YOUR HEALTH
 Warm Weather Ways To Keep Your Baby Healthy

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

Hot weather is trying for every member of the family. We can all complain about it as we wish and make our discomfort known. Not so the little baby, who is suffering just as much if not more than any of us. Have you ever stopped to think of all the things you can do to make life more comfortable during the "dog days" of July and August?

Besides the necessity for personal comfort there is the necessity for keeping the health just a little above par. Of course, I should like it to be more than a little above par in all seasons of the year, but my chief concern is that it does not fall below par the hot days.

Flies, mosquitos, roaches, water bugs and all other insects are carriers of disease. Of these the flies and mosquitos are the most deadly. These tiny insects carry all sorts of viner germs, and flying as they do from one highly-infected swamp, garbage pile or other place to a clean house and a clean baby, makes them one of the most dangerous enemies of good health.

I have seen a mother who is most careful of her baby in every other way, pick up from the floor or table a moist nipple a teething ring a spoon or other article and put it into baby's mouth without once giving thought to all the germs which these articles so created contain.

As you know, everyone's resistance is lowered in hot weather. This is especially so of the bottle-fed child. The least difference in the milk or other food, irregularity of the feeding and unclean nursing bottles and nipples, are enough to bring on an attack of Summer diarrhea, cholera morbus or even more complicated conditions.

It is very easy to avoid most of the Summer complaints of children. Guard your house against flies and other disease-carrying insects by having all windows and doors carefully screened.

Protect your baby's crib or bed with mosquito netting. The soiled clothing and diapers of young babies especially should be put to soak in cold water as soon as they are removed. Do not overdress the children in the Summer, as this leads to over-heating and is the underlying cause of heat-rashes, stomach disorders and other troubles.

Lastly, let me warn you to exercise the greatest care in the matter of nursing bottles and nipples. These should be rinsed out as soon as they are used and then filled with cold water.

The nipples should be put in water, too. Before using them again they should be thoroughly boiled to kill all the germs which may have found their way into these things.

If you will use precautions in the care of your house and your baby with these simple suggestions you need have no fear of the Summer heat.

President's Boy Is Laid To Rest In Family Plot
 Simple, Committal Service Is Held at Cemetery in Newport

High Officials Are At Funeral
 President And Wife And Remaining Son Are Bowed In Grief

PLYMOUTH, Vt. July 10.—In the little village cemetery where the maples and evergreens throw long shadows across the old tombstones on the hillsides, they buried Calvin Coolidge, 16-year-old son and namesake of the President today. Restraining in large part outward manifestations of their sorrow, the President, Mrs. Coolidge and John, the elder son, stood with bowed heads during the short, simple committal service until a marine bugler had blown "taps" across the grave.

The cemetery where Calvin was laid to rest lies on a little hill dominated by the green mountains which overshadow this village.

In the family plot lie the mother of the President, ancestors and kinsmen, and in the same grassy row where the grave was dug are spaces reserved for the last resting places of the President, John, and his mother.

Much of official Washington, including eight cabinet members, the speaker of the nation's House of Representatives and the governors of two states attended the services. The party from Washington came in the closely guarded train which was halted at Northampton for service in the Edwards Congressional Church where Calvin was a member.

Return To Farm-House

After the last note of "taps" had echoed away, the family group went for a short time to the old, white farm-house of the President's father, Colonel John C. Coolidge, where the President took his oath of office on August 3, a year ago. Then, accompanied by the elder Coolidge, the little family, now broken by death, started on the journey back to Washington.

The funeral party upon arrival this afternoon at the Hadlow railroad station, 13 miles away, halted as the six marines from the presidential yacht Mayflower who had guarded the boy's bier constantly in Washington and on the train, carried the casket to the waiting hearse. Then the procession, more than a mile long, drove over the long road through the hills to the burial ground.

The party was forced to walk up the hillside to the spot where the grave had been prepared. After the marines had lowered the casket into place a mixed quartette sang "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." The Rev. Kenneth Willis, Northampton, pastor who accepted Calvin into the church read a few short passages from the Bible, then offered a brief prayer, softly the quartette sang "Saviour Like a Shepherd Lead Us." After reciting the verses of the hymn, "He Leadeth Me," Rev. Jason M. Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational Church in Washington read the committal service.

Deeply Affected

In the course of the prayer, Mrs. Coolidge brushed away tears and bowed heavily upon the

Revival Meeting At The Baptist Church

A series of meetings will be held at the Baptist Church beginning Sunday July 20th. Rev. A. J. Smith of Franklin, N. C. will do the preaching.

Mr. Smith is a true, cultured, Christian gentleman as well as a strong preacher. He presents the Old Old Story in a simple, pungent and earnest way that appeals to the thinking, intelligent and sincere individual.

It is well to say, perhaps, that while the meeting will be under the auspices of the Baptist Church it is not meant to benefit the Baptist Church alone, but all the town. No one will hear these messages but will be benefited by them; no one will miss them but will lose a great privilege and blessing; and there is NOT ONE but that is ENTIRELY welcome.

COME AND LET'S ENJOY A SEASON OF BLESSINGS TOGETHER!

P. L. ELLIOT,
 For Baptist Church.

Notice!

All Cases of Whooping Cough must be reported to me. Unlawful to fail.

President. The hands of old Colonel Coolidge, holding his hat trembled noticeably. On the hillside and on the copse across the road were gathered hundreds of villagers, silent and sympathetic.

"Taps" were sounded then by the same marine bugler who had sounded the notes at the funerals of former President Wilson and President Harding and at the services for America's unknown soldier.

As the exercises ended Boy Scouts, to which organization Calvin had belonged, filed by the grave, each dropping a rose as he passed.

The ceremony had ended the long trip northward of the funeral train from Washington.

Southern Veteran Is Called Beyond

Henry David McCain Succumbs to Illness—Lacked Four Days of Attaining 79 Years

Henry David McCain, one of the most beloved Confederate Veterans of the Zeb Vance Camp passed away at his home in West Asheville last night at 8:30 o'clock after an illness due to the infirmities of old age. Had he lived, Mr. McCain would have been 79 years old next Monday.

Mr. McCain came to Buncombe County from Caswell County in early manhood. He came of a sturdy Scotch Irish family well known in that section of North Carolina. He married Miss Theresa J. Ramsey, of Marshall, who preceded him to the grave about seven years ago.

Mr. McCain served throughout the four years of the War between the States as a member of Company B Fourth North Carolina Cavalry. He was a faithful and loyal member of the Zeb Vance Camp of Confederate Veterans and always attended the meetings and all Confederate gatherings until his recent illness.

Mr. McCain has been a Mason for the past fifty years and was a member of the West Asheville Methodist Church, being a Christian of recognized worth to his church and community.

The funeral will not be held until Sunday at an hour to be announced later, after ascertaining the hour of the arrival of relatives from Washington, D. C., and points in Virginia and Tennessee.

The surviving children are: Mrs. J. W. Edens and Mrs. Charles B. Clark, of Elizabethton Tenn.; A. T. McCain, Mrs. A. C. Rudy, J. R. McCain, Mrs. J. J. Anders, Mrs. O. W. Parham, Mrs. H. B. Hughey and Mrs. H. J. Cunningham, all of Asheville and Buncombe County.—The Asheville Citizen, July 4th, 1924.

Camp Sky-Hy

CAMP SKY-HY—an attractive, homely camp on a beautiful romantic island in the land of the sky.

We love the idea and we love the camp. It means to us happiness, recreation and self-improvement; also, it means cool weather in contrast to the hot hills of South Carolina.

Nearly all of us from South Carolina, a few from other states. Our camp is composed almost entirely of boys and girls from the De la State School an orphanage conducted by the State of South Carolina. There are about twenty boys and over sixty girls in the crowd, besides sixteen adults including two men, thirteen ladies and a cook. Nearly all of us came up in cars and expect to return the same way.

The young people of the camp are well provided for. We have twenty tents and an assembly hall, which makes things seem very "camp-like." As to recreation, we have base ball, basket ball, volley ball, target shooting, archery, swimming, and hiking—in a word, practically everything

War on Rats Will Open on Monday July 21st and Continue Six Days

A rat extermination campaign for Madison County will be conducted from July 21st to 28th under the auspices of the various civic organizations of the county and under the personal direction of Miss Wright, who is working in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture and who has conducted similar campaigns in Asheville, Waynesville, Bryson and other western North Carolina towns. During the coming week Miss Wright will visit all parts of the county and explain the method of conducting the campaign. Barium carbonate is recommended as an effective destructive agent. It will be placed on sale at the drug stores, hardware and general stores for distribution throughout the county.

Rats cost Madison County approximately $72,000 annually—destroying enough on each farm to pay taxes.

Directions For Use Of Barium Carbonate

To one teaspoonful of Barium Carbonate powder mix with three or four teaspoonfuls of any food a rat will eat, such as meat, fish, cheese, cereal, fruit, vegetables etc. For absolute results, use three kinds of bait mixed separately and continue with whichever they prefer for several nights until they disappear.

In using where fowls or animals are apt to get the poison, put the food in a small box, cover with large heavy box with holes on either side, large enough for rats to enter. Place these boxes in runs at night and remove each morning. Keep fowls, dogs and cats away from bait.

A Bear Seen In No. 11 Township, On The Haw Mountain

Frust, N. C. Madison County

On Friday evening about 8 o'clock July 11, 1924, my little girl, Francis and I saw a black bear, it was in fair view for about 150 yards, and 100 yards from our house. He was walking slowly up the mountain.

that an up-to-date camp would have. In addition to these things, we will soon have a radio piano, etc.

Without doubt the best feature of our camp is its deeply religious environment. Our resources are very limited, but we trust in God, and He provides for us most bountifully. Our children are taught in every possible way the fundamental truths of Christianity. In addition to religious exercises every day, we make it a rule to attend Sunday School and Church services every Sunday.

We greatly appreciate the splendid cooperation and the many acts of kindness which we have received from the people of this community, and we shall do our part to make ourselves worthy of these attentions. We hope to know you more and that you will know us more, and that we may work together not only for the good of the camp but for the good of the whole community.
