SPORT COLUMN

MARS HILL QUINT; 23-7

Wednesday afternoon, on the local basketball court, the Marshall girls team was defeated by the Mars Hill girls by the one-sided score of 23-7.

There was a fairly large crowd present to witness the game, the game itself being exceedingly rough. Some of the girls on both teams get "mad as fire", and, consequently, neither side did its best playing. The referee, actually stopped the game one time: (or two times) and told the basketball players that they were not play-ing basketball, and unless they could quit some of the rough stuff, they would be put out of the game. After price of cottonseed. The seed that the game improved a little, but not too much, at that. The Mars Hill girls "had it on" the Marshall girls from start to finish, the game being very one-sided, and they deserved the

And then it was time for the boys" game. Some of us began to wonder why the game did not begin, after the lors on both sides had "warmed up" considerably. Well, we found that the whole trouble was that a reference could not be decided upon. Both teams wanted a certain young man ins town to act as referee, but, unfortunately, he could not be there.

What do you know about that? NO
