The former Commissioner of Agriculture said that although the taxpayers got no interest on their money, the banks did invest it to the extent that some of them had less cash in their vaults and on demoney on deposit with them.

"Let's get this picture perfectly clear," Scott asserted, "The banks have the taxpayers' money invested in the very same safe, conservative securities that the State should use. The important difference is that the banks are making the profit - not the taxpayers."

Scott said that the State Treasurer offered "a courtroom fense" for his stewardship, but that "as a matter of fact, the State Treasurer had NOT used all the power written in the law covering investment of these funds. Furthermore he has failed to ask the Legislature for additional authority to handle the State's reserves with good business judgement."

He cited the 50 million placed in the illness of her mother.

SCOTT

GOVERNOR

A Few Reasons Why The People of North Carolina Should Elect Him Governor.

1. It has been 50 years since we had a farmer for Governor. It is high time the farmers were being recognized.

2. He is not only one of the outstanding farmers of the State, but a successful business man and an executive of ability.

3. He reorganized the old N. C. Department of Agriculture and made it one of the best in the nation.

4. Mr. Scott is recognized in Washington as one of the leaders in agriculture in the United States.

5. North Carolina is largely a rural state and Scott has always advocated and fought for better rural living-better schools and churches, rural electrification, rural telephones and better roads.

6. He is not opposed to interstate Federal aid highways, but # thinks our own county roads should come first.

7. Scott is a careful business man and believes that the surplus state funds should be invested in interest bearing securities.

8. He believes that the livestock industry of the State should be greatly expanded and is heartily in favor of using Caledonia and other state-owned farms for this purpose.

9. While Commissioner of Agriculture Mr. Scott was largely instrumental in locating the Mountain Test Farm in Haywood Coun-

10. Scott resigned his office when he became a candidate and, draws no salary during the campaign.

11. Mr. Scott is running for Governor of North Carolina on his own record of service to the State.
