"Calla Lily" is the flour that gives perfect satisfaction, note the difference of how it looks in the sack to any other. It has that white cream appearance as though it was so rich that it would really need no seasoning, the others has a starchy dull color, there's a reason, Calla Lily is made of the very best sort of wheat that grows, and is manufactured on one of the best Mills and by perhaps the best miller in the South.

Demand Calla Lily and your merchant will get it for you, we want every good Merchant to send me their orders and not wait till they get out.
