A Thought For The Week.

Let your Christmas Gifts carry with them the true Christmas Spirit. They need not bear the marks of great cost. The true Christmas gift is not measured by the dollar mark, but by the spirit that prompts the giver.

TYRANNY.

In this day of enlightenment the spirit of American fairness has found its way into every home, whether palace or hovel, whether on mountain or plain, and public opinion will not fail to mark the man who abuses his power. It was said of Lincoln that he never abused his power except upon the side of mercy. Lincoln will be remembered and loved so long as history lasts. Had he abused his powers upon the side of tyranny he would have been remembered but not imitated by all mankind. In all this land, broad and free, there's not a nook or corner where tyranny finds a welcome and wherever the rights of this people are entrusted to one of our citizens, woe unto him if he wabbles from the path of justice, rectitude and right. If the siren of tyranny sings let him remember that there are rocks upon which the bark of every tyrant has been wrecked; let him remember that he who embezzles power because of malice, that he who abuses power because of bias will feel the swift verdict of an indignant public.

TEACHES LESSON OF LOVE

Christmas the Season of All Others
Where Its Beauties May Be Learned Anew.

LOVE is the keynote of the Christmas season. The greatest mystery of life is love. Who has not sought to sound its unspeakable depths? Who has not felt its all-compelling power? Who has not surrendered to its irresistible force?

Romances are built about it. Wars have been fought for it and religions based upon it.

Love is the dream of the poet, the puzzle of the philosopher, the theme of the novelist and the song of the minstrel.

Love links all the human race. Its note of victory is heard in the royal court and in the peasant's cottage. The song of love is on the lips of the proudest queen and of her humblest subject.

It is the stimulus of parental affection in the home and of patriotism in the nation. Brave men die for it and noble women perish that they may bear its sweet incense with them to the grave.

How sweet and tender is this splendid attribute of mankind! In its smiling presence, anger, bitterness and strife melt away. How much more has the world to hope for from love than from envy, malice and hatred!

In this period of world-wide distrust, of resentment against economic conditions, of protest against authority, human and divine, and widespread defiance of law, can we not turn aside at this Christmas season for a moment and learn anew the lesson of love?

When we shall have learned that lesson, we shall also know the better and fuller meaning of obedience, contentment and peace.

A YEAR OF PLENTY.

The Christmas trees nod in the breeze; The candy from them drops; And folks declare they'll surely bear The heaviest of crops.
—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Christmas-Tide.

"The twelve days of Christmas," embracing the period between Christmas eve, December 24, and Epiphany, of Twelfth Night, January 6, is unknown as Christmas-tide. Great as the feast of Christmas is, nothing can be definitely traced as to its origin, nobody knows who first celebrated it, or when or where, or how. We find that various communities of Christians kept the day on different dates until about the middle of the fourth century, when Pope Julius established the festival at Rome, on December 25. The holidays of the year are the red letter days of its calendar. Among them all, Christmas is unique, inasmuch as it brings universal joy and good will. Let the nations, therefore, rejoice and be glad in the gift of the world's greatest life.—Jennie Day Haines.

ONE THING LACKING.

"Oh, Kitty! if we only had a piece of candy to put on it, wouldn't it be just lovely!"

"THERE!"

The Past and the Future.
Carry into the new year only the choicest thoughts and inspirations. As in the olden days when men approached the Parthenon they cleansed their persons and arrayed themselves in white robes before entering that glorious temple, so cleanse your garments from transgression, clothe yourself with aspirations. Farewell to the past! Welcome and all hail to the future!—Newell Dwight Hillis.

At the House where the Reindeer stopped
That drew the Sleigh
That carried the Pack
That Santa Claus brought at Christmas.

This is the Hearth, where, all in a row,
The stockings hung waiting for Santa, you know;
They hung by the Chimney big and wide
That Santa Claus climbed down inside
At the House where the Reindeer stopped
That drew the Sleigh

That Santa Claus brought at Christmas.

This is the Stocking long and fine
That the little girl hung at the end of the line
There by the Hearth, where, all in a row,
The stockings hung waiting for Santa, you know;
They hung by the Chimney big and wide

DIARY FOR CHRISTMAS GIFT

Peculiar but Pleading Remembrance
Showing Absent Friend Was in Mind of Donor.

On Thanksgiving day a man fell down and began to write to a distant friend. But he wrote only a few lines, and laid it aside. The next day he took up the pen, put down the new date, diary-fashion, and wrote some item of news of interest to them both.

So each day from Thanksgiving till Christmas he added something to the letter, as he would in a diary, sending and mailing it just in time to reach his friend on Christmas morning. At the top he had written this message:

"This is all the gift you get from me this year; but it carries more thought of you and more love, I think, than do some more costly ones I am sending. But just put it in your pocket for a safe January day. It will keep."

And this was a letter from a man to a man! Damon and Pythias, David and Jonathan still live in our present American business world.—Mother's Magazine.

PRESENTS BOUGHT FOR SHOW

Exploiting One's Own Vanity in Bestowal of Gifts is Poor Policy.

The most miserable Christmas present, the kind that no human being is rich enough to afford, is that which is bought to make a show, to exploit one's own vanity.

When you are tempted to buy a "show off" present, remember that the recipient has some rights. One who understands will be made unhappy by that kind of gift. You know yourself that when you receive a present that represents a great sacrifice on the part of the giver it makes you feel miserable, even when the right spirit is behind it.

The cost in money is about the poorest of measures for any kind of a gift. The thoughtfulness in it, the recognition of a desire for things unasked for, the affection that goes with it, counts for much more. Every Christmas each of us receives a message that means more than the most expensive gift. Yet we forget that sometimes in the perplexing selection of presents for others.—Woman's Home Companion.

LIFE

Is What You Make It

IT CAN BE A SUCCESS OR A FAILURE.
WHICH WILL IT BE WITH YOU?

Look at the men who are successful in the eyes of the world. Ninety nine out of every hundred started a bank account when they were young—And stuck to it.

And now, look at the failures. Mighty few of them have a bank account now. Not speaking of when they were young.

Perhaps you think you have not enough money to start an account. Haven't you a dollar? That's all it takes.

Just try it for a year or six months. If you do not wish to continue it you have lost nothing by the trial.

WHICH WILL IT BE—SUCCESS OR FAILURE?
IT'S UP TO YOU.
