HANFORD'S Balsam of Myrrh

Strains, Stiff Nock, Chilblains, Lame Back, OldSores, Open Wounds, and all External Injuries. Made Since 1846. Ask Anybody Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 All Dealers a. c. Hanford Mig. C. SYRACUSE, N. Y.

Kaiser's Long Pedigree. Among the curiosities of the New Pal ace, Potsdam, which has been the scene of a fire, is a genealogical tree showing the name of King David en grossed at the root of it, with that of the kaiser at the top, the descent being traced through his mother's fam-

According to this genealogy the reigning house of Great Britain is descended from David through the eldest daughter of Zedekiah, who fled to Ireland in charge of the Prophet Jere miah, and eventually married Here mon, king of Ulster. Apparently the kaiser is fond of gazing upon this proof of his ancient lineage, for it occupies a conspicuous position in his study.

Uncle Josh's Joke.

"Gee!" said old Uncle Josh, as the wail from the parlor waxed louder female summer boarder'd stop that infernal practisin" on her singin' fer a leetle. She hez a voice like a fish." "Like a fish?" demanded Mrs. Josh, scornfully. "Ya-as," said Uncle Josh. "Mostly Weekly.

USE ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE, the Antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes for tired, sching feet. It takes the sting out of corns and businoss and makes walking a delight. Sold everywhere, 25c. Refuse sub-stitutes. For FRES trial package, address A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y. Adv.

The only people who have no regret for anything they ever said are those who have never said anything of importance.

DOES YOUR HEAD ACHE?
Try Hicks' CAPUDINE. It's liquid—pleasant to take—effects tumediate—good to prevent Bick Headaches and Nervous Headaches also.
Your money back if not satisfied. 10c., 25c. and Roc. at medicine stores. Adv.

Fitting Fate. "They are going to muzzle the protruding hatpin now." "I'm glad-it's stuck."

FOR WEAKNESS AND LOSS OF APPE-TITE.

The Old Suspdard general strengthening tonic, GROVES TASTELLES chill TONIC drives out Ma-laria and builds up the system. A true tonic and sure Appellage. For actule and children. So cents.

And some men talk to themselves because they like an appreciative audience.

THOSE HEADACHES

If accompanied with backsche, dragging-down pain, do not have to be. Nature never intended that women should suffer in this

Dr. Pierce's FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

For forty years has proved won-derfully efficient as a remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses

HIRITARIA Your Drugglet has it in Stock

SPECIAL TO WOMEN Do you realize the fact that thousands of women are now using as a remedy for mucous membrane af-fections, such as sore throat, nasal or pelvic catarrh, inflammation or ulceration, caused by female ills? Women who have been cured say "it is worth its weight in gold." Dissolve in water and apply locally. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women.

For all hygienic and tollet uses it has no equal. Only 50c a large box at Drugor sent postpaid on receipt of The Paxton Tollet Co., Boston,

TAKE THE AGHE OUT OF HEADAGE READAGH TABLETS

MENY CO., REWPORT BEWS, VA.

ADMITS HE'S A "LITTLE GREEN"

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall are not enthusiastic over their new honors and surroundings at Washington. They are trying hard to settle, so that they can be as happy and comfortable as they were at Columbia City before they went to Indianapolis to take possession of the executive mansion.

"I hope to like it here after I get onto the ropes," said Mr. Marshall the other day. "I am a little green, and I know that everybody in Washington knows it, but I really think I'll like it after I get the hang of "My life has been made a little burdensome by job hunters who think that I am a real pie counter man. Nine-tenths of my letters are applications for positions.

"But it is all right, and in time I will be on the earth again. Back in Indiana I was sentenced. Here I will be. As St. Paul says, 'Not that I speak in respect of want; for I have learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content."

"Speaking of patronage, my patronage extends to a driver of the monorail car from the Capitol to the Senate Office building (if they ever get it going), and a messenger, a stenographer and a page. I have filled all of those important places. If I tried to influence the senators in their distribution of offices I would soon lose their respect and friendly feeling for me. I have seen enough already to know that I am not to become a very active dispenser of party pie.

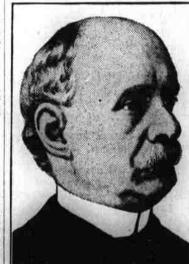

"I have enjoyed my first days in Washington. I am not quite at home presiding over the senate, but with the thoughtful and considerate help of the senators I will get on. I am learning the rules, which is more of a task even than committing the shorter catechism, which I had to do frequently when a boy. I rather think, however, that I will enjoy it after a while.

"Living in a hotel is new to me. I have been fortunate in having a home. My father was a country physician and we always had a home. It was our and more piercing. "I wish that there home, even if it was not much of a house.

"I told Mrs. Marshall the other day that all that I had got out of politics, aside from the genuine pleasure of being one of the people, is the promise of the distinguished honor of being buried from an undertaking establishment if I should happen to die while at a Washington hotel.

"Maybe, after the extra session is over and we settle for the first regular session of congress, we will be in a house. I am not rich, but I never lived scales an' flatter'n hokey."-Harper's in a rented house until I was governor of Indiana."

KING'S SECRETARY SOON TO RETIRE

"There," said a journalist, indicating Lord Knollys, calm, suave and imperturbable, at the time when the coronation of the late King Edward had been postponed owing to his illness and rumors of probable abdication and other things were flying about, "stands the secret history. What a wealth of good paragraphs there would be if we could only get him to talk!"

It was a tribute to the man behind the throne who, after forty-five years of royal service as private secretary and friend to three monarchs-Queen Victoria, King Edward and King George-is about to retire, says London Tit-Bits. What an absorbing story of the inner side of court life Lord Knollys could unfold! King Edward trusted him implicitly, regarding him as an intimate friend and companion, as well as secretary and edviser, invariably relying on his judgment and having no secrets from

"Francie," as he was wont to call his lordship. It is extremely unlikely, however, that the world will ever be taken into garding his long association with the royal fam- ferred." On the contrary, advertiseily, for he is a man who talks little and writes less. "No man ever knew so much and said so little," was a remark of the late archbishop of Canterbury about him. He has been described as the most silent, yet the most tactful.

NEW ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF NAVY

For the second time New York state furnishes a Roosevelt as assistant secretary of the navy. The illustrious Theodore served in that capacity under McKinley, and now his cousin, Franklin D. Roosevelt, but a sturdy Democrat, has been appointed to the same post.

Franklin D. Roosevelt is a fighter, too, but in a manner different from that of our ex-president. The springbok and the deceitful dik-dik need not fear him, and it is unlikely that he will ever lead a charge up San Juan hill or any other hill. The biggest game that Franklin D. Roosevelt has ever attacked was the Tammany tiger and the striped cat got by far the worst of the encounter. Roose-velt in 1910 was elected state senator from Dutchess, Columbia and Putnam counties and at once led a bolt against the party leaders at Albany, who were committed to the candidacy of William Sheehan for United States senator. At the head of a little band of 21 men he kept up a long and hot fight until in the end James Aloysius O'Gorman was sent to Washington as junior senator from the Empire State, and that selection has proved a wise

Senator Roosevelt is thirty-one years old and is a fifth cousin of Theodore Roosevelt. There is a dual relationship, because the senator married a daughter of Elliott Roosevelt, a brother of the former president.

WALTER H. PAGE, ENVOY TO LONDON

Walter H. Page of Garden City Walter H. Page of Garden City.
L. L., editor of the World's Work and member of Doubleday, Page & Co., publishers, has accepted President Wilson's offer to be ambassador to Great Britain.
The selection of Mr. Page estab

The selection of Mr. Page estab-lishes that President Wilson has not abandoned his announced policy of choosing men for his important diplomatic posts without regard to their wealth. Indeed it can be stated that Mr. Page is another of the list of comparatively pour men to whom of comparatively poor men to whou President Wilson has offered ambas sadorships.

Although he has been a successful publisher, as well as a litertary man of attainment, Mr. Page's means are moderate. Mr. Page demurred at accepting the appointment on the grounds that he did not have the fortune to maintain the American embassy in the style which has been customary in the past. The president that he did not think it necessary for phaseadors to live lavishly, regardless of pilat the custom has been in the

Mr. Page is a Morth Carolinan, and a brother of Rep. R. N. Page.

(Conducted by the National Woman's

DECLINE IN USE OF LIQUOR

Amazing Decrease In London of Use of Wines and Spirits—Much Credit Given Mrs. Henderson.

"A Woman's Diary" in The Queen newspaper the other Saturday declared that: "Temperance is a sign of the twentieth century. No one who knows their London-that is, of the West End and the smart restaurant-can fail to be impressed by the amazing decrease in the use of wine and spirits. Champagne, port, and other expensive wines have almost disappeared; even at suppers the ever-present mineral water is by no means inconspicuous. . The woman of today has become a water drinker, or, in strict truth, a drinker of barley water or lemonade. Diet cures, the care of her complexion, and a desire to lead the simple life have brought about this transformation. It does one good to see that children and young girls are now total abstainers. Even the smart girls who go about in London seldom or never drink wine, but content themselves with lemonade, and this even at ball suppers in the early hours of the morning."

In reply to assertions occasionally seen in the press that Washington society women are drinking more every year, Mrs. John B. Henderson, wife of a former senator from Missouri, is quoted as saying that both men and women drink less than when she first went to Washington. "Some of the smartest women in town do not serve liquor at all, and even in the diplomatic corps the use of liquor is not so general as it was a few years ago, she declared. "I have not served wines at my dinners for many years. The substitution of fruit juices and mineral water no longer causes remark. I attribute the decline in the use of liquor to the general interest in hygiene. Strict observance of the laws of health is distinctly fashionable. Women are cultivating health, strength and beauty, and they forego ahead of that grown slowly. any indulgence that would overthrow the rules of health."

Some years ago Mrs. Henderson, whose palatial home was one of Washington's social centers, caused all the wines in her cellars to be emptied into the gutter, and her influence has been no small factor in bringing about the change in sentiment.

DO NOT ADVERTISE SALOONS

Booster Never Makes Prominent Mention of Number of Drinking Places Town Could Boast Of.

Did you ever know of a town or county or state which deliberately advertised itself as being possessed of numerous saloons and places where liquor could be purchased? Did you ever read a "booster" that enumerated at the head of its column, or at the foot, the number of saloons of which the town advertised could boast? An employer never puts in his advertisement for help, "Drinking man prements appear even in the liquor journals for sober and abstinent employes, and to quote the Battle Creek Enquirer, "The argument that a wet county is better than a dry county never goes past campaign use-it never gets into community advertis-

FRAUGHT WITH UNTOLD RISKS

Chance of the Next Generation Looking at the Alcohol Question in Its True Light.

If we can safeguard the young to the utmost, and not only keep alcohol away from them, but make them realize from early years the terrible ills that it brings to body and soul, then there may be some chance of the next generation looking at the whole subject in its true light, and our children's children may realize that abstinence is not fanaticism or asceticism, but rational self-control in respect to something which is fraught with untold risks .- Sir Thomas Barlow, Physician to the Late King Ed-

Grand Jury on Liquor Business. The grand jury of Christian county. Illinois. on December 30 last, embodied in its report the following paragraph: Be It Resolved, That we deem it high time this nation dissolved partnership with this family-wrecking and soul-destroying business, as seven-tenths of our findings are caused directly or indirectly by the use of li-

Boys Neglected.
"You legislators pass laws for the protection of the birds and the akunks—why not protect the boys also?"—Mrs. Florence D. Richard, president of the Ohio W. C. T. U., at a legislative hearing on the lice

Brower's Hope.

The church people can drive us when they try, and we know it. Our hope is in working after they grew tired, and continuing to work $65 days in the year.—New York Brower.

Was Satisfied.

A working man, who was recently asked by an orealconkeeper of his town to sign a polition to bring back the saloon, refused emphatically, saying, "Three years ago, under saloors, I had a mortgage on my home and you were getting all my money. New the mortgage is paid and I can gui my hand on a bunch of money."

Segregate ailing fowls.

Systematize the farm work.

A poor halter, a spoiled colt.

Keep plenty of pure water before the Start cucumber seeds in the house or a cold frame. Old hens make the best mothers out pullets are the best layers. In fitting horses for hard work, increase the grain ration, but not the

If there were tewer whips in the world there would be fewer ugly

As the lambs grow and require more milk, increase the grain with judgment

Good seed corn is one of the most important factors in producing a good yield.

No man can tell whether corn will grow or not without making a germination test.

Eleven dozen eggs per year is s fair average for hens and pullets kept in large flocks. To kill Canada thistles in a field, put the field in some cultivated crop and keep the weeds down . When lambs are grown rapidly the quality of the meat is far and away

Lighting ventilation and cleanliness must be practiced before best results can be secured in the dairy. To insure vigorous lambs, careful attention must be given the ewes while they are carrying the lambs. Stop and think about the water supply. It should be secured from a source uncontaminated by impurities. There is no feeding value in dust and mud for the swine; feed them on a plank floor, or on one made of concrete.

Hogs should not as a rule be turned into more corn at one time than they can eat up clean in two or three weeks.

Pasturing grass too soon or too hard is an expensive way of saving feed; it costs several times the amount of but they need a little extra encouragement to make five-pound pullets Thanksgiving time. Here's a chance to show your ingenuity: See if you cannot build the

It's all right for chickens to scratch, iew chicken coops so they will be a little easier to clean. You can rightfully expect more fer tile eggs from hens that get plenty of green food than from those that lived on dry grains all winter, Did you ever think how much ground a good ear of corn will plant? It is just that much ground wasted if you plant a poor ear.

Give the cow an opportunity to do her best, then submit her to the Babcock test and milk scales before condemning her performance.

Stunt the colt its first year and you have stunted it for life. Blood may tell, but it often tells tales of crue treatment and foolish masters.

If the butter does not "come" at the expiration of half an hour some-thing is wrong. Look first at the tem-perature and then for other causes.

The horse that is all the time being tapped with the whip never knows what his master means of it, and comes to think he means just nothing.

With hogs it is not best to crowd the breeding stock to their full ca-pacity. A thrifty growth without too much fat is best for the stock intended

If the stable should be a little too cold, or a "cold snap" comes when the lambs are young sew soft wool-en blankets on the little fellows. Such attention pays, and pays well.

When plowing the land for parenips and other deep-growing root plants, plow deep and keep the manure down deep; otherwise you will have a lot of surface roots instead of the long, straight roots desired.

Prof. F. B. Mumford says the silo will add from 20 to 15 per cent to the profits of the corn crop. Some give even higher estimates. In 1909 the state of Kansas had only sirily-two silos, while now there are more than two thousand and more in sight.

Psonies are beginning to rival the rose. The amateurs should by no means neglect them; for they are free from pests, need little attention, and bloom year after year with the greatest freedom. But beware of planting them too deeply which mistake is often the explanation of lack of flowers. The crown should have but two inches of soil over it.

Pigs fatten on skimmus.

Avoid keeping too many horses. The demand for horses increases

The average calf is a badly neg

Unless a sow is too thin in flesh, do not feed corn.

The yolk of the egg spoils much ulcker than the white. An exclusive corn ration seldon brings the best results

A pig gives the best returns from dairy products while young.

Sifted coal ashes are not fertilisers but they are good soil lighteners.

Duck raisers claim that a hawk will never attempt to steal a duckling.

If you positively must hurry your horses, hurry them up hill, not down. Clean all home-grown seed, and grade, so only the largest seed can be Prepare to keep the young pigs growing from the hour they enter the A little carelessness may result in the loss of a part of or a whole litter of pigs. For early lettuce, the common curly kind does the best. Head lettuce comes on later. Have those fruit trees and plants been ordered and the land made ready to set them out?

Little things in poultry keeping are like pieces of lead; they weigh more than you think they will.

Fine rotted manure from the stables may be applied with great benefit to the grass if spread early. A chill brought on by the udder coming in contact with frosty ground is apt to ruin your best cow. The time to get a thing is when it is there. The time to get the apple worm is before he gets inside. Better keep the hens in the house soaked and take rheumatism. The eggs plant is one of the least known garden vegetables, and one that deserves better being known.

on cold, rainy days, or they will get

Be sure the sows have plenty of pure water to drink, aside from the slop they have. Slop is not drink.

Time to get some fine manure on to grow thick and heavy this summer. When pigs should be weaned should be determined as much as how they are eating and growing as upon their

If from a well-nourished dam and a healthy strain of animals the pigs rarely need attention at farrowing time.

Do give the later summer hatched chicks a chance to eat their meals without being run over by the other birds.

she is a year old will disappoint her Short singletrees, with ends covered with leather or burlap, will not bark the trees while working in the orchard. Although there is little data on the subject, alfalfa silage of good quality would certainly make an excellent hog feed.

Plenty of rotted manure on the rhu barb bed will make the plants ready for cutting a week or two earlier than otherwise.

It costs a good deal of money to buy a satisfactory team. In most cases this can be avoided by the farmer raising his own. Protein that is grown upon the farm is often more valuable than that which is purchased in concentrated form, and it is also cheaper. As soon as the ewes have dropped their lambs, and all danger of fever and caked udder is past, most liberal feeding should be practiced.

The tiliage, the crops and the in-come from the farm are all more or less dependent upon the economical

Strawberries will do better on some soils than others, but there is not a farm in Mail and Breeze land that cannot be made to grow them.

It is as idle and useless to expect good crops from inferior seed as it would be to endeavor to bred thorghbred cattle from scrub stock Eighty-five per cent, of a pound of ids other than fat, that were in the ture, sait and a small amount of sol-ids other than fat, that were in the Old berry boxes, tin cans and paper, pots are excellent for transplanting cabbage, tomato and other early vege-tables into until they can be set in the field.

Do not let the colts run down in con-ltion on frost-bitten grass. They my fill up, but the nourishment inn't here. A lose in the condition of a rowing colt is a most serious one.

Liquid manure offers one of the best means to keep up the flagging spirits of the garden in a dry season and whenever growth seems to lag. It is ensily made by filling a cheesecloth bag with fresh manure and suspending it in a tub or cash filled with water.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

HAS A PETRIFIED WATERFALL

ORPHINE

One of the Natural Wonders of the World That is Located in Country of Algeria,

With all the beauty of a catarract of living water, there is in Algeria a remarkable petrified waterfall which recently has been engaging the attention of scientists. This is the Hammam-Meskhutin, which means "The bath of the damned." and is located 62 miles from Constantine. This solidified cascade is the production of calcareous deposits from sulphurous and ferruginous mineral springs, issuing from the depths of the earth at a temperature of 95 degrees centigrade. "The bath of the damned," even from a near viewpoint, looks for all the world like a great wall of water dashing into a swirling pool at its foot, yet its gleaming, graceful curves and the apparently swirling eddies at its base are as fixed and immovable as if carved from the face of a granite cliff. Many centuries have, of course, gone to the making of the deposits, and the springs were well known to the ancient Romans. The name Hammam-Meskhutin was given to the stone cataract in an allusion to a legend that the waterfall was petrifled by Allah, punishing the implety of un-believers by turning all the members of the tribe into stone. At night, so the story runs, its stone dwellers of the remote ages are freed from their strange fetters, come to life and resume their normal shapes.

the lawn if you want the bluegrass Street Ethics in Chicago. A law has been enacted in Prussia which makes it a prison offense for any one to fail to answer a cry for help or to go to the rescue of a person in danger when it is possible to do so without endangering one's own life. Such a law would not be amiss in Chicago. Not only ethics, but or-dinary decency and manliness are too frequently forgotten here. Let a thug assault a person in the street and the majority of men who happen along, instead of going to the assistance of the person assaulted, will scurry away so as not to be dragged into the affair. Let a person be injured by a street As a general proposition it may be car half the people who with said that the sow that has pigs before accident will refuse to give their names to be called upon as witnesses by the victim. Whether all the ethics of citizenship can be enforced effectively through laws and ordinances may be doubted, yet the legal declaration of some primary duties would help to develop a conscience in such matters now apparently sadly lacking.—Chicago Tribune.

A Negative Merit. She—Have you any strawberries? Dealer—Yes'm. Here they are, a quarter a box. She Goodness! They're miserable looking, and so green.

Dealer—I know, mum, but there ain't enough in a box to do you any harm. The Kind. "I wonder if people in Mara have dogs."
"If they do, they must be moon

Everybody From Kid To Grandad

Likes

Post Toasties

Thin, crisp bits of white Indian Com, cooked to perfection and toasted to a delicate brown without the touch of human hand.

You get them in the sealed package

Ready to Eat

A dish of Post Toesties for breakfast and hmch. with thick cream or rich fruit juice, in a dish that epicures might chortle over.

Nourishing, economical, delicious, "more ish."