Political Enemies on Mayfield's Trail

In the new Congressional Directory Earl B. Mayfield, the new senator from Texas, says his "term of service will expire March 3, 1929." If his political opponents could have their way his term would end much sooner; in fact they contested his right to be seated at all. The contest is particularly interesting because it was charged that the Ku Klux Klan bulked large in the question of his election. Specific charges filed last year alleged corrupt manipulation of election machinery.

Former Representative Robert L. Henry of Houston, known as the "fall guy" of the Texas senatorial primary, because he entered with promise of full Klan support only to be double-crossed, went to Washington. He was quickly joined by Cullen F. Thomas, who finished a poor fourth in the primaries, due to the alleged opposition of the Klan and his failure to hold membership in the invisible congress from the Waco district for twenty years and for two terms chairman of the powerful house rules committee, was expected to be one of the principal witnesses against Mayfield.

Thomas, who married a sister of Morris Sheppard, senior United States senator from Texas, was considered a sure winner in the senatorial contest until the Klan interposed its influence. He had been a personal friend of ex-President Wilson.

Copeland Would Tax All Pistols $100

The tradition that congress is made up of lawyers has "gone bust" these days, inasmuch as the Sixty-eighth has a pleasing variety, including a dentist, a champion rifle shot, a poet, a music publisher, a dirt farmer and the father of "two sets of twins." The new senator from New York, Royal S. Copeland (portrait herewith), in private life is a physician. Representing Gotham, he is naturally exercised over its professional gunmen and jumps into the limelight with a bill to put a tax of $100 on every pistol manufactured in the United States and make $1 the price of a pistol cartridge.

Enlisting radio as his ally Senator Copeland replied to the members of the American Silk association who, the week before, had hissed and booed a pro-bonus speech by the senator.

"They hissed and booed, blatted and squealed like a barnyard filled with frightened cattle, geese and swine," Senator Copeland said, describing the reception given his speech. "It was a most interesting example of mere hysteria. I never more enjoyed a clinic in nervous diseases. It is amazing that men conspicuous for good works should permit themselves to indulge in anger to the verge of apoplexy. Children who set one-enth as bad are punished."

New Senator Makes His Mark Quickly

William Cabell Bruce quickly became one of the most talked of men in the Sixty-eighth congress, and no wonder. For he is a Democrat and he voted for Senator Albert B. Cummins, Republican, of Iowa, for chairman of the interstate commerce committee. He unqualifiedly endorsed Secretary Mellon's tax program. He as unqualifiedly put himself on record against the bonus.

Within a week of his entrance this junior senator from Maryland had impressed upon Washington the fact that he is a new type of public official—the kind the radicals anathematize and the rock-bound regulars fight shy of.

Although he was sixty-three years old last March Senator Bruce looks much younger. He is tall and well developed, of the athletic type, without any inclination to obesity. He traces his ancestry back to the Scottish hero, Robert Bruce. He owns a plantation of 2,200 acres in Charlotte county, Virginia, where he superintends the raising of corn and tobacco.

Although a native of Virginia Mr. Bruce has lived in Baltimore most of his life, and there has taken a most active part in civic affairs. As a lawyer he has long been one of the leaders of the Maryland bar. His book, "Benjamin Franklin Self-Revealed," won for him the 1919 Pulitzer prize of $1,000 for the best serious book of that year. Since then he has published "Below the James River" and "John Randolph of Roanoke," the latter considered by critics the finest character analysis of that statesman.

Bryan Finds Candidate to His Liking

William Jennings Bryan has announced that if elected a delegate from Florida to the national convention he would support Dr. A. A. Murphree of Gainesville, Fla., president of the University of Florida, for the Democratic nomination for president. He says of Dr. Murphree (portrait herewith): "He is a rare combination of intellect and heart; he is a splendid executive, as shown by the success of the university under his management; and he is a Democrat both in sentiment and in manner. He is 'dry' and progressive and sound on economic questions. His popularity will grow as he becomes known."

Of course Dr. Murphree is with Mr. Bryan and against "that monkey business." "I absolutely refuse to believe that I sprang from a monkey," he declared bluntly, "and evolution is far too dangerous a subject to teach young college students while their minds are in that plastic stage. They might be greatly influenced by this hypothesis, thereby having their faith in the eternal truth in the divine creation shaken."

Dr. Albert Alexander Murphree has been a teacher since his graduation from Peabody college, Nashville, Tenn., in 1892. He was born at Walnut Grove, Ala., in 1870.

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 17

JOSHUA AND THE CONQUEST OF CANAAN

LESSON TEXT—Josh. 1:1-9; 23:1-3.
GOLDEN TEXT—Not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the Lord your God spake concerning you.—Josh. 23:14.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Lessons From the Life of Joshua.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Joshua and the Conquest of Canaan.

The book of Joshua, from which our lesson is taken, is a history of the conquest of the Promised Land and its apportionment among the tribes of Israel. It takes its name from its principal character, Joshua. During the wilderness journey he was Moses' minister and captain of his army. When Moses was denied the privilege of going over the Jordan, Joshua was appointed to the leadership of Israel, Moses, the representative of the law, brought Israel to the borders of Canaan. Joshua was the man chosen to lead the people into the place of rest. The name, "Joshua," has the same derivation as the name "Jesus".

I. Joshua's Call—(Josh. 1:1, 2).
Moses was dead, but God's work must go on. The work was continued by calling Joshua to take it up. Joshua, no doubt, was sorrowful over the loss of his master, but there was now no time for mourning.

II. God Renews His Promise of the Land to Israel (Josh. 1:3, 4).

This promise had been given to Abraham and renewed to Isaac, Jacob and Moses. It is now renewed to Israel when they are about to enter upon its possession. The borders of the land were "from the wilderness and this Lebanon even unto the great river, the river Euphrates, all the land of the Hittites and unto the great sea toward the going down of the sun" (v. 4). The nearest it was ever possessed was during the reigns of David and Solomon, though not then fully realized. This land still belongs to the Jews and in God's own time they shall possess it. Their possession of this land was due entirely to themselves. God promised them that wherever their feet set upon the land, it was theirs. If they failed to secure possession, it was because they failed to claim it.

III. God's Promise Promised to Joshua (Josh. 1:5).

Joshua was entering upon a perilous and difficult enterprise, but the Lord said, as He was with Moses so He would be with him. The difficulties before him were:

1. The Jordan River (v. 2). This river was now at its flood (Josh. 3:15), making it impossible for armies to cross.

2. The People Were Living in Walled Cities (Num. 13:38). Notwithstanding this, God is ready to insure success. (1) "I will not fall thee, nor forsake thee" (v. 5). (2) "There shall not any man be able to stand before thee" (v. 5). (3) "As I was with Moses, so will I be with thee." Joshua had been with Moses throughout their forty years' experience, from the Egyptian deliverance to the time of his death. Because he believed that God was with his master, he was willing and ready to cross Jordan at its flood and courageously meet the enemies on the other side.

IV. Conditions of Blessings in the Land (Josh. 1:6-9).

1. "Be Strong and of Good Courage" (v. 6). His mission was to go in and divide the land among the tribes for an inheritance. It required strength and courage to do this.

2. Unwavering Obedience to the Word of God (v. 7). In a land of idolatry it required much courage to be true to God. Prosperity and success are conditioned upon unswerving obedience to God's commands. In all his work he must conform his life to the law of God. To pass from the path outlined therein would bring disaster and ruin. In order to accomplish this, the law of the Lord must be in his mouth continually. He was to meditate therein day and night. Joshua rendered prompt obedience. He did not stop to cavil, but at once gave orders for the march. God made the plan and gave the directions.

V. Joshua's Retrospect (Josh. 3:1-3).

As his life was now drawing to a close, he summoned the people and rulers to give some farewell counsel.

1. Rehearses God's Goodness (v. 1). God had given rest unto Israel from all their enemies.

2. All That Had Happened Was Done by the Lord. God had fought for them. No one had been able to stand against them; therefore He urges upon them fidelity.

God's Way.

I find my Lord Jesus cometh not in the precise way that I lay wait for Him. He hath a manner of His own. Oh, how high are His ways above my ways!—Rutherford.

With God.

Give God the blossom of your life! Put Him not off with the fallen leaves!—Nicholls.

Pyramid of Cheops Is Still in Good Condition

Save for one surviving pyramid, the seven wonders of the ancient world have passed on. Not only have they disappeared, but their memory is mostly confined to the pages of old books. Strangely enough, the one surviving wonder is the oldest. It dates back almost 4,000 years before Christ, and it is still in good condition. It is the pyramid of Cheops at Ghizeh, in Egypt. The most notable thing about the pyramid was the care taken to protect it from grave robbers. All the entrances were sealed. There were several large chambers near the base of the structure built to mislead any one seeking the sepulchral chamber. This was 138 feet above the ground, and could be reached only by tortuous passages, cleverly concealed.

The walls of Babylon were the second wonder. The third wonder was the statue of Zeus in the temple at Ephesus. The fifth was the mausoleum of Halicarnassus, in Caria. The sixth was the Colossus of Rhodes, and the seventh was the lighthouse of Alexandria at Pharos. It was Antipater of Phoenicia, the Breeder of the ancient world, who selected the seven wonders about 200 years before the birth of Christ.—Detroit News.

Playing Safe

A man who was in the habit of dining regularly at a certain restaurant said to the waiter: "John, instead of tipping you every day, I'm going to give it to you in a lump sum at the end of every month."

"Thank you, sir," replied the waiter, "but I wonder if you'll mind paying me in advance?"

"Well, it's rather strange," remarked the patron. "However, here's five shillings. I suppose you are in want of money, or is it that you distrust me?"

"Oh, no, sir," smiled John, slipping the money in his pocket. "Only I'm leaving here today."

Insult to Nature

Forks were not introduced into England until the year 1632, while in France at that time they had been in use for two centuries and in Italy for 600 years.

It is interesting to note that according to Venetian annals Princess Agila used a silver fork and a golden spoon in 995, at the time of her marriage with Doge, and the idea was rapidly adopted by the Venetian nobility, in spite of the church's disapproval, certain priests declaring that the use of the fork was an insult to Providence, who, having provided us with fingers, did intend that they should be used.—Detroit News.

Others Find Relief

In Alcock's Plasters from local apothecaries and palms. So can you. One trial will convince you of their merits.—Adv.

Bitter Chocolate

The Grocer's Encyclopedia says that according to the United States standards, bitter chocolate is a mass obtained by grinding cocoa nibs without the removal of any constituent except the gum. When this ground bean, in cocoon form, is sweetened and flavored it is known as sweet chocolate. Cocoa is the ground bean from which part of the oil or fat has been extracted. Cocoa cannot be made into chocolate.

What Is Electricity?

The exact nature of electricity is not known. The definition commonly accepted is: "A material agency which, when in motion, exhibits magnetic and thermal effects, and which, whether in motion or at rest, is of such nature that when it is present in two or more localities within certain limits of association, a mutual interaction of force between such localities is observed."

Without Training

"He never completed his education, did he?"

"No; he died a bachelor."

An Amazing Fact

To many people it may seem incredible that a habit so common as coffee-drinking can be harmful. Yet if your doctor were to enumerate the common causes of indigestion, headache, and run-down condition, he would be likely to mention coffee.

If you are troubled with insomnia, nervousness, or are inclined to be high-strung, try Postum in place of coffee for thirty days, and note the difference in the way you feel, and how much better you sleep.

Postum is a pure cereal beverage, absolutely free from caffeine, or any harmful drug.

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms. Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The rest of either form is about one-half cup a cup.
