

Bosox Should Trouble

non Stephens, who came to the Red Sox from the Browns along with Kramer and Kinder, will be in the shortstop slot with Johnny Pesky shifted to third and Bobby Doerr still at second. Murrell Jones, the first baseman, is a relatively weak stickman, who hit only .235 in 109 games with Boston last year. William Goodman and Billy Hitchcock are capable of turning in good infield utility jobs. Goodman hit .340 for Louisville last year.

In the outfield, "Thumping Theodore" Williams needs no introduction. Neither does Don Dimaggio nor Sam Mele, who hit .302 in his freshman year with Boston last year. Stan Spence, who was obtained from Washington, Wally Moses, and Neill Sheridan, a $50,000 prospect from the Pacific coast league, are scrambling for positions on the team.

From the looks of things, the Bosox will give the Yankees a good fight for the American league

KENTUCKY, OILERS DOMINATE OLYMPIC BASKETBALL SQUAD

Probably the greatest collection of amateur basketball players in the world, 14 in all, were named last week as the squad that will represent the United States in the coming Olympic games.

The Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., who defeated the University of Kentucky 53-49 in the Olympic tryout finals, landed five men on the squad as did the collegians.

The Oilers have been the National AAU champs for the past six years, while Kentucky has been one of the greatest powers in collegiate basketball in the country for quite some time.

Here is the Olympic team of which the average height is 6 feet, 3 inches.

- Bob Kurland, Phillips 66 — 7 ft.
- Jesse Renick, Phillips 66 — 6-2.
- Gordon Carpenter, Phillips 66 — 6-7.
- R. C. Pitts, Phillips 66 — 6-4
- Lew Beck, Phillips 66 — 5-10
- Alex Groza, Kentucky — 6-7
- Wallace Jones, Ky. — 6-4
- Cliff Barker, Ky. — 6-1
- Ken Rollins, Ky. — 6 feet.
- Ralph Beard, Ky. — 5-10.
- Vince Boryla, Denver Nuggets — 6-4.

Don Barksdale, Oakland Bitters — 6-5.

Jack Robinson, Baylor — 6 feet.

Ray Lump, NYU — 6-1.

Omar Browning, Phillips coach, will be head coach of the Olympic squad and will be assisted by Adolph Rupp, Kentucky coach.

pennant, and if their pitching comes through, the race may turn out as a toss up.

BRIEFS - IN DETAIL

(By Bobby Terrill)

This week is the big one for sports fans of this section. The Brooklyn Dodgers will square away in Asheville Thursday and Friday in a couple of exhibition games with the Asheville Tourists. Both the Dodgers A and B squads will be on hand for the games and that means all the Dodger big wigs—Casey, Branca, Robinson, Reese, Reiser, Lavagetto, and many others.

It has been a long time since the people around here have had an opportunity to see a major league club in action but now's your chance, so make the most of it.

At least three Western North Carolina boys found their picture on the front cover of this week's LIFE magazine, and two of them were from Sylva. On the cover was a picture of some of the baseball players in Dodgertown, Fla., and among them were Ben Dillard and James Cunningham of Sylva and Tom Fore of Canton and WCTC. They're all good ball players and we hope they make the grade of organized ball.

J. B. Beam of WCTC is already living up to our predictions of being one of the slugging players in the North State conference this year. The lanky Catamount first baseman has been up to bat 12 official times. He has made five hits including two home runs, one triple and two singles for a .416 average.

We're still waiting to see what happens to North State batters when Lawson Brown of the Catamounts shakes the soreness out of his pitching wing and really turns loose. That's going to be good.

Cardinals Look Good In National League
Injury Jinx May Hurt Them

The St. Louis Cardinals, composed chiefly of veteran major league talent, could very easily come up with something that the Dodgers, Braves, etc. could not handle this year, that is, if the old injury jinx will lay off.

But the little "if" is already hard at work. Marty Marion, the Cards' great shortstop, has a knee injury that could easily end his brilliant major league career. At the present, Red Schoendienst is working at second and rookie Bob Young is at second in Schoendienst's place. Whitney Kurovski is still around to work at third, and Dick Sisler, Nippy Jones, and Glenn Nelson are fighting hard for first. That's the way the infield looks.

The outfield looks O.K. with Stan Musial (providing he doesn't have to go back to first), Enos Slaughter, Terry Moore, Ron Nurtley, Ervin Dusak, and Charley Diering.

Joe Garagiola looks like his old self behind the plate and Del Rice and Del Wilber are around to relieve him.

Now we come to the Cards' star studded pitching staff headed by ace Harry Brecheen, Murry Dickson, George Munger and Howie Pollet, Dickson and Pollet both had bad seasons last year but are looking great in spring training, especially Dickson who hurled a no-hit, no-run game against the World's Champion New York Yankees last week. Alpha Brazle and Jim Hearn had good seasons last summer and are ready to go again. Clarence Beers, a 25-8 winner for Houston last summer, Al Papai, a 21-10 winner for Houston, Ken Burkhardt and Ted Wilks round out the staff.

Barring the injury jinx, all we have to say is —look out Brooklyn.

Seymour Sparks Faculty To Win Over "W" Club

John S. Seymour's last second free throw gave the WCTC Faculty a 65-64 cage victory over the Monogram Club seniors at Cullowhee last Friday night.

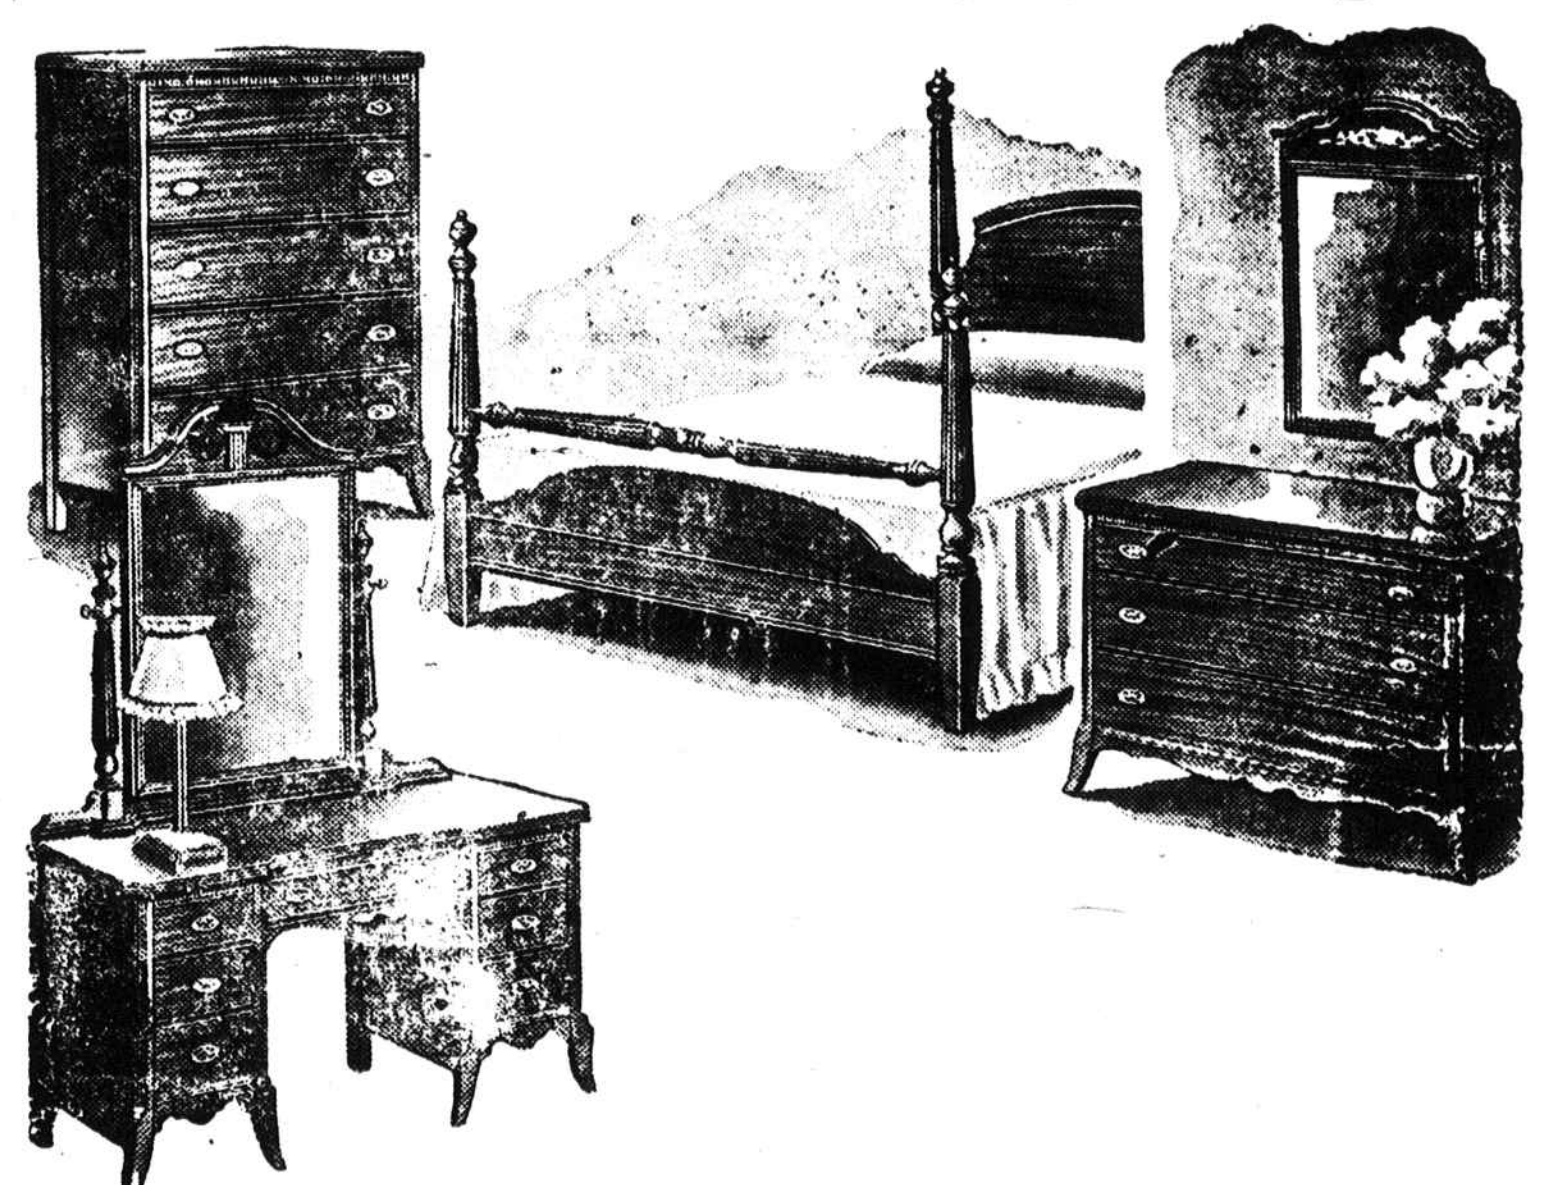

The game was close throughout with Seymour, Young and McConnell splitting the nets at will for the Profs and racking up 10 points each. Claxton was high for the "W" Club with 15.
