Of the 394 enrolled on Monday, twenty were doing graduate work under Dr. Killian and Dr. Smith. The graduate courses are being given under the sponsorship of the University of North Carolina. Twenty-three students were working toward high school principle's certificates under the direction of Supt. R. R. Morgan of Mooresville. Except for Supt. Morgan and Mrs. Elizabeth H. Mack, who is teaching fine arts during this summer team, all the professors for the summer school are resident professors at Cullowhee.

At the present time, President Bird said, plans for the WCTC building program are progressing satisfactorily. Ideas and suggestions from the teachers are being assembled in regard to the main science classroom building. An effort is being made to conveniently group classrooms and offices according to the various departments. The architect has begun to assemble the suggestions so that

Firemen Put Out Early Morning Fire At Hennessee Plant

Sylva firemen were routed from their early morning "beauty" sleep by a 5:30 o'clock alarm Wednesday morning which called them to put out a blaze in the boiler room of Hennessee Lumber Company plant at Beta. The prompt action of the department prevented a destructive fire at this plant, where considerable lumber is stored, some in dry kilns, with machinery and buildings exposed. The fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered by a bus driver as he was passing the plant. Robert Holden, living nearby, was roused and turned in the alarm. Little damage was done, chief W. B. Cope, announced.

The plant is owned and operated by Mr. W. C. Hennessee, of Sylva operator of sawmills and buying yards in Western North Carolina and North Georgia.

Around sixty people per day has been the average number to make use of the swimming pool during its first week of operation this season, according to James Barnwell, who is in charge of the pool. The average would have been much higher, he stated, if the cloudy wather had not decreased sharply the number of people using the pool for the last half of the week and the week-end.

City Garbage Disposal & Sanitation Problems Are Discussed By City Board

Thomas Urges Steps Be Taken To Clean Hog Pens, Filter Swimming Pool Water, Etc.

At the regular meeting last Friday night, Mayor Hugh Monteith and the board of aldermen heard several recommendations concerning sanitation in the Town of Sylva from District Health Officer Charles Thomas.

Stating that the present board, and other recent boards, had inherited a situation for which it was not responsible, Thomas said that he hoped the board would keep his suggestions in mind and act upon them when feasible. Thomas' main recommendation was that use of the present city dump, which is near the end of the street going by the court house and hospital, be stopped as soon as possible. He noted that the dump is only 3-10 of a mile from the hospital and 1-2 mile from the center of town. The mayor and aldermen were shown a film prepared by the U. S. Public Health Service showing that rats, flies and mosquitoes breed rapidly in open garbage dumps such as the one is used in Sylva at the present time. To replace the present dump, Thomas suggested that garbage be dumped into an excavation and covered over, so that its disposal might be more sanitary.

The board's attention was also called to the following problems: several cases of mad dogs in the Jackson county area so far this year; hog pens which are located too close to dwellings in the town of Sylva; the need for a filter to make the swimming pool safer; the need for constant vigilance concerning the Sylva water supply.

$50 Is First Cash Prize, $25 And Other Prizes To Be Drawn For Saturday

Throngs of Jackson County citizens and bargain seekers from the surrounding territory are expected to descend on Sylva this week-end to take advantage of the thousands of bargains being offered thrifty shoppers by the Merchants of Sylva in a city-wide "Opportunity Days" Bargain Festival event.

The three big trade days are being sponsored by the Sylva Merchants Association in cooperation with the individual merchants whose advertisements in this issue of The Herald will show some of the thousands of bargains the merchants have prepared for the shopping public.

Sylva merchants have been planning for this trade event for some time, and although it is the first of its nature to be held here in a long time, it is expected to be the biggest bargain festival offered anywhere in this area for a long time.

Morning Band Classes Are Announced for the Summer

Summer band classes are being held every morning at the Vocational Agriculture building at Sylva High school. The time from 9 to 11 a. m. is devoted to beginners; from 11 to 12 a. m., general band rehearsal. Afternoons will be devoted to individual instruction. Schedules will be arranged to fit the convenience of the students. Anyone who is interested in joining the band is asked to see Ben Cole, the director, in the near future, in order that a schedule may be worked out.

For the information of any parent who would like to enroll his child in the band, instruction is free but the parent must furnish the instrument. The more expensive instruments of the band are owned by the school and since they are very limited in number, they are all in use.

It is very necessary that attendance in the band be kept up this summer in order that Sylva may have a good band next year.
