Annual Forestry Camp To Be Held At Elizabethtown

The annual forestry camp for farm boys, operated by the North Carolina Division of Forestry and Parks in cooperation with the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, will be held at Singletary Lake in the Bladen Lakes State Forest near Elizabethtown from August 25 through August 31, according to Assistant Forester F. H. Claridge of the Division of Forestry and Parks.

The purpose of the camp is to acquaint farm boys with good methods of forest protection and management and to give instruction in the use of fire-fighting equipment, timber estimating, timber harvest, selective cutting, timber stand improvement and reforestation. However, Mr. Claridge stressed that camp life will not be all work and no play. The boys will have plenty of time for swimming, sports and other recreation.

The 1947 forestry camp will be limited to 50 boys, including 25 4-H boys, and 25 Future Farmers of America boys. The campers will be chosen by county committees and an extension camp committee who will nominate outstanding boys who meet the requirements for attending the camp. There will be no charge to the boys other than furnishing transportation to and from the camp.

The sponsors of the camp are the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association, the Champion Paper and Fibre company of Canton, the North Carolina Pulp company of Plymouth, and the Riegler Paper Corporation of Bolton. These sponsors are providing funds to cover the cost of camp operation, meals and lodging.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

A Sound Thinker

As I sat a few days ago in the spacious office of Mr. John Snyder, secretary of the Treasury, and listened to that keen thinking gentleman outline his views on certain monetary policies, I found myself wishing that all public thinking were as clear, and as cognizant of good economic horse-sense.

In the first place the Secretary believes that a thorough study of the necessary costs of government should be made. He believes then that this cost should be reduced to the very minimum consistent with good government. In the second place he believes that a high national income is possible only if a sound economy is maintained. This sound economy must be based upon maximum production at high efficiency, which he feels would make possible a large foreign trade.

On Your Feet, Sam! In the third place he believes we should seriously undertake liberal payments on the national debt. This should be done at once. To me that is just plain, common horse-sense. It is just the way a wage earner, farmer, merchant, or manufacturer, heavily in debt, with a large family, but still in good health, would have to plan if he expected ever to get on his feet and leave any heritage to his children.

Uncle Sam is heavily in debt, his children have adopted spendthrift habits, have lost the art of hard work, are quarreling with one another, and are growing more and more inclined to leave the worrying to the old man. The need of the hour is sound counsel from Washington for the entire nation to realize its critical condition, and to act accordingly.

A Sound Program Secretary Snyder's program needs to be understood, for it is one in which the whole nation can participate. His three point program (in my own words) would be about as follows:

1. Stop the fantastic waste in almost every department of government. Pare costs rigorously, forgetting political expediency.
2. Let industry reduce prices until the profits stand at a very low level. Let labor aim for maximum production, in order to get a real raise through lower prices. Such production will permit active foreign markets, a thing not only necessary for us but for other nations as well.
3. Let taxes remain on a broad base, with only those cuts being made which are necessary to induce investment in the tools of production, while we all do our part to reduce the very heavy national debt.

Steady Employment Personally, I would modify item three. It is my opinion that if reductions in the budget were serious and studiously undertaken, all three points Secretary Snyder features could be achieved, and we could still obtain at the same time a real reduction in income taxes.

Comparatively high taxes we must have. The costs of national living, in times of peace but amidst quarrelsome and aggressive neighbors, may continue to run high. But there are certain reductions that by all means should be made in order to encourage more venture capital. We shall continue to need wide investment of private capital in tools. That will mean more jobs and more steady employment.

Cooks Return To County From Washington State

Mr. Eula Cook and family returned about seven weeks ago from Concrete, Wash. and will again make their home in Jackson county. They had been in Washington for 15 years where Mr. Cook had been engaged in the logging business. He is now living at Speedwell and is enjoying renewing old acquaintances and takes an especial interest in the singing conventions held in various parts of the county.

CHERRY NAMES NEW WILDLIFE BOARD

Governor Cherry named a nine-member wildlife resources commission in Raleigh last Wednesday to be sworn in on June 18. The new commission was set-up under legislative action at the last session of the general assembly, after thousands of sportsmen of the state had worked for a separation of the game and fish division from the department of conservation and development.

After making the appointments Cherry said that the commission, upon being sworn in, will probably organize and make its selection of a director and a chairman of the board.

The post of director is a full-time position which carries a salary to be determined by the governor and the council of state. The chairman, like other members of the commission, will be paid on a per diem basis.

The members by district are: 1st district, Joseph R. Winslow, of Robersonville; 2nd district, Thomas J. White, of Kinston; 3rd district, S. B. Coley, of Raleigh; 4th district, Harry A. Greene, of Raeford; 5th district, Frank T. Erwin, of Durham; 6th district, D. K. Sing, of Charlotte; 7th district, R. Floyd Crouse, of Sparta; 8th district, George W. Keesee, of Gastonia; 9th district, Dan M. Furr, of Asheville.

RETONGA WAS WORTH $1,000 SAYS MR. BALL

Regained Fifteen Pounds Of Needed Weight, Can Eat Anything, And Feels Fine Now, He States

"I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for what Retonga did for me," gratefully declares Mr. Edward F. Ball, well-known resident of 817 South 17th St., Knoxville, Tenn. "I have regained 15 pounds of needed weight and I feel better than in several years. "Nervous indigestion gave me so much trouble I was afraid to eat, anyway; and I confined myself to the lightest kind of diet. Gas seemed to turn my stomach into a hard knot and press up against my chest until I couldn't get a deep breath. Constipation was so stubborn I had to change laxatives all the time to get any results. I lost 25 pounds and felt so all-in I hardly see how I kept going. "Retonga relieved all this distress so remarkably that within ten days I was eating heartily at every meal without distress. I have regained 15 pounds, don't have to take harsh purgatives, and I feel better and stronger in every way than in several years. I wish I could tell everyone about Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Sylva Pharmacy.—Adv.
