

MARS HILL COLLEGE

An accredited Junior College offering two years of standard College work in addition to the usual four year high school, Mars Hill is making rapid progress.

If 435 students came from outside of Madison, 112 from beyond the borders of the State, surely the school possesses merit which should commend it to our own people.

Illustrated catalogue on request. Correspondence invited. Address R. L. MOORE, President, Mars Hill, N. C.

From Lower Big Pine

Washington—

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a communication to Representative John C. McKenzie, chairman of the Muscle Shoals inquiry commission, declared that continuance of governmental development and operation of Muscle Shoals was desirable and advantageous. Mr. Green's letter was in reply to a request for his opinion as to the best disposition of the property.

Indications at the treasury show that plans are going forward for a far-reaching offensive by the coast guard against rum fleets hovering about thickly populated points of the American coast. The recent drive, it seems, was only a "scratching of the surface," preliminary in short, and future operations will be on a scale that will end the nefarious trade.

Dr. A. C. Millsbaugh, formerly of the state department, but for several years head of a financial mission acting in an advisory capacity to the Persian government, will arrive in Washington from Teheran in the latter part of June. It has been learned officially that Dr. Millsbaugh has been in Teheran as financial advisor to Pevais for the past three years, and ostensibly is coming home for a vacation.
