JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

"Gee, if I ain't th' Luckiest Bird in th' World. No School for Six Weeks!"

New Historical Magazine For N. C. To Be Published

FOREST CITY, N. C., Oct. 7.—The initial issue of The North Carolina Historical and Genealogical Record will be mailed to subscribers soon. This is a quarterly magazine, published at Forest City, and is devoted to the recording and dissemination of North Carolina history and genealogy, and more particularly to local history.

The new magazine will feature local history articles, unpublished letters and manuscripts and genealogical material pertaining to North Carolina. Every section of the State will be represented in each issue, thereby making it a magazine for the entire state, rather than one of local interest.

Contributors to the initial issue include Col. Fred A. Olds, Miss Gertrude Caraway, Louis T.

Moore, Mrs. Maude Minish Sutton and a number of other well known writers of historical subjects. Genealogical sketches appearing in the first issue include those of the Wiseman family, the Hutchins and others. In all, a total of nine articles appear in the October issue, covering a wide range of subjects, periods and sections of the state.

The magazine is published by Clarence Griffin, county historian of Rutherford county, and news editor of the Forest City Courier, of Forest City. Mr. Griffin has long been active in historical and genealogical work, and is recognized as one of the outstanding historians of North Carolina. He was vice president of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Society in 1929.

Dr. Edgar Angel, of Philadelphia, Pa., is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Angel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Smith announce the arrival of a nine-pound boy, on Oct. 6, named James Rae Smith. Both mother and baby are getting along nicely.

PARK NEEDS 130,000 ACRES

Arrangement Now Under Way To Complete Tract For Playground

ASHEVILLE, Oct. 7.—With only 130,000 acres yet to be acquired by the National Park Commissions of North Carolina and Tennessee, the purchase of lands for the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, nearly completion. The park will comprise 466,577 acres, lying on both sides of the boundary of the two states. When the minimum area of 427,000 acres required by act of congress is secured, actual development of the area will be undertaken by the federal government, according to J. R. Eakin, superintendent of the park.

The 130,000 acres yet to be secured comprise, in the main part, large tracts owned by lumber companies, and will be purchased as soon as price agreements are concluded. When purchases are concluded and the land deeded to the United States, 228,644 acres of the national park will lie within the boundaries of North Carolina and 237,933 acres will be in Tennessee.

Approximately $10,000,000 will be expended for all the lands within the park boundaries. Of this amount $4,000,000 represents appropriations and gifts of land by the two states, $1,000,000 represents private subscriptions raised in the two states and the remainder, $5,000,000, was a gift from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller foundation.

Development of roads into the park area, now being pushed by the state highway commissions of North Carolina and Tennessee, has already opened portions of the park to the view of the motorist and within the next six months roads will be completed which will provide arteries of motor traffic entirely across the park. Trails to the high summits of the Smokies are already gaining popularity as hiking routes for hardy outdoorsmen.

The national park contains the last extensive stands of virgin timber in eastern America. Along the summits of the high ranges are expansive forests of spruce and balsam and in the valleys and gorges are hardwood stands kept virgin because of their inaccessibility. The national park service now patrols the park to prevent fires and to regulate fishing and camping.

thing that they could get. They sold one book to a lady for a handful of pepper, to another lady one book for one hen egg. Some price was it? Another was sold a book for a peck of rotten walnuts. Just anything to place the book in a home; they were willing to take anything that they could get for a book. They just left one home a book for nothing, another for a chicken and canned goods from the home. Another lady got four for a small load of stovewood.

"After the fire was over we went into the church. God opened the windows of heaven and poured out a great blessing on all that were present. From that service on through the meeting we had a great time for the Lord. The church was greatly revived and a number of the lost were brought in because we were willing to clean up things for God.

"We, as a church, praise God for a man like our pastor, who will stand for God and preach the Gospel of Christ in its purity and is not afraid to condemn sin.

"We feel that God has wonderfully blessed us by sending Brother M. N. Long and his good wife from Darlington, Wash., into our midst to help fight the battle for Christ. We feel as a church that their influence has been a great blessing to this people. This was their old home. It was at this old church that they found Christ 57 years ago. The present church is about where the old church stood. Brother and Sister Long are powerful in God's hands to carry on the great work of Christ. Brother Long's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McCoy, from Miami, Fla., were present with us in the meeting. We enjoyed having them with us very much. Brother McCoy is a prominent lawyer in the state of Florida.

The meeting lasted 14 days. There were 58 professions. Part of these were reclaimed. One man 85 years of age and another 65 years of age were reclaimed. We feel that there has been a great and lasting good accomplished. We had 20 additions to the church, 14 by baptism and 6 by letter. We pray God's blessings on all the churches like God has blessed us. (Signed) J. H. Shook, Supt. Sunday School

Did You Ever Stop TO THINK—

(BY EDSON R. WAITE)

THAT the advertisements inform you of what is new on the markets.

Advertisers know that business policy demands the absolute truth about their merchandise, its quality and price and that it must be as advertised or you won't come back for more.

Advertised merchandise will look as good to you when you get it home as it did at the store.

Shopping right is very important, as it means the saving of money.

ADVERTISING INTRODUCES YOU TO NEW GOODS AND SERVICE. IT ALWAYS PAYS TO SHOP AT THE STORES THAT ADVERTISE.

PEOPLE WHO ARE HUNTING BARGAINS FIND THEM BY READING THE ADVERTISEMENTS.

NOWADAYS PEOPLE KNOW THAT IT PAYS TO BUY WHAT THEY READ ABOUT INSTEAD OF BUYING THINGS THEY NEVER HEARD OF.
