Mr. Bogle to Rural Hall, Mr.
Hunt to Bryson City.

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 27.—The Western North Carolina conference of the M. E. church, South, in annual session here, adjourned late today to meet next year in Salisbury, N. C. Before adjournment, the conference adopted a resolution professing against universal military training and urging the senators and members of the house in congress from this state to use their influence and votes to defeat the pending bill or any other measure that would require military training in times of peace. Chief interest in the closing day's session, of course, was centered in Bishop Darlington's announcement of pastoral appointments.

ARRANGING FOR CITY DELIVERY

The houses are being numbered and Postmaster Frank Miller is getting ready for city instead of village delivery.

Our office number is 978 Main street. The 10th block begins with East and Church streets.

Waynesville has changed into a city since last week. Some of our people had already adopted city ways and we presume all of us will have to come to it sooner or later, but the sad part of it is that many have not incomes sufficient to go the pace.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING.

The Woman's Club will hold their next meeting Thursday afternoon, Nov. 6th at the home of Mrs. Clarence Miller on Haywood street.

EQUIPMENT SOLDIERS ARE ENTITLED TO KEEP.

October 24, 1919.

Editor of Mountaineer-Courier.
I am advised by the War Department that every enlisted man of the army was entitled to retain permanently, upon his discharge, the following articles:

One olive drab shirt, one pair breeches, one pair leggings, one waist belt, one slicker, one overcoat, four pairs stockings, one pair shoes, one gas mask and helmet (if issued overseas.)

If the above articles of clothing and equipment were not received when discharged they may now be secured by certifying to that fact. I will be glad to assist any soldiers who have not received these articles, or any of them, and will take pleasure in forwarding necessary blanks upon which to make application.

Of course, every soldier is legally entitled to these articles and I will very much appreciate it if, through the medium of your paper, you can assist in bringing this matter to the attention of the soldiers who may be interested.

Sincerely yours,
ZEBULON WEAVER.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL DRIVE.

Next Sunday, Nov. 2, and continuing through the eleventh is the time set apart by the National Committee of the Red Cross to collect the general membership fee of one dollar from each member. Many of us are prone to think of the Red Cross as purely an organization for relief during the time of war, but its policy is to aid suffering humanity at all times.

Half of every dollar paid in will be kept in the local chapter to be used from time to time as needy and deserving cases of suffering are brought to the attention of the chapter. The other half will be sent to headquarters to be used in the world wide relief of the organization. When one considers the opportunities and how far reaching the good to be accomplished by this gift of ONE DOLLAR, thereby becoming a member of the Red Cross, it should be deemed a privilege to join. It is to be hoped that not one war time member turn aside this opportunity and that others who have during the past three years learned to appreciate the work of this organization, will gladly pay this small fee.

This drive will be under the capable management of Mr. Glenn Miller, chairman, and Miss Alice Quinlan, vice chairman.

THE PERSHING LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Pershing Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting Friday, Oct. 24, 1919. The following program was rendered:

- I. Pray by Chaplain.
- II. Song by Society, No. 18.
- III. School News—Lucy Tate.
- IV. State News—David Noland.
- V. National News—Frank Underwood.
- VI. Story—Eva Miller.
- VII. Jokes—Hayes Alley.
- VIII. Recitation—Janis Reeves.
- IX. Double Quartette—Lois Briggs, Harriett Boone, Mary Abel, Mabel Williams, Jeff Reeves, Lawrence Davis, Paul Martin and Hoyt Covington.
- X. Declamation—Hugh Massie.

The following officers were elected: President, Lucy Tate; Vice President, Carl Messer; Secretary, Nannie Tate; Censor, Mary Abel; Critic, Miss Adams; Press Reporter, Mabel Williams; Chaplain, Miss Thompson; Sergeant-at-Arms, Hayes Alley; Program Committee, Elizabeth Quinlan, Margaret Blackwell, and Sarah Elmore.
MABEL WILLIAMS,
Press Reporter.

REV. W. B. WEST TO LEAVE.

Many of our Methodist friends are surprised and sorry to lose Rev. Walter B. West, their pastor, who has only been here two years. He exchanges with Rev. G. D. Herman of Mount Airy a wire being received yesterday from the Bishop to that effect. The lists as sent out and published said Rev. R. D. Sherrill was to come here, but that has been changed.

Rev. R. E. Hunt of Clyde goes to Bryson City-Whittier. Rev. L. P. Bogle of Jonathan goes to Mount Airy district. We regret the removal of all these splendid preachers.

THE MAN WHO DOESN'T PLAN AND DREAM.

(By Jesse Daniel Boone)

The man who doesn't plan and dream,
The man who doesn't have a scheme,
Must have but little self-esteem,
And miss a much in life.
We need imagination's spur
To make things happen and occur
Amid the many things which blur
In this old world of strife.

The world's Great Architect above,
Though mild and gentle as a dove,
So planned this universe, in love,
That we might dwell in peace;
But Satan also had his plan
For thwarting God, and also man,
And taught men "can't" instead of "can,"
To make our efforts cease.

I CAN has made the deserts bloom;
I CAN makes towns and cities boom;
While CANT is full of dobt and gloom,
And never does a thing.
I CAN will guarantee success,
And never fails to crown and bless,
In times of plenty, or distress;
It makes you smile and sing.

I CANT was never known to score,
But makes men weary, worn and sore,
And like Poe's Raven's: "nevermore,"
Leaves little hope or joy.
I CANT is but a silent lip,
A stolen rudder from a ship—
It isn't worth a thought or flip
To any girl or boy.

So foster all your dazzling dreams
And nurture all your rosy schemes
Until your planning fairly teems
With friends, and wealth and place.
Make many plans for each new day
For work, for rest, or else for play,
So at the finish you may say:
I've fought and won the race.

TO PRESERVE WAR RECORDS.

The North Carolina Historical Commission is canvassing the entire State for letters, diaries, pictures, newspaper clippings, in fact, all material of any nature that throw light on North Carolina in the World War. E. R. House, collector of War Records for the Historical Commission, is conducting this canvass by going to the sources of such official records as Red Cross Chapter Histories, local Board reports, etc., by organizing volunteer committees to assist him in the various counties, and by going himself from community to community all over the State.

These materials canvassed for, valuable as they are, will perish very rapidly unless they are stored where fire, rats, and other destroying agencies cannot get at them. Practically the only safe depository for such things is the fireproof Hall of History in Raleigh, built to preserve just such things as these.

Realizing the necessity of preserving these valuable records, the last General Assembly appropriated money for the work, and directed the Historical Commission not only to collect all data possible about North Carolina in the World War, but to prepare a complete history of the State's life in that great event. By this act the General Assembly placed North Carolina among the most progressive States in the Union, for North Carolina was one of the first States to inaugurate a work that all the other States are now taking up.

The General Assembly realized that history is essential to a commonwealth, and therefore placed this work on a stable foundation. The General Assembly but expressed the will of the State, and since this will is so wisely recorded in the establishment of this work of collecting war records, it is the presumption of the Historical Commission that the people of the State are going to give the materials essential to history.

The fine success already attained by the public spirit of individual donors of material shows that North Carolinians want their State fully represented in history.

Almost every person in the State has a letter, a picture, or something that would be of value. Whatever he has, he should communicate information about it, or send it to R. B. House, Collector of War Records, North Carolina Historical Commission, Raleigh, N. C.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT SUCCESS.

The benefit entertainment at the Victory Theatre last week was a success. The picture was a good one and a neat sum was realized for furnace repairs.

The singing of Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. Haviland was highly enjoyed and the recitation of Miss Mildred Crawford was fine and original.

U. D. C. MEETING.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy will meet with Mrs. J. W. Ferguson on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 5th, at 3 o'clock. A full attendance is desired as officers are to be elected and other important business is to be transacted.

WANT TO BUY—A small library table. Address Box 22, stating price, Waynesville, N. C.

CHAPIN-BOYD.

A marriage of wide spread interest throughout the county was that of Miss Rebecca Boyd to Mr. Thaddeus Owen Chapin, which occurred at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday afternoon, October the twenty-second at half after three o'clock.

The entire lower floor of the home was thrown together and most artistically decorated in quantities of chrysanthemums and asparagus ferns. The ceremony was solemnized in the living room before an improvised archway, twined in smilax and lighted by the glow from numerous candles. Above this was suspended a wedding bell of tulle and soft green foliage and at either side were placed floor vases filled with white chrysanthemums.

Promptly at the appointed hour Miss Grace Lee sang with much expression, "At Dawning," by Cadman, accompanied by Miss Nan Killian, pianist and Miss Margaret Stringfield on the violin. At the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin the bridal party entered, coming down the stairway and across the hall into the living room in the following order: First the little Miss Charline Turbyfill, daughter of Mr. Charles Turbyfill, and Margaret Perry, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. L. E. Perry of Asheville, wearing dainty frocks of white organza and carrying the ribbon from the foot of the stairway to the altar, forming a passage way for the remainder of the party. Little Miss Alvinda Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Erwin of Asheville, the flower girl, wearing white organza and carrying a basket of pink roses, Virginia Campbell, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell of Delwood carrying the ring on a silver tray. Mrs. Elizabeth Blackburn, matron of honor, gowned in pink silk net over satin with silver trimmings and hat of pink georgette with pastel shaded flowers and carrying an armful of Killarney roses. She was followed by the bride and her maid of honor, Miss Fannie Pearl Campbell, who also wore net over satin and georgette and carried roses. Miss Boyd wore a smart tailored blue tulle suit with gray furs and harmonizing accessories and carried a shower of white roses and valley lilies. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Grady Boyd. Rev. A. V. Joyner, in a most impressive manner spoke the marriage vows. After the ceremony an informal reception was held.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd and by her attractive personality has won for herself a host of friends who rejoice for her happiness, but who regret that her marriage takes her elsewhere to live.

Mr. Chapin is a young man of sterling worth and is a member of the firm of Chapin & Chapin, Contractors, Birmingham, Ala., where he makes his home. Last year he was in charge of the erection of the Government Hospital buildings and made many friends during the time spent here.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were, Mrs. L. E. Perry of Asheville, Mrs. Waldron of New York, aunt of the bride, Mrs. W. B. Nelson and Mrs. J. A. Erwin of Asheville and Miss May Burr Moody of Franklin.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

Mrs. D. M. Killian charmingly entertained the Woman's Club last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. S. H. Keller, the president, presiding.

Mrs. Keller read a masterly paper on America's entry into the war, and Mrs. R. L. Prevost read a paper showing thorough information on "What is the Monroe Doctrine."

A number of members, and one guest, Mrs. Cox of Tennessee, who was the house guest of Mrs. Frank Ferguson, were present. After the close of an interested discussion, Mrs. Killian, assisted by Mrs. Faucette Swift and Miss Nan Killian, served a dainty salad course. The club will meet next with Mrs. Clarence W. Miller, Jr.

A MIDNIGHT MARRIAGE.

An after midnight marriage was performed at the Baptist parsonage Sunday morning about 12:30 by Rev. A. V. Joyner when Miss Charlotte Morris, daughter of Mrs. N. B. Morris and John B. Smith of Sunburst were made man and wife. They had to phone to Sunburst for a car and go there and come round by Canton, which made the ceremony so late.

HAYWOOD FARMER'S IS BIG SHEEP RAISER

Raises Only Purebred Stock and Has Succeeded in Getting Others to Start Sheep Industry.

Asheville Citizen.
A. C. Walker, one of Haywood county's progressive farmers and stock-raisers, was a visitor to Asheville Saturday to see the big circus, and while here took occasion to call on the board of trade and tell something about his success in sheep-raising the past year. Mr. Walker has been engaged in sheep-raising for several years and his success has had much to do with getting others in the western part of the state during the last few years to engage in the industry.

Mr. Walker said that he is raising and handling nothing but the purebred registered Hampshire type of sheep, and the past year he has raised twenty lambs, kept eight of them and sold the other 12 for an average of $50 apiece; that he has sold 48 head of ewes from four to six years old at an average of $35 a head, and that he has sold wool amounting to over $80. He states that this entire section of western North Carolina is especially adapted to sheep-raising, and that farmers can make money on small flocks on every farm if they will just give them proper attention. Mr. Walker attended the sheep sale at Lexington, Ky., in August and bought a purebred Hampshire buck for $196. He also stated the new dog law passed by the last legislature is a good law and should be enforced.

HAYWOOD FIRST, MADISON FIFTH, JACKSON SEVENTH.

Mountaineer-Courier:
I feel as if there should be some correction in regard to the Atlanta fair premiums, so please publish the following:

As there appears to be some careless reporting done in regard to the Atlanta fair premiums obtained by Western N. C. exhibitors, perhaps a little correction would not be out of place. In competing for county premiums Haywood received first, Madison fifth, Jackson seventh. There were twelve counties represented and only ten premiums offered. For individual premiums, D. Reeves Noland received first, E. J. Howell second. There were eleven exhibits and ten premiums offered so you see that some one was left out. The one that stands near the head of the list can safely feel that he is in fast company and to secure a premium he must be there with the goods.
AN EXHIBITOR.

MISS REBECCA BOYD HONOREE.

On Monday, Oct. 20, Miss Rebecca Boyd was the honor guest at an attractive heart party given by Miss Hilda Way. Three tables were arranged in the library for playing. The color scheme of yellow and green was carried out in detail. After a spirited game Mrs. J. R. McCracken was found to be the possessor of the top score and she was given a box of cream colored note paper, while to the bride-elect, the hostess presented a glass sandwich plate! Among those playing were, the Mesdames McCracken, Blackburn and Covington, and the Misses Marion Atkinson, Mary Turbyfill, Nan Killian, Elizabeth Reeves, Grace Lee, Josephine Thomas and Ruth Boyd.
