BUILT A MONUMENT The Best Sort in the World.

"A monument built by and from Postum," is the way an Illinois man describes himself. He says:

"For years I was a coffee drinker until at last I became a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia, constipation, headaches and indigestion.

'The different kinds of medicine l tried did not cure me, and finally some one told me to leave off coffee and take up Postum. I was fortunate in having the Postum made strictly ac-

"I am really a monument built by Postum, for I was a physical wreck distressed in body and mind, and am now a strong, healthy man. I know exactly what made the change; it was leaving off coffee and using Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Well-

Warehouse For Anson.

Wadesboro.-The low price of cotton now and the prospect of its continuing to be low this fall caused the bustness men of this place to seriously consider the erection of a bonded ware house for Anson county. Farmers throughout the country would gladly welcome a plan that would assure them a place to secure some money upon their crops without being forced to sell at low prices. Owing to several fires that have recently occurred in Wadesboro the necessity of an extension of the water mains has become a widely discussed problem.

DISPATCHES FROM RALEIGH

Doings and Happenings That Mark the Progress of North Carolina People Gathered Around the State Capitol.

Raleigh. "Moonlight Schools and Their Importance as an Educational Factor in the Life of the State," was the subject of State Supt. J. Y. Joyner's address before the meeting of the High School Conference, Mr. Joyner outlined the work the moonlight schools are doing, and showed the importance of teachers cooperating in the work. The schools are becoming more and more helpful; nearly every week shows a new one established somewhere in the state. "At present," said the speaker, "there are 14 moonlight schools in North Carolina. I hope to see the day when every county in the F. W. Mahler and T. W. Blake of state will have one or more such schools."

The conference closed with a thorough discussion of the farm life to get together easily when a meeting school idea. Prominent men identified with this work were here to take The most important resolution that part in the discussions and confer-

The disadvantages of the present system and the important points in the bill before the last legislature received attention at the meeting. E. Sams of the state department of education was requested to have read similar resolutions before teachers attending institutes throughout the state. All teachers attending summer schools were requested to endorse the bill.

Fire Protection For Forests.

State Geologist Joseph Hyde Pratt, just from the North Carolina Forestry Association conference closed at Montreat, is enthusiastic over the conference that was held between Federal and state forestry officials, owners of timber and railroad lands and municipal watersheds and resort forests, which, he says, is certain to bring about within a few months the comof forest for fire protection through the appointment of wardens and patrolmen and erection of lookout stations. This is to be through the use of the $2,000 that the federal government has allotted to this state and additional contributions provided by the owners of the forest that will be included in these protected areas. He expects that one including Mount Mitchell wil consist of 190,000 or more acres. There will be others as small as 10,000 or 20,000 acres each.

Governor Craig's Health Improves. There is much gratification kere at the news from Asheville that the health of Governor Craig, who is spending the summer in the mountains, is improving steadily now. The governor can scarcely be said to have enjoyed normal health conditions at any time thus far in his administration and many intimate with his condition have been very anxious on his account. On his recent trip North, just before he went to Asheville for the summer, the Govewor had himself thoroughly examined by a medical specialist in Philadelphia and subsequent treatment is understood to be developing in very satisfactory improvement. It was these conditions that led to the determination of the Governor to adjust the affairs of the executive offices here so that he could spend the summer in comparative quiet and rest in tne mountains around Asheville, leaving Col. J. P. Kerr, his private secre-

WANDERER RETURNS AND RE-WEDS WIFE

This Enoch Arden Story From California Has a "Happy Ending."

San Francisco, Cal.—A romance of the Enoch Arden type, bridging a gap of fifteen years, with separation, remarriage and lost affection as obstacles, has just found its "happy ending" here.

Fifteen years ago Herbert Winner of this city and his wife were divorced. He disappeared. Mrs. Winner, thinking him dead, married C. Lundberg, also of San Francisco. Mr. Lundberg died a year ago.

Some months later Mrs. Lundberg's father, happening to be in St. Helena, was amazed to meet Herbert Winner on the street. The wanderer inquired about his one-time wife and three daughters, and finally decided to return to San Francisco.

One of Mrs. Lundberg's daughters is Mrs. M. B. Higuera, and she, as well as the other daughters, did what they could to revive the old love between their parents. The result was that a few days ago Mr. Winner and Mrs. Lundberg were remarried under the ritual of the Seventh Day Adventists. earnest worker.

"They seem to love each other more than ever," said Mr. Higuera, who disclosed the romance, "and each seems sorry for the mistakes that separated as well as for the Governor and his of them years ago."

DIAGNOSED HIS OWN CASE

Noted Bakimore Surgeon Told Surgeons to Remove His Appendix as Well as Gallstones.

Baltimore.-A series of delicate operations successfully performed a few days ago at Johns Hopkins hospital upon Dr. Thomas S. Cullen, the noted surgeon, demonstrated that a complete diagnosis he had made of his condition while lying on the operating table was exactly correct.

Dr. J. M. T. Finney had charge of the operation, which started out to be for gallstones. In the few minutes of waiting the two men discussed the operation. Then it was that Doctor Cullen made the diagnosis.

He said he felt sure that there was something else wrong with him besides gallstones and that something else was an incipient case of appendicitis. He said that before the operation was over and himself out of the pendix. After most of the gallstones were removed it was found necessary to remove the appendix.
