

MARSHALL SCHOOL BUILDING THIS WEEK A COMPLETE HOSPITAL

Tonsil And Adenoid Clinic Of State Board of Health Performing One Hundred Operations

How quickly a building can be converted from one use to another is demonstrated at the school building this week in Marshall. For the last two or three weeks, notices about the tonsil and adenoid clinic to be held at the school building this week have been running in this paper, but hardly anybody in Marshall realized until they saw it what would happen. Not many of us if any had any conception of the magnitude of the preparation or the efficiency of the force until it was shown. Even the doctors in Marshall were surprised, and all the patrons, so far as we have been able to learn, are being well pleased at the treatment this force is giving. They began arriving Sunday from the last county where they were operating and others arrived Monday, and when Dr. Wilson arrived Tuesday morning to begin the actual operations, the force consisted of ten, as follows:

Dr. Wilson, of Asheville, surgeon
 Dr. Lois Boyd Gaw (woman)—Diagnostician
 Miss Flora Rey—Chief Clinic Nurse
 Miss Cora Beam, who has charge of the work in Madison County.
 Miss Geneva Sykes, Miss Bessie Marshall, Miss Ruth Wells, Miss Lucile Pegram, Miss Myrtle Thomas, Miss Katherine Livingston, and Mr. Dewey Sopponfield.

By nine o'clock Monday morning, one could see that the upper story of the school building was rapidly becoming a well equipped hospital. The utensils of the Domestic Science Department had been placed aside except such as could be used, such as running water, sink, tables, etc. The library had been converted into a ward, as had also some of the recitation rooms. Twenty-five cots were stretched and covered with freshly laundered linen, a chair placed at the head of each cot, one room was an operating room, with operating table and other necessary equipment. Only children under 12 years of age were taken at this clinic. Balls, dolls, etc., are provided for the children to play with until their turn comes. Each child is dressed in night clothes and given his or her bed. As his or her turn comes for the operation, his bed is taken from ward of playing and laughing children to the ward of sick children. In other words, after an operation, the child is not carried children are, otherwise their laughter back into the room where the playing and playing would be changed into to fear and crying and protesting, but each is led as a lamb to its slaughter, except that instead of being slaughtered, they are relieved of the terrible handicap of tonsil and adenoid troubles and the diseases which follow. The work is done in a systematic and orderly way, the parents of the children remaining with the sick child over night, leaving early with the child the next morning for home. While in their most perilous hours, the children are under the care of these skilled and careful competent nurses, so that dangers attending such an operation are carefully guarded and bad results reduced to a minimum. The women of the different churches in Marshall prepared and served sandwiches and lunches to the parents of the sick children as they sat by their children, and the children were served ice cream, hence the objectionable features of the operation are as far as possible offset by pleasantries. The statement has been made that upwards of 50% of the children of the state are suffering more or less from these troubles, and the response this week from parents all over the county has been much better than heretofore. The clinic can take care of only 25 cases a day and the "clinic closes in four days, so that the limit of operations would be 100. Tuesday and Wednesday more than the required 25 were present and it was believed the 100 would undergo the operation in the four days. It is our purpose to give our readers next week a complete list of those who underwent the operation and the names of their parents. This list could not be obtained in time for this issue.

DOCTOR DITMORE LEAVES MARSHALL

Dr. Harry B. Ditmore has left Marshall and located at Marion, N. C. For a year or more Dr. Ditmore practiced medicine in Marshall and vicinity, and during that time he, together with Dr. Frank Roberts, operated a small hospital for the benefit of their patients. Our understanding is that Dr. Ditmore was quite successful with his patients and proved himself to be a good surgeon. He was much interested in the County hospital idea and was really instrumental in getting the 50-50 proposition from the Duke Foundation.

Madison And Buncombe Singers To Assemble

Choir singers from Madison, Buncombe and other counties in this section will participate in a joint program to be given at a singing convention to be held at the Madison Seminary Baptist church near Marshall, the first Sunday in August, beginning at 2 o'clock, it was announced Sunday. Those in charge have invited singers from all surrounding counties to attend and take part in the singing. O-7-26.

When the election failed to carry, Dr. Ditmore preferred to locate where there was a greater opportunity for service and greater promise of a bright future. The hospital idea of treating patients has grown to the extent that not many up-to-date physicians will locate in communities where hospitals are not available. The time will doubtless come when every county will have its hospital in order to induce the most up-to-date physicians to locate there. Marshall will miss Dr. and Mrs. Ditmore and the little hospital and their many friends in Madison County wish them great success in their new location.

TO BE AT SPRING CREEK

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AUGUST 10 AND 11, 1929

Officers of the Madison County Sunday School Convention announce that the Annual County Sunday School Convention will be held on Saturday and Sunday, August 10 and 11, with the Mats of Spring Creek Baptist church, fifteen miles southwest of Hot Springs, N. C.

Helping in the convention will be Miss Daisy Magee, Raleigh, Children's Division Superintendent of the North Carolina Sunday School Association. Also helping on the program will be several of the best known Sunday School workers in the county. The convention is interdenominational, and workers from all Sunday Schools in the county are invited to participate in the work.

In charge of the arrangements for the convention are A. W. Whitehurst and Miss Stella Carver, President and Secretary of the County Sunday School Association. These officers are requesting the cooperation of all pastors, superintendents and other Sunday School leaders in the effort to make the convention a success.

The officers have announced that again this year a pennant will be presented to the Sunday School having in the convention the largest average attendance of representatives, sixteen years of age and over, according to the number of miles traveled. It is expected that there will be much friendly competition for the pennant among the Sunday Schools of the County.

JUDGE SINK HITS N C MAGISTRATES

DELIVERS STRONG CHARGE TO GUILFORD COUNTY GRAND JURY

GREENSBORO, July 8.—Judge Hoyle Sink, of Lexington, tore into the Guilford Grand Jury and declared that many of the magistrates should be indicted for debt collection activities, which he termed malfeasance in office. The Grand Jury System came in for some heavy criticism too, since the jurist said the bodies had become in North Carolina merely rubber stamps for the solicitors and had almost entirely abandoned their duties of investigating the conduct of county officers.

"It is the duty of every Grand Jury to find in what manner county officers, magistrates, executors and trustees are conducting their duties and to bring in indictments where violations are found. The Grand Jury system costs the state $1,400,000 a year, and the juries perform only routine duties for the most part," Judge Sink said.

He was confident that many justices are not within the law in their activities, although some of them are holding to the high honor which the post used to nearly always convey to the public mind. "A magistrate who takes a worthless check or a bad account and issues a warrant and then quashes the case on payment of check and cost, is violating the law of the State, any magistrate who uses his office as a collection agency for merchants or others and who advertises his collection services, is guilty of malfeasance in office and ought to be prosecuted," Judge Sink declared.—Asheville Citizen.

Songs of Plain Folks

Indians

Oh, Grandpa! Indians coming!
 They're all around the place;
 Right down beside the lilacs
 I saw a 'nawful face!
 And there's an Indian creeping
 Behind that cedar tree,
 To scalp us while we're sleeping,
 Quick, Grandpa! don't you see?

The deadly arrows whistle;
 The wild war whoops resound;
 Grandpa commands the fortress,
 While red men all around
 Are wriggling through the prairie,
 Are sneaking through the trees,
 It's good to be with Grandpa,
 In fearful times like these!

For Grandpa fought the Indians,
 Once in the border war;
 He fought the Ogallalas,
 And has an arrow scar.
 He loves to fight the red men—
 Just plays he is afraid—
 How he enjoys the hugging
 When a capture's made!

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Montreal, Quebec, is a city of nearly a million people. It is the largest city and commercial metropolis of the Dominion of Canada and is at the head of ocean and commencement of lake and river navigation, with an extensive commerce.

C. L. Sibley is editor of the Montreal Herald, one of the best known newspapers in Canada. In a brief statement as to the audience reached by newspapers, Mr. Sibley makes the following comparison: "If a minister of the gospel who speaks twice on Sunday to a congregation of 500, is considered an exceptionally influential man (and few indeed are the ministers who have so large a congregation), how much more powerful and influential must be the newspaper which, in the same community, speaks not twice but six or seven times a week to an audience of anywhere from 20,000 to 150,000 people."

Mrs. Nayber—Do you know that your dog killed our cat?
 Mr. Nixdore—Oh, yes, but I've put a muzzle on him so he can't do it again.

Mistress—And when you leave I shall want plenty of warning.
 Servant—It's my habit, ma'am merely to give a toot with my auto horn.
 —The Pathfinder

Lent—I hear you married your boss. How long did you work for him?
 Lola—Until I got him.
 —The Pathfinder

Pick—So your brother tried to get a government job. What is he doing now?
 Wick—Nothing. He got the job.

We can secure a bus from Asheville, leaving the County Court House promptly at 8:30 o'clock the morning of July 22nd, for $8.00 round trip. Then board will cost $5.00 for the week, making the trip for the week cost $13.00. We wish we could have a good representation from Madison County. Let's everybody go.
 The following delegates will represent their clubs: Mrs. Cecil McDevitt, Walnut; Miss Nellie Carter, Pine; Mrs. Oscar Brooks, Hot Spgs.; Mrs. Harry Murray, California Creek; Mrs. Edwin Jarvis, California Creek; Mrs. Crawford Bryan, Enon; Mrs. Robel Redmon, Little Pine club and the County Council.

CAMP—The girls' clubs have been continuing their clothing and getting ready for camp which is July 15th to 18th, or Western North Carolina 4-H Camp at Swannanoa, N. C.
 A bus will leave Hot Springs Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock and Marshall at 10 o'clock Monday, July 15. Please be on time as we expect to leave promptly.

While at camp we will study handicrafts and nature study. Vesper services will be held each evening and recreation will consist of hikes, swimming, plays and games.
 The girls from Henderson, Buncombe, Rutherford and Madison Co. will combine their camps this year. We are expecting about 150 girls and a good time is expected by all.

Then the girls have been busy getting ready for their girls short course and most of the girls have been selected. The girls are selected on their club record and if two girls record tie they are then voted on by their club. We are entitled to 12 representatives to the short course as there are 12 clubs in the County.

All delegates for the girls short courses please come for your health examination Saturday morning, July 13, as the healthiest girls will have the district health examination July 19th to compete for State Health Contest a short course. The King and Queen of Health of the State will be crowned on Thursday night, Aug. 1 at the Short Course.
