Voters Of Sylva To Elect Mayor And Aldermen In Town Election Tuesday

Democrats And Republicans Alike Hopeful Of Victory, Water Bond Issue Up

When the voters of Sylva go to the polls next Tuesday, May 3, to cast their ballot in the general town election they will receive two ballots . . . one will be the ballot for Mayor and Board of Aldermen containing the names of both Democratic and Republican candidates. The other ballot will be that for or against the proposed $150,000.00 water system improvement bonds. To vote the water bond ballot the voter has to mark in the square before yes or no. If he is for the proposed bond issue he will mark in the square before "yes" and if against the proposition he will mark the square before "no".

The town official ballot is just like the regular county election ballot containing the Democratic candidates in the left and Republicans on the right. To vote a straight ticket for either party the voter simply marks an "X" in the circle for the party he is in favor of. If he votes for some candidates of one party and some of the other he must make an "X" mark before each candidate he wishes to vote for, voting for one for mayor and five for the board.

The Democratic candidates are Jack C. Allison for Mayor, Harold S. McGuire, Joseph F. Wilson, R. R. Nicholson, Jr., James E. (Archie) Crawford and Woody R. Hampton for the board. The Republicans are: Hugh E. Monteith for Mayor and Fred R. Cope, George L. Painter, D. D. Hooper, Walter D. Warren and Britton Moore for the board.

The polls will be open at the city hall during the legal hours for voting. Grayson C. Cope is the registrar.

School Board Row Settled In Assembly

Legislature Ends Work Sat.; Fourth Longest In State's History

The 1949 General Assembly adjourned at 5:00 P. M. Saturday after having been in session for 94 days, the fourth longest session in the history of the State, with the legislators having to dig down into their own pockets to bear their expenses of remaining in Raleigh after the first 60 days.

JACKSON SCHOOL BOARD
Jackson County's prolonged school board dispute was settled a few days before the session ended when the House and Senate accepted a conference committee's recommendation.

The committee's report, somewhat in the form of a compromise between Representative Frank H. Brown, Jr., and Senator W. H. Crawford, favored Mr. Brown's position to name the board. The board as now constituted is composed of John H. Morris, W. R. Enloe, of Sylva; Edwin Fowler, Cashiers; J. W. Crawford, Addie and L. H. Higdon, Cullowhee. Morris, Enloe and Fowler are members of the present board whose terms expire in 1951. Crawford was nominated to the board by Brown. Higdon's name was picked by Senate members of the conference committee from a slate of five men nominated by Mr. Crawford.

In commenting on the committee's action, Crawford said, "I've taken a good licking on this proposition, but I believe the men appointed will form a good school board."

The conference committee report named all but one of the nominees supported by Brown. The Jackson representative had nominated Morris, Fowler, Enloe, Crawford and Ed Hooper of Caney Fork township.

Crawford rejected the House version of the measure and proposed a new five-member board to be composed of J. C. Passmore of Cashiers, Grady Martin of Whittier, Bragg Allison of Green's Creek, Dr. Grover C. Wilkes of Sylva and Higdon. Crawford's amendment would have ended the terms of Morris, Enloe and Fowler.

After the conference report was adopted in the House Brown rose to "apologize to every member of this House for delaying the omnibus school board bill." Speaker Kerr Craige Ramsey observed that no apology was necessary because "the gentleman from Jackson has every right to stand up for his belief."

The bill, which names members of school boards in most of the State's 100 counties, was enacted into law following adoption of the conference report.

This huge sum of money is broken down as follows: Science classroom building to cost $1,412,000; two dormitories $412,000 each; library building $690,000; water and light extension $200,000; drains, walks, landscaping $30,000; home economics practice home $21,400; president's home $30,000; converting present classroom building into apartments $50,000; storage warehouse $4,500; laundry approximately $40,000.

College officials stated this week that work on the buildings would get underway as soon as the new board of trustees organize and the architects complete details for the buildings, which will probably be mid-summer. Two years or more will be required to complete the projects, it was said.

Maintenance funds also provided by the State for the operation of the college are $254,232.00 for the first year and $244,362.00 for the second year of the bi-annual, 1949-51. The difference in the amount the State provides and the amount needed for operating comes from students and other sources.
