Government Accepts Statue. Gen. Federick D. Grant Receives Statue of Confederate General Presented By United Confederate Veterans

Vicksburg, Miss., Special.-Several | honor of General Stephen Lee's memthousand Confederate veterans wit- ory, as less than two years ago, he, nessed the unveiling of the heroic my kind friend and hospitable host, statue to Gen. Stephen Dill Lee here took me over these very historic of Vicksburg.

Vicksburg had been prparing for the dedication for months. The town

Upon taking the chair as presiding officer, Mr. Watterson said:

Standing by the Father of Waters let me first give thanks to God, that, from the Falls of St. Anthony to the Gulf of Mexico, it flows through an unbroken successoion of American States; at once a chain and an emblem of perpetual union between the North and the South.

It was to gain this outlet to the sea that we acquired the Louisianas of France. It was to keep it open that the yoemen of the great Northwest took the field. The purpose to close it proved an error of far-reaching magnitude; but if it be true, as Gibbon tells us, that "History is little more than the register of the crimes, follies and misfortunes of mankind,' what must not all of us have to ans swer for, when reason comes to the final disposition of the facts of a conflict, which even now baffles philosophy; because the South, foredoomed to defeat, risked all and had every-thing to lose; the wonder being, and thing to lose; the wonder peing, and the glores that against such odds the self-confident, but vanquished and vanished Confederacy was able to hold out so fong. After a most eloquent and touching speech and the unveiling of the monument Gen. Fred D. Grant was introknightly and chivalric soldier, I am glad to recall the earnest wish cherished constantly by my own dear father, Generela Ulsysses S. Grant, for peace and harmony among the American people. This wish was shown in the terms granted here at Vieksburg, and also April 9, 1865, when at Appomattox, upon reading that the side arms, horses and private property of his officers and enlisted men could be retained by them. General Robert E. Lee said to General Grant, 'These terms will have, indeed, a most happy effect upon my army, and upon the whole South.'

"I am glad to recall that this sentence for harmony between the North and the South, begun at Appomattox, was cherished by General Grant until the end of his life, as shown by him, during the administration of President Johnson and the Reconstruction period, when General Grant stood firmly and determinedly, for the promises he had given to General Robert E. Lee and to the South, as he did also, throughout his own two administrations, as President of the United States, even up to the last hours of his existence. This is evident in a message written by General Grant during his last illness, after the loss of his voice, to one of the physicians attending him, a short time before his death, of which mes-

United Confederate Veterans Ad-journ Their Business Meetings on Heels of a very Stermy Session.— Evans is Again Commander.

Memphis, Tenn., Special.-After re-electing General Clement A. Evans commander-in-chief over his vigorous but futile protest, and electing Mobile, Ala., as the next place of reunion, the United Confederate Veterans adjourned their business meetings Wednesday night on the heels of very stormy session.

The only candidate for commander-in-chief placed in nomination was General William M. Cabell, commander of the trans-Mississippi division. Just before nominations were in order, General Evans read an announcement to the convention, in which he declined re-election. He said he had served in every capacity, from the lowest to the highest, and that he felt that he highest honor in the veterans' gift should be passed from one ex-Confederate to another in turn.

But the delegates disagreed with him and by a vote of 1,540 to 744 for Cabell, re-elected General Evans to command. With tears streaming down his cheeks and shaking with emotion, the stately and aged soldier bowed to the commands of his comrades. His election followed one of the stormiest sessions of the veterans which old-time delegates can After Mobile, Honston, Nashville, Chattanooga and Oklahoma City had been put in nomination for the next reunion, some one began to introduce outside speakers. Sweltering in a temperature of over a hundred degrees, the veteran delegates objected strongly and yelled vigorously for a vote. But the disorder was desultory.

Used Mails to Defraud.

Cincinnati, O., Special.—Louis W. Foster, John M. Gorman, Walter Camubell, A. C. Baldwin, Edwin Hell and J. M. Scott were each sentenced to six months in jail and to pay a fine of $200 and costs by Judge Thompson in the United States District Court here Tuesday morning for using the United States mails to further schemes to defraud in conducting a bucket-shop. MEET NEXT IN MOBILE | BLOODY STREET BATTLE

Two Dead and Pive Injured Fued That Had Been Priviously Marked With Tragedy, Breaks Out Anew. Meadville, Miss., Special.—Two men are dead, two were perhaps fatally wounded and three others slightly injured in a bloody street battle here Monday afternoon, waged by parties to a bitter fued that had been previously marked with tragedy. As a result of the affair, feeling here runs high and State troops were rushed to Meadville from Brookhaven to guard against pssibility of rioting. Those killed in the affray were Dr. A. M. Newman, clerk of the chancery court of Franklin county, and Silas G. Reynolds. Dr. Lenox Newman, a son of one of the slain men, is believed to have been fatally injured. and Herbert Applewhite, an attorney, may not recover as the result of his wounds. Emmett Newman, another son, was shot in the leg. The three were taken to Natchez for medical attention, after having been formally placed under arrest. Two men named Boyd and Parr, alleged to have been involved in the affray, were slightly wounded but escaped and have not been captured.

L. P. Priebard, a brother of Corne lius Prichard, whom Dr. Newman killed seven weeks ago, was arrested and charged with complicity in the tragedy.

The killing of Prichard by Newman was the first bloodshed to mark a fued that had existed between the two men, relatives and friends, for months. This bitter factionalism had its inception in a political campaign in which Newman and Prichard were opposing candidates.

Newman was tried a few weeks ago for Prichard's murder and was acquitted. This served to arouse even more bitter feeling among the relatives and friends of Prichard and the Newman family and faction.

Monday's fight occurred almost on the same spot where Prichard was slain. Apparently Newman was first fired upon as he was passing the Butler building in his buggy. The shot came from one of the rooms on the second floor of the building. It failed to take effect and Newman, jumping from his buggy, rushed to the front of the building, drawing his pistol, it is asserted, in the meantime.

Gigantic Plot Unearthed. Norfolk, Special. - Packed piano boxes and ready for shipment on a filibustering steamer bound for Venezuela, a quantity of rifles and ammunition, destined, it is believed, to Cipriano Castro's revolutionists; was discovered at Franklia, Va.,

Monday.

The rifles are believed to be a part of the 15,000 Mauser weapons shipped from New York to St. Louis and back to Franklin, billed as pianos and packed to weather the trip to South America. The filibuster suspeet steamer Nantichoke was lying near Franklin, and in the Blackwater below the steamer was her consort. the tug Despatch. The revenue entter Pamlico is blockading the two suspects, and it is not believed that either could pass her, even in the darkness, although there were persistent rumors that an attempt would be made to get away. Orders have been issued from Washington to take prompt action in case the steamer should lift anchor.

Apparently the gigantic plot of 'astro's supporters, unearthed by secret agents of the government and present Venezuelan regime, and at first not considered very seriously at Washington, for the overthrow of the opponents of the exiled President, was verified by the discovery of the Mausers at Franklin.

Whether the entire supply of rifles reached Franklin or the filibustering steamers were waiting for the arrival of other piano boxes from St. Louis, is not known, but the State Department has again blocked Castro's game.

Italians Convicted of Conspiracy.

Fairmont, W. Va., Special.-Nine Italians, members of an alleged black hand society on trial charged with conspiracy to rob and kill Orazio Beredelli, who was initiated into the society on March 27 last, were Monday found guilty as indicted. Ten others who were in an adjoining room when the place was raided, were convicted of a misdemeanor.

Storms Do Damage.

Big Stone Gap, Va., Special.—Five deaths are reported and damage to property estimated at upwards of $100,000 as the result of rains and electrical storms which swept over this section Saturday night and Sunday, Railroad tracks were washed out, causing landslides and a 10-foot rise in the Powell river in two hours. The Interstate road lost more than two miles of road in the six-mile stretch of track between Appalachia and Stonega. The Powell Valley Light and Power Company's plant here was put out of commission by lightning, and crops were injured.

Hunting Wild Cattle.

Fayetteville, Special.-For ast several days a hunt for wild cattle has been in progress within ten miles of Fayetteville. A number of years ago Major J. B. Broadfoot turned several cows loose on a stretch of land he owns between Carver's creek and Cross Creek.

There they have been ever since, multiplying and growing wilder with each generation, until now the herd numbers fully a hundred, all wild as zebras. These animals ranged for a distance of seven miles between two creeks and along their banks ten or twelve miles.

Finding it almost impossible catch any of them and hearing that certain parties were hunting them with rifles Major Broadfoot decided to take a hand in the matter himself and enlisted the services of J. A. Ratcliffe, a crack rifle shot. So far the last several days accompanied by a knows the wild cattle and their range Mr. Ratcliffe has been having real

So far he has been able to get within rifle range of six of the animals and he has brought them all to the ground. One of them, a great bull, after being shot twice, made a dash for Mr. Ratcliffe, and it took three more bullets in the head before the animal dropped at the hunter's feet. The pilot, Sam Elliott, estimates the number of these wild animals at 100, having himself seen as many as seventy-five different ones.

Wilmington Wireless Station.

Wilmington, Special.-A commersial wireless telegraph station for Wilmington is included in the plans of the United Wireless Telegraph Company for the present year, and an office of the company has just been opened in this city.

The eastern operating department of that company, which has its headquarters in New York, has announced the placing of an order for 250 complete sets of wireless instruments all of which it is said will be installed at stations to be established during 1909 in cities east of the Mississippi river, requiring an expenditure of $500,000.

Besides the station at Wilmington, others are to be established in North Carolina at Newbern, Raleigh, Greensboro, Charlotte, Asheville, Henderson and Winston-Salem. The company already has stations at Elizabeth City and Cape Hatteras, and the United States government operates a

Found After Seven Years.

Charlotte, Special.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mr. Ellis M. Moore, on the night of May 20, 1902, was cleared Friday morning when the remains of the missing man were discovered fifteen feet below the level of East Boulevard in Dilworth, at the intersection of Winthrop avenue. Negro workmen had been set to work digging up the street for the purpose of making sewer connections from the line on East Bulevard with Winthrop avenue. Two negroes were shoveling dirt from the bottom of the hole, when the shovel of John Twitty struck the body of the dead man. The earth was then taken from around the skeleton and before it was removed, Chief of Police T. M. Christenbury and Coroner W. A. Gresham were notified and arrived on the scene.

Mr. E. V. Moore, a brother of the dead man, was then called and positively identified the remains as his brother. Mr. Moore was able to idenpilot, a man in the neighborhood, who tify the pair of trousers the dead man wore, and stated that he had given them to his brother several days before his death occurred.

Many Charlotte people remember the sudden diappearance of Mr. Moore seven years ago, but until Friday there was no positive knowledge that he was dead, though his wife and brothers have always thought that only death could account for the long absence.

Terrible Hail Storm.

Millboro, Special .- One of the largest cloudbursts and hail storms passed through this county last evening that was ever known in this country. It lasted about one hour. The hail literally destroyed everything in its path. It hailed for about one hour and the stones were as large as quail eggs. The wheat is down flat on the ground and lots of it beat off the heads, while the corn and vegetables in the gardens are completely destroyed. Beans, tomatoes, cabbage and other vegetables are cut smooth with the ground. It killed a lot of young turkeys for Captain Lineberry and blowed down his tool house. Fortunately he had his binder in the wheat field but a mowing machine and corn drill was in the house and received some damage. It reached from Millboro to Lineberry station, a distance of five miles, and everything in its path is obut destroyed.

Fruit Crop Good.
