Gov. Smith

Says ---

I pledge to the farmers and to the people of this country that no stone will be left unturned to give immediate and adequate farm relief.

He (Hoover) wants to drive enough farmers out of business to pull down the surplus crops.

The way he wants to relieve the farmer is to destroy him.

Mr. Hoover, as the chief adviser of the last two administrations, upon the subject of agriculture, assumed a direct responsibility for the hostility and inaction of the Administration, and continues to assume the responsibility by his fulsome endorsement of the record of Coolidge policies.

"Do you believe that liquor is the great issue of this campaign?" I certainly do not.

The absolute separation of state and church is part of the fundamental basis of our Constitution. I believe in that separation and in all that it implies.

I can think of no greater disaster to this country than to have the voters of it divided upon religious lines.

If there is any citizen of this country who believes that I can promote its welfare, that I am capable of steering the ship of state safely through the next four years, and then votes against me because of my religion, he is not a real, pure, genuine American.

Women Workers Back Hoover For a Full Week's Wages

Women's Trade Union Leader Declares He Alone Can Prevent Lowering of Living Standards Throughout the Nation.

By Alice Fox Pitts

Whether or not the average American wage-earner can take home a full week's pay envelope every Saturday night in the next four years depends on the election of Herbert Hoover, according to Mrs. Raymond Robins, who will spend several weeks at Republican National headquarters directing campaign activities among industrial women of the nation.

Mrs. Robins was president of the National Women's Trade Union League for fifteen years, president of the International Congress of Working Women for six years, and also served on the committee on education of the American Federation of Labor.

The abolition of poverty has always been the hope of dreamers but never before, Mrs. Robins points out, has a practical statesman set out to prove how, to a very large measure, that idealistic state can be attained. As Secretary of Commerce, Herbert Hoover has stimulated our foreign trade. Commissioners have gone abroad with samples of goods and brought back orders. This has meant more work for our factories, more jobs for our men and women. By showing manufacturers how to eliminate waste in production, he has put their business on a sounder basis, once more increasing the wage-earner's chance of getting a job and keeping it.

Since one woman in every five in this country works, Hoover's activities affect millions of women directly in this way. People as a whole do not realize the extent to which women are employed in factories today, Mrs. Robins says. When carpentry was done by hand, women could not engage in that occupation because they did not have the physical strength for it. Now doors, window sills and other parts of houses are turned out by machinery, and such machines are run by women. The same is true of many other occupations. To these factory women, the election of Herbert Hoover is of prime importance, for it means the preservation of their jobs, according to Mrs. Robins. They must vote for him to prevent their standards of living being lowered to European levels. That is the argument Mrs. Robins will have her workers hammer home.

The Farmer Finds A Real Champion

Governor Smith's speech on the farm question at Omaha, has set the western prairies on fire with enthusiasm for the Democratic candidate. That in Governor Smith the farmers have at last found a champion who is jumping into the fight for agricultural justice on their side is the keynote of all unbiased comment coming from the Western states.

Governor Smith went to Omaha, the heart of America's great, farming empire, to tell the farmers that he is prepared immediately on election to take the leadership in getting the kind of agricultural legislation they have been vainly demanding from the Republicans for the past eight years. The response to this offer of friendship and action has been electric.

The people who till the soil and supply the nation with its food are now assured that if Governor Smith is elected they will see the standard of "Equality for Agriculture" hoisted to the flagstaff of the White House. They are expressing their enthusiasm in no uncertain terms.

Especially telling has been the contrast drawn between Governor Smith's pledges for the farmer and Herbert Hoover's policy of evasion. Hoover's hostility to Agriculture has been well known ever since his days as war-time Food Administrator. Now as Republican candidate he is trying desperately hard to cover up his bad past record, but his heart remains the same as before, and his only plan to solve the problem of the surplus crop is to starve the farmers out until there is no more surplus.

On such cruel and unjust policies, Governor Smith has turned his back. He offers the farmer prosperity and equality through the McNary-Haugen principles and the farmers are showing that they know him now as their best friend and chief hope.

Hoover Praise From House

At Austin, Tex., Col. E. M. House spoke of Hoover with admiration and affection, and said he considered "Hoover one of the truly great figures that had come out of the World War." —New York World, 1920.

Hoover Saved 20,000,000

"How many lives have been Hoover organizations saved since the armistice?" I asked a European who knows. "Ten million at a minimum," he replied. "But if you said twenty million, you'd probably stand within the truth." —Wall Irwin.

Republican Unity Growing

The ever growing unity of the party is evidence of the increasing confidence which Republicans throughout the country have placed in the candidate.

Tammany Costs Respect

Resigning from leadership of Tammany Hall, Lewis Nixon asserted that he could no longer remain as leader and retain his self respect.
