STROM—CULBERTSON
The following account of the wedding of Miss Maude Culbertson of Asheville, formerly of Madison County, as published by the Asheville Citizen, is of special interest as Miss Culbertson is quite popular in her home community as well as in Asheville. For some time she has been connected with Dickinson's Flower Shop on Haywood Street.

The wedding of Miss Maude Hilda Culbertson to Mr. Hammond Gordon Strom was solemnized Saturday morning at Central Methodist church at 10 o'clock. Rev. Dr. O. J. Chandler, of Weaverville, performed the ceremony before an altar which was banked with palms, ferns, and white Easter lilies. Only intimate friends and relatives of the young couple were present.

The bride was unattended and was gowned in an ensemble of tan with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. B. E. Blanton gave a program of music at the pipe organ preceding the ceremony. Her numbers were, Schubert's "Serenade," Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," and "Biblical" by Harker. During the ceremony the soft strains of Grieg's "To Spring" accompanied the taking of the vows. For a processional, the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin by Wagner and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" were used.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Culbertson, of Hot Springs, N. C., and has been making her home in the city for the past few years. She will be remembered by many as the winner of a beauty contest conducted at Royal Pines two years ago.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. O. S. Strom, of Greenville, S. C. He was graduated from the Asheville high school in 1925. At present, he is connected with the Southern Dairies.

After the ceremony, the couple left for a motor trip South and will return to the city after ten days to take up their residence at the Low apartments on Chestnut Street.

DINTY MOORE'S CAFETERIA
Mr. Dinty Moore, who has been operating a cafe in Asheville for a number of years, has this week converted his cafe into a cafeteria. Mr. Moore is personally liked by many Marshall people, who have patronized his cafe in the past, and they, together with others, will doubtless patronize his cafeteria. His ad. appears in this paper.

One advertisement in The News-Record is worth two mail order catalogs in the attic.

FISHER—BUCKNER
On September 23, 1928, Miss Ella Buckner and Mr. Leonard Fisher were quietly married at the home of Rev. Douglas C. Averick, pastor of the Newport Presbyterian church, Newport, Tennessee.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Buckner, of Marshall, N. C. She is a graduate of Marshall High School, and a teacher in the Madison County public schools.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fisher, Marshall, N. C. He is also a graduate of Marshall High School and of Draughton Business College, Knoxville, Tenn.

Their friends wish for them a long and happy life.

AMERICAN RED CROSS
The American Red Cross has taken complete charge of all relief operations in the flood areas of Alabama, Georgia, southern Mississippi and northern Florida. The relief work will include all necessary emergency measures, such as food, medical supplies, clothing and temporary shelter, as well as some form of permanent rehabilitation for the flood sufferers. It is more than likely that there will be people in our community who, for one reason or another, will wish to contribute. Madison County chapter is authorized to accept any such contributions and will remit the money promptly to National Headquarters for the flood relief fund.
