Recorder's Court

It has been a joy to us to attend the court the few times that we have been there and see the way the Judge handles the cases and we must confess to a feeling of admiration for Judge and Solicitor in the way they have cleared the docket and the perfect justness of the decisions in the face of a most difficult course. It behooves the public in general to show their appreciation of the utility of this court and make the officers feel that the good citizens are back of them. It is not an invidious comparison to say that a better choice could not have been made for officers and we wish for these men all the success in the world and may they continue to do as they have in the past and we are sure that as Mr. Sams said in last weeks edition, we will come to feel that no wiser law was ever passed for our county. Our congratulations are given to Judge Ramsey and to Solicitor McElroy. May they long continue in the place they have to give the county wise decisions and steady prosecution of transgressors of the law.

Avoid Stuffy Wheezy Breathing

Take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for an inflamed and congested condition of the air passages and bronchial tubes. A cold develops quickly if not checked and bronchitis, grippe and pneumonia are dangerous possibilities. Harsh racking coughs weaken the system, but Foley's Honey and Tar is safe, pure and certain in results. Contains no opiates.

—Dr. I. E. Burnett, Mars Hill, N. C.

SELF CONTROL.

Massinger has truly said, "He that would govern others, first should be the master of himself." Again in the words of St. Just, "Keep cool, and you command every body."

How about it, do you stop to think when you lose control of your temper? In this moment of passion do you not do things that gives you heart-ache and pangs of remorse? Why? Because of the lack of self control, and knowing how to keep cool when occasion demands it.

Compare, will you, Mrs. Livingston, the mother of the missionary, and Mrs. Byron, the mother of the poet. The one had a calm christian temper, that made her life one of usefulness. The other had an uncontrolled explosive temper that almost ruined her life.

Nothing in the lives of ordinary men and women makes such havoc and ruin as yielding to sudden fits and passions of anger. How sweet the solemnity of self control.

Plain Truth that's Worth Money

Using Foley's Honey and Tar for a cough or cold may save you both sickness and money. F. F. Monahan, Menomonee, Wis., says: I am exposed to all kinds of weather and I find Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always fixes me up in good shape when I catch cold or have a bad cough. I recommend it gladly." Refuse substitutes.—Dr. I. E. Burnett, Mars Hill, N. C.

Entertainment

Marshall after a season of rest is to have an entertainment that is worth while and one that will please every one if they will but attend. A committee of the citizens have made a contract with the Radcliffe Bureau to have one of its attractions come here and give the entertainment on next Saturday evening. These citizens have made themselves responsible for the amount charged and it is up to the public to reimburse them for the amount guaranteed. The entertainment is a company of four men who are known all over the South and known to many of the men of the town. Two of them are old confederate veterans who sing the old songs of the south and are received everywhere with crowded houses. It is an entertainment worth much more than is charged to see it here. It has shown in Asheville and in Morristown and last year was in New York and Washington in the Y. M. C. A. The entertainment is of a high standard because it has been shown in churches. The admission will be 50 cents, 35 and 25 cents. Children at the latter price. We hope that every one may come out and see it to help along the life of Marshall. If there is any surplus the amount will be given to the Board of Trade to help boom our town and place it before the public. Every body come out.

Just right for Backache and Rheumatism

Foley Kidney Pills are so thoroughly effective for backache, rheumatism swollen, aching joints, kidney and bladder ailments that they are recommended everywhere. A. A. Jeffords, McDrew, Nebr., says: "My druggist recommended Foley Kidney Pills for pains in my back, and before I finished one bottle, my old trouble entirely disappeared."—Dr. I. E. Burnett, Mars Hill, N. C.

The Bootlegger

We read in some paper a half way defence of the bootlegger by the argument that the buyer was to blame and the seller went into the business to satisfy the demand. If that is an argument, it is a specious one and on the face of it would lead many to say that the seller of liquor is to a certain extent justified in selling. To us it is false and one question alone would cause it to fall. Is the bootlegger in business for altruistic motives or does he sell for the gain that is in it? We are persuaded that no one goes into that business for the reason that he is doing a favor and as soon as the favor is done goes out of business but he is there because he is making money and as soon as he does not make money he quits. So he seeks customers and as soon as it is known that he is selling he does not lack customers amongst the class that drinks. Another thing is that the writer of this does not believe fines unless that fine is as great as the amount made in the sale of liquor and something beyond that because anything less than the amount made is only a license paid to sell and the man will sell again because it was not a fine that hurt but only a license a little high. Take all his profits and a little to hurt and then you will stop the bootlegging and not till then.
