North Carolina Woodmen of the World will hold its 77th Semi-Annual Log Rolling convention in Sylva on the afternoon and night of Saturday, October 14. The convention will open at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon with the Woodmen meeting in the Sylva High School Auditorium and the Ladies Circle meeting at the Woodmen of the World Lodge.

The night session will begin at 6:30 o'clock with a banquet at the American Legion Home.

The Honorable Staton P. Williams, head sentry and prominent attorney of Albemarle, N. C. will be the speaker at the banquet.

Melvin, Assistant State Manager will be present.

The Sylva Camp of the Woodmen of the World has arranged a very intersting program with quite a variety of entertainment and is expecting one of the largern North Carolina Log Rolling.

A Turkish Tobacco market will be held in Sylva on Wednesday, October 25.

Growers of the new type leaf are encouraged to prepare their crops for market by that date if weather conditions permit. Caution is given against baling tobacco that is insufficiently cured or in too high order for safe keeping. Damp leaves mold quickly in the bales. Molded leaves are almost worthless. Leaves in proper order for baling should rattle slightly and should contain barely enough moisture so as not to break when squeezed in the hand. If bales already prepared should come into questionable case, they should be dried by a Fifteen Jackson farmers have grown the new type of tobacco this year. More than 100 bales have been produced. The average bale weighs 18 to 20 pounds and is bought according to grade price. Local growers averaged as much as 97c per pound last season.
