

Miss M. Stribling Weds M. Ellard

A marriage of interest to friends throughout North Carolina and Georgia was that of Miss Myra Ida Stribling to Mr. Lamar Mitchell Ellard, which was quietly solemnized last Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stribling. The Rev. J. A. Flanagan, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a small assemblage of relatives and intimate friends.

Mrs. J. A. Flanagan presided at the piano, playing the wedding march from "Lohengren." Two ushers, Mr. Alex Stewart and Mr. Harry A. Holt, brother-in-law of the bride, preceded the bride, and her only attendant, Miss Margaret Cunningham, followed by the groom and Mr. B. L. Sherrill acting as best man. As they entered the parlor a circle was formed in front of the antique fireplace where the vows were spoken.

The bride of petite brunette charm wore a becoming gown of soft green satin that was fashioned with a V-neck and featured a swathed hip-line with a flared skirt. Mrs. Ellard is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stribling and is a very popular and admired member of the younger set. She received her education at Edgewood school in Atlanta and Franklin high school. She is a sister of Mrs. Harry A. Holt, of Franklin. Her mother was Miss Mamie Leroy of Roswell, Ga. Mrs. Ellard is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Leroy of Roswell. On her maternal side, she is a niece of Mrs. F. O. Cobb, Mr. H. J. Leroy and Mr. L. G. Leroy. On her paternal side she is a direct descendant of Thomas Stribling, who, having come to America in 1710, settled in Stafford county, Virginia, and is related to the Taliaferro and Kinney families in Virginia. Her father comes from the prominent Stribling family of South Carolina. She is a granddaughter of the late S. Y. Stribling, Sr., who was president of the Roswell and Habersham cotton mills, and Mrs. S. Y. Stribling, Sr., of Roswell. She is a niece of Mr. Carl Stribling, who is president of the Habersham dent, presiding. After the business discussions a miscellaneous program was rendered, at the close of which an ice course was served by the hostess.

The next meeting of the club will be held on the second Tuesday in December at the home of Mrs. J. E. Perry.

Kinsland-Cagle

A wedding of much interest to friends in Macon county was that of Miss Bonnie Kinsland to Mr. Marion Cagle, of Asheville, which took place in Greenville, S. C., Nov. 14, with only a few friends present.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kinsland, of Watauga. Her bride's dress was a lovely blue crepe with accessories to match.

Mr. Cable holds a very responsible position at Enka and his home is in Asheville.

Immediately after the ceremony they left for their honeymoon. They will be at home to their friends at the Pleasant Hill boarding house after November 20.

Santa Claus' Mail Box

(EDITOR'S NOTE:—As he is unusually busy at this season getting his Christmas pack ready for his long ride on Christmas Eve, Santa Claus is unable to answer all the letters he has received from his young friends. So he has requested The Franklin Press to acknowledge for him letters from boys and girls in Franklin and Macon County. It seems, according to the batch he has already received, that the youngsters are unusually early this year in writing him what they want to find in their Christmas stockings. Following are the letters Santa already has opened and read:—)

Dear Santa Claus:
I hope you remember me from last year. I am in the fourth grade and ten years old.

I would like to have for Christmas; a big doll that will sleep and say "Ma, Ma," a pair of gloves and overshoes, some oranges, candy, bananas and nuts.

Don't forget other little boys and girls.

Your friend,
Hazel Brown.
