FROM GRAPE VINE

We were glad to have the following visitors with us Sunday: Rev. L. C. Roberts, Mr. G. R. Merrell, and Miss Clara Merrell from Laurel Branch, Messrs. Fred Jarvis and T. E. Hunter from Mars Hill, Messrs. Mack and Ezra Burnett of Grand View, and Mr. P. A. Fisher of Jupiter.

The following program was well rendered after Sunday School, Sunday: Address on the Sunday School Convention, by Fred Jarvis; Address to Young People, "The Life That Counts," by Miss Clara Merrell and Wesley Hunter; Sermon on "The Cost of Discipleship" by Rev. L. C. Roberts. In the afternoon the singing class went to Foster's Creek to help furnish music for a decoration, and there were not many out, but we had very interesting talks from Messrs. T. E. Hunter, Ezra Burnett and Van Wallin.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cargile were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cargile Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Easter Gosnell and Mrs. Cal-

Every Kitten Has Its Day

YES, she has and this is the day. It's Mother's day once a year, but the flapper may claim the other 364 as her very own. Then there are dog days in the good old summer time, but the kitten has a whole calendar full of these purring days of the present.

The way that the styles are figured out in Paris, if that's where they do come from, every girl has a chance to display her charms. Even the plain girl can make a good impression with these modern frocks to say nothing of hoisery.

You see, it's like this: In the old days with the old patterns, about all you could see of a girl was her face, which was all right if she happened to be pretty and nothing else. The plain girl who could shine in a bathing suit, where form counted, didn't have much of a chance, for she couldn't go bathing all the time.

But the modern frock suits the plain girl to a T. Her face may not be dimpled, but she may be able to makeup for that with tricky ankies. Her countenance may not be resplendent, but where form counts in the beauty game she's bound to score.

Mother Nature is certainly eccentric when it comes to putting human beings together in separate bundles. She will stock a large head with its full face on a slender body, and try to pair off arms and legs when they are not at all proportionate.

The contrast between face and form is very noticeable in most women, although now and then Nature will adapt the pretty face to the graceful body, but how often the beauty of the village or town was not so proud of her shape, and how just as often the girl whose face was not of the same candle power had a figure that would make the Venus of Milo want to reduce.

The girl who has form with grace doesn't need to take any dust from the girl who has just a pretty face but nothing about her that would suggest the dancer or swimmer. There is charm about every woman no matter how little she may think of the impression she makes upon her mirror.

And these are the days when a woman's charm has its beauty.

Much of this supposed beauty business is not a matter of creams or powders, but just plain health.

Thank goodness, girls, that you and I can move about in a free and easy costume where handsome is that handsome does its daily exercises and practices proper diet to say nothing of proper hours.

It's our Big Day, all right, if we will only realize it and make the most of it.

Favorite Recipes of a Famous Chef

As Told to Anne Baker By LOUIS DIAT, Chef, The Ritz Carlton, New York

Recipes for soups and salads are always welcome in the kitchen where the problem of avoiding an appetite-killing sameness in the menu often becomes a complex one. Mr. Diat offers the following two suggestions.

Potage Fermiere—Chop together until medium fine four large carrots, one small turnip, two leeks, two onions and a small quarter of a medium sized cabbage. Brown all of these in three tablespoons of butter. Add three cups of white consommé, i. e., stock made from chicken or veal, and three cups of water in which white or lima beans have been cooked. Add pepper and one or two teaspoons of salt. Bring to a boil and cook slowly for at least one hour. The pot should be uncovered for at least the first half of the cooking. Just before serving add one-fourth cup of thin cream, one level teaspoon of sugar, and one-half cup of cooked white lima beans.

Marion Salad—For this select a very firm, crisp, good-sized head of lettuce. Level the stem so that it will stand level on the plate. Cut off a one-inch slice from the top. With a pair of kitchen shears cut out the inner leaves, leaving four or five layers. Wash in cold water. Turn upside down on a cloth to drain. Prepare small balls out of one-quarter pound of cream cheese and place in a mound in the lettuce shell. Pour Bar-le-Duc jam around the cheese balls. Sprinkle with from one to two tablespoons of sugar. Scatter some of the lettuce leaves which have been cut out in French dressing and pile lightly around the salad shell.

USE BOTTOM LAND FOR FALL GARDEN

Because it is hard to get a perfect stand of tender vegetables in late summer, the fall gardener needs to use good, rich bottom land, or prepare irrigation systems for handling his garden this summer.

"There are three principal means of overcoming the effects of heat and drought in making plans for the fall garden," says E. B. Morrow, extension horticulturist at State College. "One is to locate the garden on the moist, bottom lands of the farm, to irrigate or to so thoroughly prepare and pulverize the soil that the tender crops may withstand the effects of the hot weather. The only trouble about planting the fall garden on bottom land is that the vegetables may be drained out frequently, by heavy rains."

Mr. Morrow says where water may be obtained with a reasonable amount of pressure, overhead irrigation may be used satisfactorily.
