STATE COLLEGE HINTS TO FARM HOMEMAKERS

By RUTH CURRENT
N. C. STATE COLLEGE

Chill off for better work. A little warmth will speed up many a household job ordinarily done cold, say home economics specialists. Egg whites whip better if they are at room temperature. The various ingredients in cake—butter, sugar, milk, eggs—blend better if they are the temperature of the kitchen, therefore, should be taken out of the refrigerator an hour or so before mixing to take off the chill. Dried fruits and dry beans "soak up" faster in hot water. Hot water is better for rinsing rice, both before and after cooking. It carries off loose starch and separates the grains of cooked rice better, besides keeping the rice hot. In making mashed potatoes use hot milk because it softens lumps, adds to lightness, and keeps the potatoes hot.

In sprinkling clothes for ironing, warm water penetrates and spreads through fabrics faster than cold water. Placing the sprinkled and rolled-up clothes near a warm stove or radiator (not hot) for a short time also helps get the ironing ready in a hurry. Before rubbing oil into shoes to preserve the leather, have the oil slightly warm and the shoes at room temperature. The leather will absorb the oil faster. Set a bottle of furniture polish in warm water a few minutes before using. Warm polish penetrates the pores of the wood faster. Wax goes on floors and other surfaces more easily and smoothly if it is not too cold.

For watering house plants, plant scientists advise tepid water instead of cold. Cold water may shock the plant, damage the roots and retard the growth. In greenhouses watering is done with slightly warm water for this reason.

Washing machines, electric mixers, or other household motors kept in a cold place should be brought into a warm room a few hours before using. Otherwise the oil or grease may be too stiff to lubricate properly.

A relatively large amount of milk can be consumed here in the rapidly expanding industrial South after the war, if there are fair prices to producer, distributor, and consumer, says A. C. Kimrey.

Hogs have been bred with a definite resistance to infectious abortion by experimental workers in California.

SO YOU THINK IT'S COLD HERE

IF YOU THINK you've had reason to complain of the cold, take a look at Pvt. Charles Preston, Nicholasville, Ky., as he cleans the snow from his machine gun mounted on his jeep somewhere in Belgium. That metal gets so cold you can't touch it with your hand without serious consequences. This is an official Signal Corps Radioteletype. (International)
