How Much Feed For Work Animals.

Raleigh, N. C., June.—In planning for enough feedstuffs for the livestock on the farm, not every man knows just how much feed it will take for his animals. The Animal Industry Division of the State College Experiment Station has been making some inquiry into this matter and news items giving the amount of feed needed for the dairy cow and poultry flock have already been published by the home papers of North Carolina.

The work animal, however, needs different treatment. At hard labor most of the time, the mule or horse needs a bountiful supply of nutritious food. Earl Hostetler of the Animal Industry Division says that for a thousand-pound animal on the average farm, three tons of grain and an equal amount of bright clean roughage is needed to carry the animal for one year.

"The grain or concentrate may consist of corn with the addition daily of about one pound of either cotton seed meal or linseed meal," says Mr. Hostetler. "Oats may be used to replace the corn, pound for pound."

"The roughage used should be produced on the home farm and consist of good, bright, legume, timothy or oat hay during the busy season. During the idle season some of the cheaper roughages like straw or stover may be used to advantage."

"Two acres of land seeded to oats followed by soybeans should provide sufficient roughage for one work animal for one year. In case of a bad season and a poor crop, this acreage may be supplemented by stover and straw, particularly during

$1,000 Appropriated by The National American Red Cross for Relief Work in Carter County Tennessee.

Atlanta, June 19.—$1,000 was today appropriated by the National American Red Cross for relief work in Carter County, Tennessee, where a cloudburst June 13, killed ten, injured a score more, and left 50 people homeless. Garden's Bluff and Hunter were the communities suffering heaviest.

The Red Cross was requested to take charge and administer all relief at a mass meeting of citizens.

Steps have already been instituted by a local committee to raise an additional $5,000 for the permanent rehabilitation work. Basing relief strictly on need, the Red Cross will attempt to place every family back on a self-supporting basis.

The Carter County cloudburst is the third disaster the South has suffered in less than two months. Twenty-two Red Cross workers are now in South Carolina administering a relief fund of approximately $30,000 as a result of the tornado of April 30 which killed several score people in that State and left over 3,000 homeless. Another corps of workers is in Mississippi and Alabama where another tornado May 27 killed over 40 people and left hundreds homeless in that two States.

Phillips Funeral

Z. V. Phillips, whose death is reported in another column, had been sick for more than a month, and a few weeks ago was taken to Ruthfordton hospital. Physicians there pronounced his case incurable and he returned home June 7, dying at 1 a. m., June 13. Sunday afternoon, June 15, impressive funeral services were conducted by A. C. Sherwood, both at the house and cemetery, with music by the local choir. The great crowd of people present, and the flowers fresh and beautiful from the parent stems, lavishly contributed by loving friends, were but a slight token of the high esteem in which his family are held. The flower bearers were 20 members of the Royal Neighbors, of which Gladys Phillips is a member. Pallbearers were Sam McEwen, S. A. Coin, R. A. Whitson, Wilson Jones, J. M. McInturff, Sam Jones, Nat Liville, A. R. Pate, W. H. Laws and J. A. Hopson. Among those attending from out of town were Dr. W. A. Sams and daughters Vivian and Muriel, of Marshall, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Jake Sams and Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Webster, Mars Hill, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Sams, Mrs. Fiddell Phillips, and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Sams, Flag Pond; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Byrd, Morris-town; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McEwen, Erwin. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McEwen and Ernest Henson, of Frankfort, Ind., found it impossible to reach this place when they encountered bad roads at Bowling Green, Ky. and were forced to turn back in their car. Other friends attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graham, Prof. and Mrs. E. E. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ault and Mr. Childs, of Johnson City; Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Gillis and many other Erwin friends. Mr. Phillips is survived by his wife Mrs. Biraie (McEwen) Phillips; two sons, Dwight and Rex; three daughters, Miss Gladys Phillips, Mrs. George Herrell and Miss Ruth Phillips, all of Unicoi; his mother, Mrs. Fiddell Phillips, of Flag Pond; two brothers, Joe Phillips, of Flag Pond, and Edgar Phillips, of Big Laurel; and five sisters Mrs. Fletcher Crowder and Mrs. Rufus Sams, of Flag Pond; Mrs. Jesse L. McEwen, Frankfort, Ind.; Mrs. Tom Blankenship and Mrs. Fred Guinn of Erwin.

An Interesting Question

It is probable that the one point which has caused more comment than anything else in regard to the leasing of Muscle Shoals is the action of the House in Congress in voting to lease the property to Henry Ford for a period of 100 years, when our Federal Water Act prohibits a lease for more than 50 years.

While the average citizen may not understand all the technicalities of the controversy, he can at least understand this discrepancy, and has asked—Why?

There has been no answer. As result, a senate committee will look into every phase of the matter before granting a lease.

More Tragedies Caused by Crop Report For June 1, 1924 Children Handling Deadly Weapons

Last Friday Jerry Ramsey's boy, who resides on Baileys Branch and Jim Redmon's boy who resides on Bear Creek, both boys under fourteen years of age, while handling an old pistol of some sort loaded, the pistol went off and the load entered the Redmon boy some where about the hip. The boy was taken to the hospital at Asheville and died Monday morning. The Ramsey boy is held under bond to appear before the Clerk of the court Monday Morning.

It appears that both of these boys were especially friendly toward each other and were close chums. Of course they were not competent to handle a dangerous deadly weapon. From what is reported the homicide was accidental, but that does not relieve the distress of the parents of the dead boy, nor the remorse and regret of the boy and his parents who did the killing or was instrumental in the homicide.

Last Friday Morning near Walnut a young boy by the name of Crow, was handling a loaded shot gun and while endeavoring to let the hammer down the gun fired and killed the young daughter of Bill Capps. She was about thirteen years of age. Thus we have two terrible tragedies the same day caused by young children being permitted to handle instruments of death.

Resolutions will probably be adopted in a measure to try to alleviate the awful sorrow and distress of the afflicted parents and friends of the deceased children. Such resolutions usually start out, Whereas it has pleased Almighty God, etc, we do not believe that it pleases God for parents and those responsible to permit their children to engage in such sport as brings such tragedies as these. God has made his laws, and if the contents of a loaded gun hits the vital spot of a child although innocent its life is flitted out. The moral is, we must not violate the laws of nature which are the laws of God.

Still Captured At Lost Cove

Sheriff Shelton and two deputies raided 3 stills at Lost Cove, 4 miles above Uduka Springs, last week, in company with prohibition agents, and, after watching one still in operation, destroyed all three and 1,200 gallons of beer. Three men, Doc Tipton, Sam Cooper and Harry Hughes, were arrested and brought to Erwin, later being taken by Prohibition Agents Banks, Pitts, Williams and Grafter to North Carolina for trial in the Federal Court. Complaints were filed by Sheriff Shelton against four other men who escaped.

Fifth Sunday Meeting At Antioch Baptist Church

The Fifth Sunday Meeting of the New Found Baptist Association will convene with Antioch Baptist Church, Saturday and Sunday, June 28 and 29. It is expected that all the churches will be well represented at this meeting. A cordial invitation is extended to all by the pastor and members of the Antioch Church.

The farm outlook for North Carolina is generally good. This is said in spite of the belated seasons caused by abnormally cool weather and frequent rains which have seriously hurt cotton and some other crops. The grain is keeping the farmer very busy and worried. Many in the East are already barring off corn with one-horse turn plows. It is amazing to see how slow most farmers are to realize the advantages of wheeled implements which cultivate a whole row at one trip through.

The tobacco crop has a good stand and, if late, is growing nicely. Hay crops are good. Small grains are doing nicely, except the fall sown oats. Fruit is unusually good. The recent hot nights have helped cotton amazingly. Farmers are, as a rule in good spirits.

LAST NOTICE!

Mrs. Wm. C. Pope wishes to inform you that the Asheville Citizen Automobile Contest will end July 5th. Only one more week to get your subscription in.

If you have not subscribed or renewed your old subscription please see Mrs. Pope and do so before the contest is over.

If you do not have time to get to Erwin make your check payable to the Asheville Citizen and mail it in to Mrs. Pope, Marshall, N. C. and receipt will be mailed to you by return mail.

Let's help a Madison girl win this prize as it will be a boost for our county. The paper is the same price, all Mrs. Pope gets is so many votes for each subscription, votes are what wins the prize.

A Rule of Three

Three things to govern—temper, tongue and conduct.
Three things to cultivate—Courage, affection and gentleness.
Three things to commend—Thrift, industry and promptness.
Three things to despise—Cruelty, arrogance and ingratitude.
Three things to wish for—Health, friends and contentment.
Three things to give—Alms to the needy, comfort to the sad and appreciation to the worthy. —Select

Othering Yourself

By Dr. Frank Crane

John M. Siddall, who edited the American Magazine, was a success.

He built up the circulation of his publication to an amazing figure even in these days of big figures.

And he did it by having acid hanging on to one idea, even as a dog hangs on to a bone.

One idea is enough, if it is right. Some men have but one idea and that is wrong.

Siddall's idea was this: "Only one thing interests all human beings always, and that is the human being himself."

In other words, the one most absorbing topic of interest in the world, overshadowing all others is: ME.

That this is true is proved by the admirable rule of William James: that Truth is What Will Work.

This has worked. Siddall made money out of it for his paper.

The curious phase of this, however is that it is simply The Golden Rule.

That rule in substance, is "Other Yourself" and succeed, "other" here being a verb, imperative mood.

And that rule, scientifically speaking, amounts to this: "Use your imagination."

So doing, you picture to yourself the mind and feelings of the other fellow, and in proportion as you do this you "get" him and hold an interest in him.

We lose our grip on another because we fail to see rightly within he is straying. Hence we cannot follow.

The Salesman does not "sell" his customer because he cannot become his customer.

The Parent and Teacher fail with the child because they cannot "become as little children."

The Speaker does not interest his audience because he cannot get out of his own mind over into theirs.

For the same kind of reason the Lawyer does not convince his jury the Novelist his readers, and the newspaper its public.

We mistake when we suppose any truth is true in religion but not elsewhere.

Othering yourself is not only the way to get to heaven; it is the way to sell goods, to get elected, to manage workers and to keep peace in the family.

England and Ireland are in trouble because neither can "other" itself over to the point of view of the other.

Labor and Capital clash when each indulges in thinking about itself and not trying to understand the other.

The most enlightened selfishness is unselfishness.

I wrote all this once in a fine article (I know it was fine, because I wrote it myself), and sent it to a magazine, and the editor didn't like it because, he said, it was preaching.

It was, it is. But nothing in the world is so interesting to read as preaching, providing it is to me and not over me, or about the life of Patmos or the Armenian Genocide, or something else I care nothing about.

This Golden Rule runs every where. For your health, and well. Quite thinking about yourself is the only way to come to this sort of journal.

So that truth be told shall save

Walnut Items

The closing exercises of the Daily Vacation Bible School was held last Sunday Morning in the Presbyterian Church.

The church was decorated with the flags of the different nations that were made by the children of the school. Some of the students won the consolation prizes in the different nations which impressed upon the minds of the people some of the customs of other lands.

The exercises which consisted in the recital of different portions of the Scripture, singing and other exercises were all good and very interesting.

The Daily Vacation Bible School was held in the young people. It gives them an early knowledge of the Scriptures, encourages them to become interested in Foreign Missions and impresses upon their minds that their is a big and needy place in this broad world somewhere that God would have them to fill.

One of the saddest things that has happened in the community occurred in the Hickory Flats at the home of Wade Crow last Friday morning. The little eleven year old daughter of Mr. Pete Capps, came over to visit her sister, Mrs. Wade Crow. A loaded shot gun was sitting behind a dresser in one of the rooms of the home. The little nine year old boy of Mr. Crow asked the girl to hand him the gun. In getting the gun from behind the dresser, in some way the load was discharged, striking the little girl in the head killing her instantly.

A loaded gun has no place in the home, especially where there are children, and this sad affair should be a lesson to others.

The store building that has just been recently bought by L. R. Rector and Co. is now being repaired and painted. They will open up a new stock of goods first of the month.

The new concrete block building that is being erected by Ramsey Bros. is going up very rapidly.

We haven't time to mention all the visits of the people to and from Walnut at this time.

Quite a number of the teachers from Walnut are attending Summer School at different places.

A number of students have returned from the different schools.

The Fifth Sunday Meeting of the Free Will Church will be held at Walnut next Saturday and Sunday. We are expecting several visitors and a good meeting.

The Madison County Singing Convention

The Madison Singing Convention will be held at Walnut on Saturday, July 27th. The singing will last throughout the day.

Of course, the more people the better. It is a rare chance to hear some of the best singing in the county.
