

Weekly SERMONET

WHICH... FIRST?

By REV. C. M. WARREN.

Bob, a young, strapping man serving in the police force of the city of Spartanburg, S. C., was stricken with a sickness some time ago. He wanted to talk with me. I went to see him last week. With you, I desire to share this wonderful experience.

I have been praying four years that Bob would become a Christian. God has answered my prayers. Bob is a Christian now. He was very glad to see me as I entered his room in the hospital. That long arm with his big hand came forth to clasp my hand. That hand shake told me that Bob was indeed glad to see me. He told me all about himself and how he had been thrown with his illness. My heart went out to him in love and sympathy.

Some of the things that Bob said to me: "Mr. Warren, God had to do something with me. I have put my work (my business) first in my life. I have left God out. I just about left the church completely out, attended only occasionally. I worked night and day in order to make more money. I exerted my strength many times, working over-time, when I should have been resting. Here I am, God had to do something with me," said Bob. I listened to Bob with all the love of my soul. I said to him, "Bob, I have come for one purpose. I want to know if everything is all right with your soul and God." Bob looked at me and smiled, and said, "Mr. Warren, I was going to tell you all about it. I knew that you wanted to know." Said he, "Whether I live or die, everything is right with God." How my very soul rejoiced! Bob told me what had taken place in his heart and that he had quit drinking sometime ago. He told me that he would be a different man the rest of his life. He would live for God.

Where are you putting God in your life? Just giving Him a little recognition now and then, and not much at any time! Are you so busy doing your work, and carrying on your business that you do not have time for God, and the spiritual things for your soul? How often do you meet God at the Church? When have you attended a prayer meeting? What keeps you busy on Sunday, the Sabbath Day? Do you desire pleasure, work, business, more than you desire God for your soul? Where are you putting God in your life? Are you letting God have any place in your life? Do you realize that God will do something with you? You may force Him to reject you. So many hearts do not have any time for spiritual things. Bob did not have time for God and the church, and now Bob has to pay for it. He is a changed man, but he had to be thrown first. Will God permit you to go on without giving Him first place in your heart. My friends, if you do, you had better stop spending your Sundays in places of pleasure, and find yourself in the Church with God on the Sabbath Day. You may live your life as you choose, but do not forget that you will have to give an account to God. How is it with your soul? What will have to come upon you before you will let God have first place in your life? YOU CANNOT GET BY... GOD IS WATCHING YOU.

I beseech you, my friends, "Seek FIRST the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and the other good things of life will be given to you." The time is coming when every heart must stand before God. God will not accept any excuse at all. Let Him have first place. Serve Him while you have your good health and strength. People's hearts want love and God will supply that love through your heart if you let Him. The world or God... WHICH... FIRST?

STATE COLLEGE ANSWERS TIMELY FARM QUESTIONS

QUESTION: What can I do with land that has become too rancid to use in cooking?

ANSWER: D. E. Brady, professor of Animal Husbandry at State College, suggests that it be used with some good tallow in making soap for home use.

To prevent land from reaching this stage, the specialist suggests that if the land is to be kept for long periods, it should be stored in a freezer locker plant where it can be held in a good container in very good shape for a year at 35 to 38 degrees, and can be kept two or three years at zero degrees.

QUESTION: When is the best time for seeding a lawn?

ANSWER: The time of seeding the grass will depend on the kind of grass being used, and the kind of grass recommended will vary with different parts of the state and with the different environmental conditions within the same sections of the state, according to John H. Harris, Horticultural Extension specialist at State College.

For further information on this subject, Mr. Harris suggests that you write to the Agricultural Editor at State College and request a copy of Extension Circular No. 292.

QUESTION: How can I prevent breast blisters on chickens?

ANSWER: These usually develop in chickens over 10 weeks of age, especially those raised in batteries, according to Prof. Roy S. Dearstyne, head of the Poultry department at State College.

The condition is due to the skin over the front of the keel becoming calloused and a watery fluid collecting under the area. Providing more head room in batteries tends to reduce the occurrence of breast blisters and in birds not in batteries, providing roosts and teaching them to roost early helps to keep breast blisters down, he said.
