GOOD ROADS.

Hon. T. J. Murray received a letter calling attention to the Good Roads Meeting at Asheville on the 12th of February. If there is anything we all need to think more about it surely is good roads, whoever travels out of Marshall in any direction at the present time must surely be in favor of good roads because if any one ever needed them we do now. Our roads are very good when the summer balmy breezes float over every thing but when winters snowy rainy season comes and our roads into mud pools we hope and pray that the idea of good roads may sink deep into the minds and hearts and stir the people into reaching down and paying more taxes for these roads or bonding the County for them. We got a good court house in this way and other things are coming and it is not a hard job to pay for them and good roads would come just as easy if we only would make up our minds to it. We hope there may be a large delegation of citizens from our county at this convention and it behooves every one of us to get busy about it. Cannot we stir up some enthusiasm over the matter.

FARM MACHINERY.

Of course you have placed your machinery under cover for the winter. The only person who would advise you not to do this is the agent who wants to sell you some new machinery. The trouble is that to many farmers leave everything out in the weather and the result is that next spring it will need a lot of repairing and perhaps you may have to get it new. Why not care for it and make it do you a longer time.

It is a waste to leave your wagon, your rake, plow, mowing machine out in the winter storm. It would cost you less to build some kind of a shelter for it than to buy a new machine or repair the waste of a season cover up your machinery and don't let it stand out. A word to the wise.

Corn Exposition.

One of the greatest expositions of the year has taken place in Columbia, S. C. and the agent of the Southern Railroad has sent us the following list of persons attending from the different counties.

Madison sent a boy at the expense of the Greater Western Carolina Association but outside of Hobart Sprinkles and one or two others, no one from the county went.

It is because we have no interest in arousing the farmers and others to a greater yield for each acre planted or is there just an apathy of contempt that thinks we are doing enough. We take space in our paper to publish the number that went from counties whose names were received by the Agricultural agent of the Southern Railroad. We wish many might have gone from here because we are sure they would have returned enthused with the desire to do more for our county along these lines.

We hope next year many corn clubs may be organized and if all things hold good we trust there may be exhibitions of corn grown from county that will surpass the others.

We publish in addition the following:

Wayne County	38
Madison County	38
Swain County	14

Flowery Month January.

Even big New York finds time to discuss the remarkable features of the month just passed, a month during which winter was practically unknown. The Sun's weather man says there never has been a January since the Weather Bureau was established or since Henry Hudson discovered his celebrated river, that can hold a candle, or a superheated electric light, to January, 1913. In proof it is said that on the last and the warmest day, Spring flowers of all sorts were coming out and over in Wading River, L. I., the snakes woke up, under the impression that the vernal season had arrived, and one of them was killed by Road Master James Rowland. It was not a big snake, because it had no press agent perhaps, but it was a snake anyhow. Verily, the weather works seem to have slipped a cog. Spring is standing up, no Winter lap being handy to sit in.—Charlotte Observer.

With us also this has been the mildest winter known for many years. However the groundhog saw his shadow last Sunday and he went back so as to give us a chance to have a cold spell such as you read about.

A GREAT MEETING

A meeting of great power has just closed at Mars Hill. Rev. J. C. Owen preached for ten days and brought the community uplift which will be felt for years. Only a dozen students out of the three hundred in school are unsaved and quite a number of these are still interested, and the workers are busy. Since the meeting closed a half dozen have made professions. Forty-two have joined the church for baptism and others will take this step. Twenty-five others joined by letter and otherwise. As an expression of their appreciation the church presented Mr. Owen with a purse of $120. Mr. Owen has been one of our most successful missionaries in China for twelve years and was sent home by his physician. He is now doing evangelistic work among the mountain schools, for his life is so consecrated and surrendered that he will not be idle. This is the first meeting he has held since undertaking this work, and he held up remarkably well, though he put in more than ten hours some days either in speaking from the platform or talking to the unsaved in his room.

The enrollment in the College grows steadily and has now reached $80, not including those who attend the Summer School. There are now 300 in actual daily attendance, a record never before reached either in enrollment or average attendance. And in conduct and daily life, in application and right ideals, the student-body is an exceptional one.

PRACTICAL CO-OPERATION.

The total number of agricultural co-operative societies in Germany on the 1st of June, 1912, according to the report of the National Federation, was 26,026 with about 2,430,000 members. In this compilation of members however, those who belong to more than one cooperative society are counted more than once. In twenty years co-operation has made remarkable progress; on the 1st of July, 1890, the National Federation included only 3,007 societies, while on the 1st of July 1900, the number had increased to 13,636, and not withstanding that they are now extended over the whole of Germany, their number still continues to increase.

During the past year, 1911-12, there have sprung up 1,561 new agricultural co-operative societies, while 259 have been dissolved, thus the net increase was 802. In 15 years this figure was only exceeded in the year 1900-01. This fact is the more remarkable, as at the present time cooperation is increased more by the admission of new members into already established societies than by the formation of new societies. The progress made during the last year was partly due to the dryness of the weather and disease in cattle, both causing heavy losses to the German farmer, who thereby learned to appreciate more highly the benefits of cooperation.

The branch of cooperation most widely extended is that of the loan and savings banks. Of these, on the 1st of June, 1912, there were 16,774. There were besides 2,417 cooperative societies for purchase and sale, 1,475 cooperative dairies and 8,360 societies for other purposes. The cooperative principle is now applied to almost every branch of agriculture enterprise, and to the various industries dependent on agriculture.

Can we not have something like this in our county?—Greensboro News.

WALNUT NEWS.

Mr. Fox and Miss Nettie McDevitt, were married, in Knoxville, Tenn., Jan. 25th. Nettie is the youngest daughter, of Dr. A. J. McDevitt of Walnut. She will be missed in Walnut, because she is a good girl and full of life. Mr. Fox, is the sawyer at Runion, and from what we can learn of him, he is a christian gentleman, and nothing better could be said of any man.

Mr. J. M. Ramsey and Mr. Clyde McClure were in Asheville, last week.

Rev. McCarter, of Mars Hill, preached a good sermon in Walnut last Sunday.

Mr. Charlie Brazile has been sick for the past two weeks.

Rev. Tom Cole, will be at Dry Branch, next Saturday and Sunday. He will baptize and also organize a Free Will Baptist Church at that time.

H. Chandler preached at Hopewell last Sunday.

What about those parents who do not attend church and Sunday school. Who do not take any interest in the betterment of their country, but spend the Sabbath days loafing around and telling all kinds of filthy tales. I am not astonished when I see the children of such parents, non church and Sunday school goers. I am not astonished when I see those children loafing, dancing, drinking, playing cards and into all kind of sin on the Sabbath day. I will not be astonished if those boys go to the chain-gang or something worse. I also will not be astonished if those children make their bed in hell, for they have not had the training that they should have had. So let the parents wake up and take better interest in their children, know where they are on Sunday, see that they are in church and Sunday school. Be there with them and when your days are numbered you will be glad of the course you have taken.

A FOX STORY.

Editor News-Record:—will you allow a little space in your columns for a story from Runion N. C?
On Wednesday 29-inst. It was reported in our town, that an old sly Fox had slipped out of his den, and slyly caught one of Madisons, charming daughters, this bold adventure so aroused the young men of our town as soon as they was apprised of the fact. They assembled their forces with all the implements of war that they could command and set chase to try to capture the supposed intruder. At about 8 o'clock p. m. they struck his trail and finally they routed him and then the race was on for about 2 1/2 hours, they routed him and scouted from place to place until finally they treed him, and no finer piece of game has been landed in these woods in a long time, than this old fox and his prey. So to-day the hunters all look sad, from the fact I suppose that they are not such lucky sportsmen as the sly old fox.
Wishing the fox and his Better half a long and happy life. And lots of fun for The News Record.
I am yours truly,
The man in Overalls.
Mr. Fox head sawyer at Runion and Miss Nettie McDevitt were married last week and the above pleasantry comes from his companions at Runion. We wish the newly married couple a long and happy life.

STANLEY MITCHELL IS TO GET SALARY OF $1,275.

Asheville Boy Was Forced to Resign From Navy on Account of Consumption, is Retired With Pay.
(BY PARKER R. ANDERSON.)
Washington, Feb. 3.—The house judiciary committee today voted to report the Webb liquor bill out of committee. A vote will be taken Wednesday and indications are that the measure will pass by a large majority.
The senate today passed the resolution introduced by Senator Overman placing Stanley Mitchell, of Asheville, on the retired list. Young Mitchell while a cadet at Annapolis contracted tuberculosis and was forced to resign. The secretary of war recommended against placing him on the retired list with pay of an ensign. Senator Overman appealed the case to the senate. Today's action gives Mitchell an annual salary of $1,275.
Mr. Stanley Mitchell is the son of Prof. Mitchell who was principal of our school here some years ago.

A Country of Homes.

Did you ever give thought to the fact that it is largely due to the material aid and encouragement given by banks and bankers that this is a country of homes and home owners?

Do you realize that this aid and encouragement, which has been such a help in making improvements and advancing property values, was possible only because many people deposited in banks their surplus money, the money for which they had no immediate use?

Individually these accounts were small, collectively they stand for the world's progress.

Identify yourself with the movement for making this a better town, a better trading point and a more prosperous community of home owners by opening an account with the Citizen Bank.

Four per cent paid on time deposits.
