'It' Was Worth $20,000 In Prizes

BY CORRECTLY IDENTIFYING the voice of Clara Bow, one-time "It-girl," when it came over the airwaves during a radio program contest, Mrs. William H. McCormick, Lock Haven, Pa., with her sister and a neighbor, won $20,000 in assorted prizes. Excitedly dropping the phone on receipt of the news, Mrs. McCormick now wo 'ers how she will split with her eo-winners such items as a plane and an automobile. (International)

The Mass Production Way

Henry Ford II, whose grandfather practiced so well the mechanics of A recent survey of 13 per cent of good economy and who dealt fairly price reduction on cars. Mr. Ford actually gave the equivalent of a wage boost to all Americans who buy Fords, and if other car manufacturers follow, it will mean a boost to all who buy automobiles. And as mass production of automobiles comes to peak, still lower prices will surely follow.

While labor leaders thought this a step in the right direction, some of them quickly stated that "price cutting" would have no effect upon their plans for wage drives. Neither industry nor labor look forward to extensive price cutting, particularly without greater production, nor should either expect to gain from continued wage drives-without better production. The key to the wage-price balance is: more output.

Bigger Pie One manufacturer has advertised this balance thus: "If we want a bigger cut out of the income pie either as management or labor, the best way for all concerned is to bake a bigger pie." He continued, "You n't cut bigger pieces out of a smaller pie. You can't continue to raise wages, anywhere, out of shrinking production." That is right.

In an industrial democracy like ours, we have a high standard of living largely because our production of goods has been brought into line with the lowest possible consumer prices. Volume production, every time, means greater value to the consumer at lower prices. It also means more to those who invested the capital that bought the tools. And it means more to labor that builds the product.

Keep a Balance These thoughts may explain why not all of labor has been willing to get behind the banner that "industry can afford a 25% general wage ncrease without raising prices. The American Federation of Labor has reported its findings that in 1946 an 181/2c wage increase brought increases in living costs of equal amount. The balance of wages and prices is just that close in our economic structure.

Now is the time for each Amer-
