ROOSEVELT OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN WITH FIRST SPEECH SATURDAY NITE

President Roosevelt assailed Saturday night for what he termed their "callous and brazen" falsehoods on domestic issues and asserted the nation must not let the Republicans "botch" the peace this time as he said they did 25 years ago.

In a fighting speech that reminded many of his hearers of the Roosevelt of earlier campaigns, he drew on ridicule, sarcasm, and mockery to mock his opponents for what he said was their attempt to imitate the present administration.

Crowd Applauds

Approximately 1,000 persons including 845 union delegates, crowded the ballroom of the Statler hotel and applauded time and again as the chief executive singled out speeches of his opponent and assailed and ridiculed them.

Without mentioning Gov. Thomas E. Dewey by name, the president declared that:

1. Republicans have practiced the most "obvious common or garden variety of fraud," by trying to persuade the people to believe the Democrats brought on the depression and that COP is responsible, "for all social progress under the new deal."

Calls For Intelligent Peace 2. The war must be finished speedily and the peace ahead must be completed with the "same will and intelligence and devotion which have medal and congratulated him for his already led us so far on the road to victory."

4. The opposition tried to make him out an old man, to which he replied ne was too old for one thing-"I cannot talk out of both sides of my mouth at the same time."

Among the other "malicious falsehoods", he accused the opposition of spreading was one which he described as "that old, worm-eaten chestnut that I have represented myself as indispensable."

The forest planting to stop erosion and reclaim idle acres; the cleaning of cull trees from natural forests, followed by underplanting with white pine, thinning of crowded stands of young pine, the harvest of over mature hardwoods, and the pruning of pines to produce higher quality timber are object lessons which can be followed by thousands of farmers.

Dr. C. F. Korstian presented "Tim-Described by him as the opening ber Farms" certificates for meritorious service, to the Log Cabin Association, the Camp Mfg. Co., of Frankawarded the certificate is in N. C., and Mr. Ben H. Nicholson, Jackson County Farmer.
