty weather in gathering in these crops and making preparation for the winter which is just around the corner. Quite a number of our population Mr. W. D. Simpson, of Route 4, A. W. Ray, Jack Sutton, Jason Pruett, Bulan Pruett, Buran Pruett, Joe Johnson, and Troy Potts are all engaged on a tunnel job for the city at Louisville, Ky. Mr. Simpson has recently removed his family to Louisville.
