HUNTERS, SAVE THE WOODS!

With the autumn hunting season getting under way in the Northeast and in the South the Forest Service, United States issues an appeal to all sportsmen to guard against forest fires.

Ordinarily, say forestry officials, a great number of devastating forest fires are caused each fall by hunters. These fires not only destroy valuable timber but also the better forms of game animals, and thereby defeat the plans of the hunters themselves.

Those whose duty it is to guard forest lands from fire are usually apprehensive of the fall hunting season. From bitter experience these men have learned that hunters are frequently careless with matches, smoking tobacco, and camp fires. A great many sportsmen associations have for years taken measures to prevent this carelessness by their members. Other clubs and organizations are following suit.

In fact, the time is rapidly approaching when hunters everywhere will seek the woods with full knowledge of forest fire conditions, and these hunters will be of invaluable assistance in protecting the country's forests rather than being the agencies through which so many fires are started.

The Federal Government employs its rangers, guards and lookouts to protect the National Forests. Most States likewise have fire wardens and rangers with police powers. Hunters should take warning and be the first to protect the woods. They should erase from the records any reference to forest fires traceable to hunters.

The citizens of no community wants its beautiful autumn landscape blotted out with smoke from burning woodlands.

"Well, I came down with flying colors, anyhow," remarked a painter who had just fallen off the scaffolding with a pot of paint in each hand.

Passenger (fumbling through pockets.) "I'm afraid I've lost my ticket."

Conductor. "What do you mean—lost it? You couldn't lose a ticket a yard long!"

Passenger. "I lost a bass drum once."—Columbus Ledger.

In a state of considerable excitement the circus manager rushed up to Sam, the colored canvasman.

"We need a little help, Sam," he cried. "Four lions have escaped from Cage Five."

"Scaped?" ejaculated Sam. "Hol' dis hammer, boss. Dat's jes' zackly whot Ah's gwine to do!"—Ex.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

STATE RANKS HIGH AS MONEY EARNER

EXCEEDED BY 14 IN WEALTH PRODUCTION; BY 20 IN ACCUMULATION.

Raleigh

"As a producer of wealth, North Carolina ranks high among the states of the union," says S. H. Hobbs, Jr.

"Only 14 states rank ahead of us in the total value of basic products and industrial output for the year 1924," he continues. "Our position should be a matter of pride to every citizen of the State. The state's rank is high not only because of the high quality of its products and the high level of its population. Our wealth comes almost entirely from two sources, namely, farms and factories. The annual production of several States is largely attributable to oil and minerals which some day will be exhausted. Our farms and factories will continue to produce long after the mines have become exhausted.

"The total wealth produced by farms, factories, forests, and mines in North Carolina was more than a billion and a half dollars for the year 1923, distributed as follows: Produced by industries $951,911,000, by agriculture $512,400,444, by forests $38,051,000, and extracted from mines $10,006,000. Thus nearly 97 per cent of the total was produced by farms and factories, both of which are fairly well distributed over the State."

"However, in the accumulation of wealth on a total basis North Carolina ranks 21st and is surpassed by only two states in the South, Texas and Virginia."

Salary and Wage Body Stands Pat.

The Salary and Wage Commission met to hear appeals from State employees and stood pat on its published report, which goes into effect on November 1.

The commissions stood up against assaults from without and within and while a few appeals no over for further consideration, none was allowed and the bulk of them rejected.

At its forenoon session, the commission issued a statement which indicated that it had receded from its position in regard to legal holidays in view of a ruling by the Attorney General to the effect that the commission's action in reducing the number of legal holidays from twelve to six was without authority of law.

However in the afternoon the last ground was regained by the commission which tentatively passed a rule reducing vacations from twelve to six days, except for those departments which play the commission's way in regard to holidays, the provision being that every holiday observed above six being counted against the twelve day vacation period. The departments had previously allowed vacations of from two weeks to thirty days, the amount of vacation given by the federal government. No change was made in the limitation of ten days for absences on account of sickness or in the system under which all absences of any sort are charged against "petty leave," which is limited to two days a year.

Decision on Pullman Charges.

The decision of the Interstate Commerce commission to reestablish the Pullman surcharge in North Carolina "is in line with its general policy of making passenger rates conform in all the states," Corporation Commissioner A. J. Maxwell made this statement when informed of the decision rendered at Washington.

The matter had been before the commission for about two years, said Mr. Maxwell. A hearing was held on the subject some time ago at which time the North Carolina corporation commission requested the federal body to consider the North Carolina case along with its investigation in the feasibility of abolishing the surcharge throughout the country.

The commission finally decided against the abolition nationally of the surcharge, said Mr. Maxwell, adding that he believed West Virginia and North Carolina were the only states in which the surcharge was not effective.

Good Roads Meet.

Governor McLean is expected in the near future to name the delegates from North Carolina to the next annual good roads convention and ex position of the American Road Builders' association, to be held in Chicago, January 11 to 15, inclusive.

Special Courts For Two Counties.

Governor McLean called a special two weeks' term of criminal court for Henderson county, to begin November 16. Judge W. F. Harding was named to preside.

This term of court, which was called at the request of Judge Harding, the solicitor, and members of the bar in that county, will be held instead of a two-weeks' term of civil court which was on the calendar.

A special two weeks' term of civil court for McDowell county, to begin November 16, was also called.

DOINGS IN THE TAR HEEL STATE

NEWS OF NORTH CAROLINA TOLD IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS FOR BUSY PEOPLE

Farmville.—The Farmville market still stands high in tobacco averages. The average last week was 32 cents.

Lenoir.—Lenoir is to have a new furniture plant. The plant of the Stanford Lumber company is to be changed into a furniture plant to manufacture a line of medium priced case goods.

Raleigh.—Wake county's road bond election for $1,000,000, the first road poll and any such magnitude ever to be successfully presented, carried through the county.

Rocky Mount.—John R. Dozier, prominent farmer and widely known citizen of Nash county, died at his home near Nashville, according to advices received here.

Wendell.—The Wendell tobacco market opened in lively fashion here and this week bids to surpass all others this season both in number of pounds sold and prices brought.

Kinston.—More than $5,000,000 pounds of tobacco will have been sold here before the closing of the independent market early in 1926, Ernest Webb, official statistician, estimated.

High Point.—To relieve Asheboro's water shortage resulting from the prolonged drought, High Point will supply that town with approximately 100,000 gallons of water daily, city officials decided.

Ramseur.—W. A. Craven, aged 64, of the Moffitt mill section of Randolph county, 12 miles southwest of here, was killed on his farm when a blast of dynamite under a stump exploded.

Charlotte.—Contract for erection of the 20 story First National Bank building was let to the Hunkin Conkey Construction Company, of Cleveland, Ohio. The bid was for $1,000,000.

New Bern.—Two Onslow county citizens called for jury duty at Jacksonville were fined $25 each for drinking. The act was held by Judge M. V. Barnhill to be a direct affront to the court.

Littleton.—Hartwell Alston, who lives near here, has 20 living children. In the lot are four sets of twins. These pairs born consecutively. There is also one set of triplets. Mr. Alston's age is 50 years.

Durham.—A. W. Allison, who has held a position as detective with the Durham police department for quite a long while, was dismissed from the service by the city manager, following a brutal attack which he made upon two Chapel Hill youths.

Winston-Salem.—By request of counsel for the defense, trial of Max Samet and son, Jake, charged with burning their store building and stock at King, both being heavily insured, was continued until the spring term of Stokes superior court.

Tarboro.—The committee appointed by the Baptist congregation to consider plans for the new Baptist church which will be built in this city this fall submitted plans to the congregation and they were adopted by that body.

Greensboro.—Warrant against Judge E. Yates Webb, of the western North Carolina Federal district court, on a charge of speeding his automobile has been issued at the office of O. W. Duke, local magistrate, it was learned, but it has not been served.

Winston-Salem.—Mrs. Ruth Carpenter, aged 103 years, believed to have been the oldest resident of this city, died at her home on Buxton street. For the past 17 years Mrs. Carpenter had been a resident of this city.

Washington.—Gold crosses of the supreme council of Scottish Rite Freemasonry, one of its rarest honors, were awarded to R. E. Simpson, of Charlotte, N. C., and Charles S. Lobinger, now of the department of justice.

Salisbury.—The "possum season is on and numbers of hunting parties are out every night after the grinning critters, but there is no one in the county that enjoys a genuine 'possum hunt more than Rev. C. P. Fisher, of Cabana Grove. He has been engaging in this sport many years and boasts of several of the finest 'possum dogs to be found anywhere.

Rutherfordton.—Mr. Wilson, who lives near Harris, was gathering corn and saw the grass in front of him being rustled. He stepped up to see what it was and a large alligator four feet long was staring him in the face with its mouth open. He captured it with help and has it in a box. It was on Floyd's creek in the bottom. Mr. Wilson is puzzled as to where the visitor had come from.

Greenville.—The Rev. James E. W. Cook, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city, is in receipt of a telegram from Washington advising him of his election to the high honor of Knight Commander of the Court of Honor by the supreme council of Scottish Rite Masons, 33rd degree.

Raleigh.—A grade prisoners, a select score from the Caledonia farm, left here for Edgemont county where they are to work for the Sparlin company in the construction of culverts for the state highway commission, and in which camp a system of honor and self government will be employed.
