Norris-Clemons Wedding

On Friday evening, May 30, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Roberts on Little Pine Creek, occurred the wedding of their foster daughter, Miss Jessie Norris to Mr. Burlen Clemens.

Every thing was simple and lovely. The decorations most fittingly were taken from the fields and woods adjoining us, white and green being the color scheme.

Just as the clock pointed to the hour of six, Mrs. N. L. Graham more familiarly known as Hattie Tom, sang "Smiling Through", being accompanied on the piano by Miss Morris.

To the sweet familiar strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March the bridal party came to the altar, where Rev. J. N. Andre, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Marshall had already taken his place.

Little Catherine Roberts and Avinell Graham, in blue and pink organdy dresses acted as flower girls, scattering daisies and rose petals as they came in. Miss Jessie Bridges, as Maid of Honor, looked charming in her gown of pink organdy, as she entered with Mr. J. F. Andrews of Gastonia, who acted as best man.

The bride had never looked sweeter or fairer than as, all in white, she approached the marriage altar, her veil of tulle floating about her, and her arms filled with the daisies she loves so well. We the friends of the groom felt he had never looked better or seemed more manly than as he appeared at this time.

So as the shadows of the evening were lengthening and the hush of the hour was on all, the sweet solemn words of the ring ceremony were spoken by Mr. Andre, and each one felt themselves included in the benediction which followed.

Soon after the ceremony all repaired to the dining room where a bountiful supper had been prepared by loving hands. The guests from a distance were as follows:

Mrs. Jessie Bridges of Bostick, N. C., Miss Sara Feazon of Biltmore and Mrs. Lamer, Mrs. Coveny and Mr. J. F. Andrews, all of Gastonia.

Both bride and groom are well known in this vicinity, having spent their childhood days here, and many of their vacations.

The bride graduated from the Asheville Normal and Collegiate Institute in 1922 and has been teaching since in the Gastonia graded schools. There she has made for herself a place that cannot be easily refilled.

Mr. Clemmons, after graduating from the Asheville Farm School, entered the Navy where he served his country during the war. He is now connected with the Hupmobile Co. of Detroit Mich.

While Detroit is to be the home at present of Mr. Mrs. Clemmons, their many friends are hoping that it may not be long before the call of the mountains such as may bring them back to us again.

A Letter

Washington, D. C.
 June 5, 1924.

Editor,
 News-Record,
 Marshall, N. C.,
 My Dear Friend:-

Kindly change the address on my paper from No. 325 H. O. B., Washington, D. C., to Box No. 394, Gastonia, N. C. I expect to return to Gastonia on the adjournment on Congress the end of this week, and want my paper sent me there until otherwise notified.

Very truly yours,
 A. L. BULWINKLE.

Bull Creek News

The people of this section are quite busy with their crops now.

Mr. and Mrs. Bunion Fisher motored to Grapevine Sunday and spent the day at the home of Mr. Reulas Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Fox of this place spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Stines of Bull Creek.

Miss Sadie Burrel was the guest of Miss Arie Coats Sunday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fisher on June 3 a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hunter was the welcome visitors at Mr. J. M. Hunter's home Sunday.

Misses Willie Nell and Margaret Hipps were pleasant callers at Mrs. Silas Capps.

A Friend,
 R. B. B.

To The People of Madison County

This is to most kindly thank each and every one that supported me in the primary on last Saturday. To lead the ticket in the Commissioners race with thirteen running, and especially after more than six years on the Board, is, I think, quite an honor, and was made possible only by your friendship and confidence in me, which I will very earnestly try to merit.

To the ones or sections that did not support me, I have no unkind word, but promise you the same consideration and square deal that the others shall receive.

Respectfully,
 G. L. MCKINNEY.

"Take care that the face you see in your mirror in the morning, is pleasing to look at. You may not see it again all day" but others will."

Mysterious Feature Develops in Death of B. R. Baker

Upon a close inspection of the facts and circumstances surrounding the death of B. R. Baker last week, his relatives and friends have decided that he came to his death, not by automobile accident, but but by foul play with a motive of robbery.

In the curve below where the car went over the bank of the road, several pieces of money were found. One wound under his eye and another in his arm looked exceedingly like bullet wounds. His coat was cut in several places with some sharp instrument and not at all like it had been cut in his fall over the rocks. Some papers and letters in his pockets had bloody finger prints on them. They had been examined by the murderer and replaced.

On the same night that Bakers death occurred, Mr. Ben Barnes and his daughter and another man driving Mr. Barnes car were held up, or rather the attempt was made to hold them up, a short distance from the scene of Bakers death. This was earlier in the night.

At the time of the death and burial of "B. R." his friends and the authorities did not deem the facts sufficient to warrant the holding of an inquest, but under the facts as they have been found in the past few days it is very probable that an autopsy will be performed and the coroner asked to hold an inquest.

If "B. R." was murdered, as seems highly probable, then his murderers should be brought to the bar of justice and the same mercy meted out to them that they gave to him when they so foully sent him to his untimely death.

From The Knoxville Sentinel, Knoxville Tennessee

If you can't get ice this summer, build a home made iceless refrigerator. They are cheap and serviceable and will keep food cool during the hottest weather. Write Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, State Home Demonstration Agent, at Raleigh, for details.

Watch out for lice and mites with the coming of hot weather. No flock of poultry will pay profits and feed these vermin at the same time, say poultry experts on specialists for the State College of Agriculture.

Those who labor indoors, especially busy mothers, need to develop an outdoor hobby. The vegetable or flower garden, poultry yard or children's play ground offer such an opportunity and the body will be quick to respond, say home demonstration workers of the State College of Agriculture.

About time now to begin arranging for the big picnics, barbecues and other summer outings. While doing so don't forget the State Farmers' Convention at the State College on July 23, 24 and 25. This will be the biggest gathering yet attempted at the College.

Tom Tarheel says that he can gather more roughage with a mower than he can with his hands and that's why he plants hay crops instead of pulling fodder.

Feeding the pigs liberally this summer will make them less costly this fall and it might cause them to be in condition to sell on the high market in September, suggests W. W. Shay, swine extension specialist for the State College.
