Denounce Attack On Shop Em- ploye.

Denouncing as "unwarranted and cowardly" the act of "kidnapping and whipping" of Sam Harris, 17 year-old employe in the Southern railroad shops here, members of the local chapter of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers yesterday passed a resolution publicly expressing their unqualified opposition to lawless methods.

Four members of the local federated shop crafts, now on strike, are held under bond of $1,000 each for trial before Magistrate B. L. Lyda next Thursday, charged with assault on Harris. They are E. R. "Red" Henderson, E. G. KoKontz Lawrence Wright and Frank Briggs.

The resolution of the local engineers was passed at the regular monthly meeting of the organization, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and reads as follows:

"Whereas, we deeply deplore the kidnapping and whipping of the lad, Sam Harris, and as members of organized labor wish it known that we are opposed to such methods;

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we publicly denounced the act as unwarranted and cowardly."

Boy Kills Uncle

Robert Caldwell Dies of Wounds Inflicted By Bob Jarvis Sunday.

Robert Caldwell, aged 35, a farmer living near Catalooche, who was shot by his nephew, Bob Jarvis, aged 17, following a quarrel Sunday, died at a hospital here this morning. Jarvis disappeared after the shooting and has not been captured.

The dispute was over a horse belonging to Caldwell, which Jarvis wished to ride Sunday. The two argued the matter at the barn, according to information given the sheriff. Jarvis turned away, went to the house and secured a Winchester rifle. Returning he fired at Caldwell point blank, three shots taking effect. One bullet struck the eye, another the stomach, and the third lodged in the leg.

Caldwell, who bore a good reputation in the neighborhood, is survived by his wife.

Jarvis had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell for about a year. He formerly resided with his parents near Mars Hill. His father, now deceased, was once editor of the Marshall paper and later was in charge of the Bryson City newspaper.

Efforts are being made to apprehend Jarvis, who is said to be of slender build, with blue eyes.—Waynesville Courier.

Strike Your Flint And Try Again

By Jesse Daniel Boone,

If you fail and can't succeed,
If there is some pressing need,
If you've hindered by the rain,
Brace yourself and try again.

If some friend you thought was true
Disappoints, and you are blue,
Just remember this refrain:
"Strike your flint and try again."

If hard times have struck a blow,
And relief is seeming slow;
If you're sick and racked with pain,
Bite your lip and try again.

When obstructions, thick and hard
Meet you in your own front yard,
Face them squarely, make it plain
That you'll surely come again.

Let no handicap or fate
Knock you out or make you wait;
Let no hindrances obtain:
Strike your flint and try again.

When old Satan buffets you,
Work to make fond dreams come true
On your job you should remain,
If you mean to come again.

Must Not Hinder Yard Employes

Local officials of the Southern railway this morning issued instructions to special guards on duty at the railroad yards here, directing them to perform their duties with the minimum possible interference with the movement of employes who are coming or going in connection with their authorized duties.

An official of the railway said this morning that the management gladly took this step, which followed a friendly conference yesterday, when requests to that end were presented by a committee of five representatives of the Asheville chapters of the "Big Four" brotherhoods.

The official pointed out that it was scarcely possible for each special guard to know all the railroad employes so well as to be able instantly to single out intruders. As a result, guards at times have halted and examined persons, who were regularly employed and were going about their business in a proper way, it was said.

Though such occurrences necessarily are unavoidable at times, officials said, since every effort must be made by guards to protect the property thoroughly, at the same time needless interference with legitimate work or the employes on the trains and in the yards will not be allowed.

Says Papers Are Against Ku Klux

Murphy, Aug. 14.—A public meeting will be held at the school auditorium to-night, at which the principles of the Ku Klux Klan will be explained.

In a statement published in the Cherokee Scott, W. C. McConnell Jr., of Asheville, signing himself as Klange of the invisible empire, states the purpose of the meeting is to explain the principles of the Klan. "This is necessary," says Mr. McConnell's statement, "because of the fact that our enemies control the daily press of the country, and refuse to tell the whole truth about the Ku Klux Klan."

Mars Hill Opens Sessions Tuesday

THREE HUNDRED FIFTY STUDENTS EXPECTED.

One Of Most Successful Years In History Of School Predicted By Faculty.

Mars Hill College opens Tuesday, AUGUST 15th, with an enrollment of approximately 350 students, with practically all the dormitory space filled. One of the most successful of all the years since the college started is anticipated by those connected with the institution.

Registration will be on Tuesday and Wednesday. The opening address will be delivered Thursday by Rev. Dr. Albert R. Bond, Secretary of the Baptist Assembly Grounds at Ridgecrest, and a member of the Education Board of the church.

At an early date work will start on the new gymnasium. The plans are now being prepared by the architects. It is hoped to have the building ready for the year beginning next Fall.

A number of new teachers are included in the faculty this year, among these being Miss Mattie Ireland, of Louisville Ky., who will instruct in voice; W. H. Thompson, a graduate of Wake Forest and of John Hopkins University, who will have charge of courses in chemistry; and A. J. Flattery, for five years instructor at Fruitland Institute and lately one of the heads of Mt. View Institute, who will have charge of the Latin department.

Of the 350 enrollment expected is thought that three-fifths of this number will be boys and two fifths girls.

Make Efforts To Blow Up Car In Southern Yards.

Eleven Men In Car Under Which Dynamite Is Exploded.

Other Than Shock None Are Injured.

Charge of Dynamite Is Found At Switch In The Local Yards.

In an attempt to blow up a dining car in which 13 negro workmen were being served supper, in the yards of the Southern Railroad a short distance from the Shops, last night about 11:30 o'clock dynamite was placed under the end of the car and ignited by unknown parties.

Although all dishes were jarred from the tables, windows shattered, a door torn from its hinges and one end of the car damaged. The workmen escaped injuries and it is believed that the amount of dynamite used was not sufficient to carry out the plans to wreck the car.

The car, which is attached to a string of cars providing sleeping quarters and eating accommodations for laborers working in the shops since the strike of shopmen has been in progress, was entirely surrounded by guards at the time the dynamite exploded.

Coupled to the car under which the dynamite was placed, were cars in which white workmen were eating supper and if the cook car had been wrecked, these would also have been damaged.

It was stated that a switch engine passed on the tract next to the cars almost at the time of the explosion and it is believed that the party placing the dynamite under the car came through the yards on the engine. The act could only have been accomplished while the switch engine hid the party placing the dynamite from the view of the guards it is asserted.

It was learned last night that on Tuesday morning dynamite was found placed on a switch in the Asheville yards and found by a crew on a freight train bound for Knoxville and it is believed that this was placed in an effort to wreck the train. This dynamite it is stated, was found in the early hours of the morning.

The shock of the explosion under the cook car was heard for a distance of at least half a mile and workmen in the south end of the freight yards reported that the ground trembled from the explosion.

A negro in an upper berth of one of the sleeping cars, adjoining that under which the charge was placed was thrown from his berth to the floor.

Guards on duty are at a loss to explain how the party attempting to wreck the car arranged to pass without being seen, and the solution of having come in on the engine is believed to have solved the answer.

Supper Being Served To Workmen.

Supper is served the workmen from 11 o'clock until 12 o'clock and at the hour of the explosion

Church Doors Ought Never Be Locked.

"The value of church property in the United States is approximately $1,600,000,000. The buildings represent about $1,000,000,000. This is a great amount of money. And it does not take into account the value of the many works of art reposing in churches.

"Yet with the tremendous amount of money involved, the average church is used only about 6 hours a week, or 312 hours a year. It could be profitably used 24 hours a day without endangering its spiritual sanctity.

"The church is one of the bulwarks of our civilization. The community ought to revolve about it, but it does not always use the church for its center.

"The church is the logical place for community gatherings, for the dissemination of ideas, for uplift of citizenship; moreover, for the construction of a sounder community spirit. Church doors ought never to be locked, because the ideal church's doors are always open, offering a heaven for those who've been caught out in life's storm."

they had gathered for the meal. They were seated at the table eating when the dynamite exploded and several were slightly stunned.

Under the end of the car, over the wheels and just below a heavy beam, the woodwork was torn by the explosion and the pieces scattered along the track. The flooring was raised several inches at one end.

Bits of newspapers were scattered in a radius of several feet and it is believed that the dynamite was wrapped in the newspapers and while in the hands of parties placing it, would have resembled nothing more than a lunch carried by a workman. A number of southern newspapers were identified from the fragments, including Asheville Columbia and Atlanta.

Officers are already at work on several clues but at an early hour this morning were not prepared to make any statement.

Similar Attempt Made In Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., August 10. An apparent attempt was made late to-night to blow up a dining-car in the Frisco Railroad yards, used for feeding shopmen and laborers here, but the missile missed its mark about five feet and struck the top of an idle box car, blowing a large hole in its roof. No one was hurt.

Police, detectives and deputy sheriffs were immediately dispatched to the scene, but no arrests had been made late to-night.

The officers reported they found a bundle containing three sticks of dynamite in the neighborhood of the car.

John Connolly, trainmaster, declared that more than 100 men were due to have been in the car for their mid-night lunch shortly after the explosion took place.

The car from the explosion was left in the downtown section of the city.—Asheville Columbia.
