STATE COLLEGE HINTS TO FARM HOMEMAKER

By VERNA STANTON Assistant State Agent Word from the nutrition scientists says that bacon broiled on a rack about four inches below the flame retained two-thirds of its original thiamine while that cooked in a frying pan less than half.

Washing rice wastes not only time but also nutritive value. Mushrooms, once thought to add only flavor and variety to the meal, have been found to contain perceptible amounts of B vitamins plus iron, copper and all of the essential amino acids.

Nutrition scientists also say meat is one of the most important natural sources of the B vitamins. I' contains all of them - from the oldest, thiamine, to the newest B vitamin, folic acid. It supplies generous amounts of the three vitamins for which recommended allowances have been established thiamine, riboflavin, and niacin.

COL. JACOB E. SMART BLERIOT H. LAMARRE

APPEARING BEFORE THE Senate War Investigating Committee in Washington, Bleriot H. Lamarre (left) a former accountant, and Col. Jacob E. Smart testify in connection with the wartime operations of retired Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers. Lamarre declared Meyers hired him in 1939 "to protect his financial interests" in the Aviation Electric Co., of Dayton, Ohio, which secured AAF contracts. Lamarre later was made president of the firm. Col. Smart, then secretary of the Air Staff, denied writing "Files-J. E. S." on an anonymous letter turned over to the Air Forces in 1945 accusing Meyers of war profiteering. (International)

Virgil Norton, in the Civil War. The hundred-year old stemwinder watch, brought by Miss Carol Hamilton, belonged to her great great grandfather Thomas Carver, who kept a fire burning continually for 42 years, even though he changed his residence during that time. Carlton Parker, son of Mrs. and the late Mr. Larkin Parker, Cowarts, brought an old muzzle-loading rifle and a bullet mold. Bonnets and caps of all types and ages were shown, and ancient shawls,' capes, blankets and shoes. There were an assortment of pioneer cooking utensils, a spinning wheel, wool-cards, and hand looms. Confederate money was displayed, and coins dating to 1833. Other articles exhibited included an old coffee-grinder, a cannonball found near East Laport, a wooden spoon over 200 years old, saddlebags, and an assortment of chinaware, much of it dating from the colonial period, and some of it brought from the "old countries."
