States Old Time Resident

"I had about lost faith in all medicines but Retonga soon brought me real relief," declares Mr. C. M. Whiteside, well-known contracting carpenter, at 12 Laurel Ave., Asheville, N. C., and a respected resident at the City for 40 years.

"I always enjoyed extra good health until about a year ago," continued Mr. Whiteside. "Then I began having trouble with my food disagreeing with me. Soon I seemed to have no stomach all the time. My appetite left me. I slept so poorly that I never felt rested, and I had to resort to various kinds of laxatives. I felt so weakened and run-down that I realized I could not keep up unless I could get relief."

"Retonga is the first medicine I found that gave me the relief I needed. I now have the appetite of a wood-chopper and all that distress from indigestion is relieved. I rest well every night the sluggish elimination is relieved, and I feel like a different person. I never before used a medicine as good as Retonga."

Jackson And Haywood Fox Hunters To Have Bench Show Aug. 23

The Haywood and Jackson county fox hunters' association will have its annual bench show on Saturday, August 23, at the East Elementary school in Waynesville. Floyd Cook, secretary and treasurer of the association, has announced. The show will begin at 10 a. m.

This show was formerly sponsored by the Haywood county fox hunters' association, but has been changed to the Haywood and Jackson county fox hunters' association due to the increased membership of Jackson county for hunters.

Last year's show was judged by Mr. T. Ross Alexandria of Statesville, when a total of one hundred and forty hounds entered. Hounds were entered from several states and all the counties of Western of Western North Carolina. Mr. Carl Stikeleather of Charlotte won the best in show with Vermont Sue K. and Mr. L. T. Wilkinson of Concord won the best opposite sex with Midnite Shagg. The best bound in Haywood county was won by Mr. Devoe McElroy of Waynesville.

A special barbecue for all fox hunters will follow the show which will begin at 10 a. m. A much larger number of fox hunters and hounds are expected to attend than were present last year. For the judge of this show the association has appointed Mr. O. L. Childress of Knoxville, Tenn., a well known fox hunter well qualified to judge the show.

Mr. J. W. Killian, Waynesville, is president, Mr. J. L. Stringfield, also of Waynesville, is the vice-president, and Mr. James Medford, also of Waynesville, is assistant to Mr. Cook, secretary and treasurer, of Canton.

There will be ten classes shown with ten hounds placed in each class, Mr. Cook said.
