NAVY NEEDS 200 VOLUNTEER NURSES

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 7—The Navy has an immediate and urgent need for two hundred volunteers for the Navy Nurse Corps to reenter service for not less than one year's service.

Volunteers who returned to active duty will return in the rank held at time of release to inactive duty unless there has been a general reduction in rank among those who have remained on active duty. Pay allowances will be the same as during the war although there will be no additional uniform allowance for those recalled.

Reserve nurses accepted for this duty will be ordered to a Naval Hospital, nearest the address to which orders are sent, for a physical examination. If found physically qualified, they will further report for duty.

For further information or application blanks former nurses are urged to write the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Nurse Corps Office, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.

Pope Field Has Air Show As Part Of Army Day Observance

POPE FIELD, N. C., April 7—Glider pick-ups, parachuting supplies and equipment, a "rescue" by air and an exhibition of plain and fancy helicopter flying were on the aerial bill of fare at Pope Field as the Army air base participated in the Army Day celebrations Monday, April 7.

Approximately 1500 persons witnessed the demonstrations at Pope Field, which were part of the Fort Bragg celebration of Army Day.

Demonstrating air rescue techniques, an L-5 ambulance plane and a helicopter of Air Rescue Squadron "A", combined to "rescue" an "injured" pilot from a salvaged light plane mocked up to simulate a real crash. Flying low over the scene of the crash, the ambulance plane dropped medical supplies, after which it landed to take aboard the injured man. A helicopter thereupon landed near the wreck and took off the plane's other occupant.

One of the highlights of the show was the demonstration of the helicopter's flying versatility. The plane flew straight up, forward, backward, to the right and to the left and hovered a few feet over the ground.

To simulate an airborne attack, a C-82 Flying Boxcar flew low over the crowd and parachuted supplies and dummies in colored parachutes.

Climax of the show was the snatching of a parked glider into the air by a C-47 transport plane. The glider was cut loose from the tow ship in the air and glided to a landing by itself.

Every type of plane in use at Pope Field was open for inspection.

N. C. CROPS TO BE LARGER THIS YEAR

Raleigh.—The acreage of North Carolina crops this year will be approximately three per cent greater than for 1946—and will be near the level of the peak war years from 1942 to 1944, according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

This increase, for the most part, is attributed to the substantial increases in the acreage of small grains for 1947 harvest, together with moderate increases planned for sweet potatoes and tobacco.

All other crops are expected to maintain the level established in 1946 or show reductions from a year ago, the most notable decline of crop acreages being that for early Irish potatoes.

Weather conditions during February were in marked contrast to the unusually warm weather experienced in December and January. The unseasonably cold weather, accompanied by deficient supplies of moisture in the southeastern section of the State, stopped the growth of fall grain and other vegetation. However, except for a rather heavy reduction in the strawberry crop, there is no indication that the cold snap will have any appreciable influence on prospective plantings and crop production for the coming season.

Some early tobacco plants were killed, particularly in coastal counties and re-sowing has been necessary. The February cold snap was quite favorable for fruit, materially reducing the possible damage from late freezes.

Land preparation was slowed down considerably during February, but with a favorable March, there should be no abnormal delay in spring planting operations. Farm labor, while more plentiful than for several years, is still an acute problem, due to high wages and the reluctance of laborers to the farms.

Mrs. W. A. Ashbrook Entertains Club

On Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock Mrs. W. A. Ashbrook was hostess to the members of her bridge club and a few friends. The Easter motif was carried out in the decorations.

Four tables were made up for play. At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. Joe Lance held high score and Mrs. Keith Hinds had made second high. Both were given lovely prizes.

Mrs. Ashbrook served home made angel food cake and icecream with fresh strawberries.

Club members playing were Mrs. H. P. Smith, Mrs. Ralph Sutton, Mrs. N. H. Garley, Mrs. C. F. Dodson, Mrs. J. W. McDevitt, Mrs. A. K. Hinds, Mrs. Tyson Cathey, Mrs. Newton Turner, Mrs. Tom Young, Mrs. Charlotte Watson, Mrs. Steadman Mitchell and Mrs. Marion McDonald.

Other guests were Mrs. Lloyd Engman, Mrs. Jack Smathers, Mrs. Joe Lance and Mrs. Frank Brown, Jr.

presided. The devotional was given by Mrs. W. H. Crawford.

Mrs. Mary R. Cowan had the program. She spoke on "100 Years of Methodism in China" and read letters from a personal Chinese friend of hers. Both were interesting and inspiring to the members.

Mrs. W. L. Jones had charge of the social hour and had a question and answer program on North Carolina.

Mrs. Fricks served a sweet course.
