LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather Bureau reports frost for to-night.

The service at the Armory to-night begins at 7:30.

Edison's latest wonder the Kinetophone is on exhibition in this city.

Mr. M. C. Honeycutt, of Sampson county, died suddenly on Friday last.

Master Charlie Sellars shot a wild turkey, last Friday, that weighed 16½ pounds dressed. Its beard was 12 inches long.

Weather Predictions—Chief Moore, Washington, D. C., 11:30—Fair to-night; fair and warmer Wednesday. Frost to-night.

Among the list of patents granted to Southern States' inventors the past week is that of Capt. J. B. Underwood for a tobacco steaming machine.

Col. Drewry, Supt. of the Military Academy, dismissed the students at 11 o'clock this morning to attend the service in the armory; but arranged the afternoon session so that no time was lost from the school.

The Latest from Kentucky.

We have just received a telegram from Frankfort, Kentucky, stating that the balloting is still going on at 5:20 p. m., with no election of Senator in sight. The session expires by limitation to-night. Shame upon the traitorous Democrats.

LATER.—Adjourned without electing a Senator. All quiet.

Two brickmasons were before the Mayor this morning charged with being disorderly in Campbellton. Several women of bad character appeared as witnesses against them. They were made to contribute $18 to the city treasury. The Mayor warned the women that if any more disturbances took place in their neighborhood he would report them to the Grand Jury.

Died.

On Sunday morning, at 11:30, J. D. Broek, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Broek, in Flea Hill township, of Hemorrhagic fever, and was buried to-day at 12:30, in Royals' grave yard.

A Worthy Charity.

Everyone knows honest old man "Bull Pipe" Smith. He lives near Clarendon Bridge, and has for many years made jugs and other pottery. He brought his wares to market in an ox cart and on account of their excellency they met with ready sale. He is now almost blind, and has been unable to ply his trade for many months, and is, therefore, necessarily without sustenance. Chief of Police Flowers will receive any subscriptions in behalf of this worthy old man.

A Dangerous Thing.

Some one turned both gas jets on in the vestibule of the Postoffice Sunday night. It almost suffocated one to enter the building. This is a dangerous piece of maliciousness, and might have caused a terrible disaster. Turning on several gas jets with one lighted one in a building, is a favorite mode of procedure with insurance swindlers, and has been the cause of many deaths. Luckily, in this case, there was no naked light near. The scamps, if caught, should be severely dealt with.

The Guerrant Meeting.

"How to Be Saved," was the subject of Dr. Guerrant's masterly sermon last night. He spoke to an immense congregation, notwithstanding the rain and wind. He said that a great many otherwise intelligent people were really ignorant of the way of salvation, and gave an instance of an old man 96 years of age who had given up the hope of salvation because he couldn't help swearing. But when he gave his heart to Jesus, Jesus saved him from that sin. The four points of the gospel were:

1. All men are sinners—not equally wicked, but all have come short. A boat was overturned with three men in it. One went right to the bottom of the river, another swam half-way to shore and the third almost reached the land. But all were drowned.

2. Sin means death. It is the poison of the soul.

3. Jesus saves from sin. He is the only way of salvation, the only hope of the sinner. And He saves any sinner no matter how vile. The instances of his saving power in the gospel were those of lost men and abandoned women.

4. Jesus saves by faith. Believing is not doing. The gospel of works is best exemplified in Heathenism. Believing is trusting. Just as a woman gives herself to her husband, her name, her freedom, her property, her devotion, because she trusts him. So the sinner gives himself to the Saviour in trusting him.

This morning Dr. Guerrant made an informal talk, but beautiful nevertheless. He is full of magitism and his simplest sayings go straight to the heart of his hearers. Fully 800 people were present. Think of that, in the middle of the day too. The splendid Piano used during the services was loaned by Messrs. Pemberton and Blount.

Bishop Watson will arrive in the city Saturday and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Rose, on Haymount.

The "President" Insulted.

The Township Constable yesterday seized a mule from Neill McKoy under claim and delivery papers. The "President" was highly insulted, and at first refused to submit. He said that his predecessor, Grover Cleveland, would not have submitted to such an insult, and that the constable might expect to lose his job any minute.

All Saloons Close.

All the saloons, as well as the stores, were closed this morning from 11 to 12 o'clock on account of the Guerrant meeting. This is the first instance we know of where all the bar rooms in a city closed up so that their proprietors and employes could attend a religious meeting. Wonderful Dr. Guerrant, you have done something no other man, not even Pearson, was ever able to do. The following has been handed in to us by a prominent saloon-keeper for publication:

We, the undersigned bar-keepers and bar-attenders, agree among ourselves to close our places of business from 11 o'clock until 12 M. each and every day as long as the services go on at the Armory this week, that we may or our employes may attend the said meeting.
