SPRING CREEK HIGH SCHOOL

The total enrollment this week goes beyond 375 with 60 for the high school department. New pupils in high school this week are Misses Elia Suttles of Meadow Fork and Gladys Wilds of Pine Creek. Miss Wilds is boarding with her aunt, Mrs. Ethel Askew.

School is going good as to attendance and work. Some few are out on account of illness. Chickenpox was about to break in last week.

On account of the drought, the water supply is exhausted, which makes a rather unsatisfactory condition.

Chapel programs are better since the new piano came in. Our last program was given to singing, which was much better than usual. We expect new song books for chapel use this week.

The high school baseball team defeated Fines Creek team on the local grounds last week, getting revenge for the defeat they gave us on their grounds. We are to play Hot Springs here this week and Walnut there Friday.

The Roaring Fork grade boys came over last week and defeated our grade boys in a fast batting game with a score of 23-7. Mr. Wash Fowler was their coach and had the kiddies in good training. We hope they can come back. Mrs. Hattie Henderson and Miss Ruby Rees are teachers of these fine boys at Roaring Fork.

SPRING CREEK NEWS

The Spring Creek baseball team lost to Leicester last Saturday by a score of 13-7. Leicester is to play here Saturday afternoon. We hope by some better work to win over them. Under the new manager, Mr. Henry Duckett, there may be some changes in playing positions and a better team developed.

The community singing convention meets at the Liberty church Sunday afternoon. The convention has made the round of all the churches and this will be the last of the season except and all-day singing at the schoolhouse on the fourth Sunday when several quartets and choirs from the outside will be asked to come. Bartlett from Asheville and Tomberlins from Weaverville will be asked to come.

Messrs. Hardy and Roscoe Blankenship, with Misses Texie Blankenship and Motelle Woody, let a Ford leave the road last week causing slight injuries to Roscoe's hand and a cut on Motelle's arm. Motelle was knocked unconscious and carried to Dr. Kimberly at Hot Springs who took a few stitches on her arm. Motelle and Roscoe are in High School and Texie is in the grades. Motelle was out three or four days but is back now and seems to be on the road to a speedy recovery.

BYRNES DEFEATS BLEASE IN SENATORIAL FIGHT—this runs a streamer headline in a large daily paper of Wednesday, September 10. On the face of unofficial returns, South Carolina Democrats Tuesday night appeared to have relegated Senator Cole S. Blease, veteran political leader, to private life as a result of Tuesday's run-off primary for the party's senatorial nomination. Reports from all but 55 out of 1,422 precincts, showed that former Congressman James F. Byrnes of Spartanburg had a lead of nearly 6,000 votes over the incumbent. The vote stood: Byrnes, 112,157; Blease 106,358.

Edwin L. Sams, Asheville automobile driver, who was charged with reckless driving following a collision between his car and a motorcycle ridden by Lieutenant E. S. Guthrie, of the State highway patrol, was found not guilty, Tuesday morning by Judge Zeb V. Nettles in police court.

For 26 hours Captain N. A. Danese, 62-year-old marine diver, struggled on the floor of the drainage canal in 22 feet of water at New Orleans, La., helplessly entangled in piling, and lived to tell of the experience. He was finally rescued by Fritz John, 65, another tough old diver, after the efforts of a hundred other men had failed to extricate Danese.

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Tuesday gave a tabloid history of New York in just 49 words, which were as follows: "Eighty years ago, a very short time when one stops to think, this land was part of a farm. More recently it was the site of one of the great hotels of the world, and soon it will be the location of the tallest structure ever built by man."

Two alleged ringleaders of the disorder in the Plaza de Mayo in Buenos Aires were publicly executed Tuesday night by the provisional government. Strict martial law was put into effect, with soldiers in war equipment everywhere and particularly around government buildings, as a result of the riots and shootings which Monday night terrorized the heart of the capital.

FROM MARS HILL

REVIVAL A SUCCESS

The revival of two weeks, conducted by Dr. O. E. Sams, came to a close last Sunday evening. At that service, 31 converts were baptized, and during the series of meeting 40 others were received into the church by letter. There were others, too, who reported that a change had been brought about in their lives as a result of these services, and the community in general experienced a renewed interest in religion.

Besides the pastor, Rev. J. R. Owen and Dr. Sams, the Rev. Pat Colville, as an earnest personal worker and Mr. Silas Johnson, as song leader, rendered a great service during the series of meeting.

LEIBY—WILKINS

A marriage of unusual beauty was solemnized Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Walter E. Wilkins, of Mars Hill, when Miss Sarah Louise Wilkins became the bride of Dr. George M. Leiby, of Nashville, Tennessee.

The wedding vows were taken at sunset beneath the stately pines on the lawn of the Wilkins home. The scene was one of natural grandeur and simplicity, the home commanding as it does a view of the mountains on all sides. The only decorations were the tall white pines and natural shrubbery, the space for the bridal party being enclosed with ing clematis. After a short program of music the bridal party, in the glow of the setting sun, passed from the house to their positions beneath the pines where a host of friends had gathered.

The prenuptial musical program was comprised mainly of selections used at the wedding of the bride's mother. Miss Martha Biggers, head of the music department of Mars Hill College, presided at the piano. Miss Evelyn Coon, of the voice department of Mars Hill College, was soloist. Mrs. Douglas Robinson, of the violin department of Mars Hill College, was violin soloist. A quartet composed of Miss Katherine Woodrow, of Rock Hill, S. C., Mrs. J. A. McLeod, of Mars Hill, Mr. W. E. Wilkins Jr., of Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. J. A. McLeod, of Mars Hill, sang a group of old love songs.

The bridal party entered to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin. The bridesmaids wore old-fashioned dresses of pink taffeta and lace, quaintly designed with full long skirts, basque waists, and short puffed sleeves, and carried arm bouquets of pink and lavender asters. The flower girls, little Misses Evelyn McLeod and Gene Wilkins, daintily dressed in pink organdie, preceded the bride, strewing rose petals in her path.

The bride entered upon the arm of her mother, who was gowned in lavender and lace. The bride wore a quaint gown fashioned of white satin and maline and a lace and tulle veil, worn by former brides of her family. Her veil was gathered with an ornament worn by her great-grandmother of Denmark.

The matron of honor was Mrs. W. E. Wilkins, Jr., of Nashville, Tenn. The groomsmen were Mr. W. E. Wilkins, Jr., of Nashville. The bridesmaids were Miss Alice Kieruff Bailey, of Greenwood, S. C., who was flower girl at the wedding of the bride's mother; Miss Grace Beacham, of Spartanburg, S. C.; Miss Evelyn Fuller, Greenwood, S. C.; Miss Frances Biggers, Mars Hill; Miss Bessie Leiby, Reading, Pa.; and Miss Sallie Willy Holland, Coker College, S. C.

The ushers were Messrs. Franklin Wilkins, of Mars Hill, and Guy Leiby, of Reading, Pa. The officiating minister was the Rev. J. A. McLeod, of the Mars Hill College faculty, for many years a close friend of the family.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sallie Bailey Wilkins, teacher of Latin in Mars Hill College, and the late Rev. Walter E. Wilkins, of South Carolina. She is a young woman of unusual accomplishments and charm. She is a graduate of Mars Hill College and of Coker College, S. C., and studied for a period in Europe. For the past few summers she has been religious director in the Dr. Pettit Camps, of Long Island.

The groom is a promising young physician of Nashville, Tenn. Dr. and Mrs. Leiby, after a motor trip of a few weeks, will be at home in Nashville.

SHOWER FOR THE BRIDE

On Friday afternoon, the day before the wedding, a "shower" was given for the "bride-to-be" at the home of Mrs. John McLeod, by Mrs. McLeod, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Wilkins, Jr., and Mrs. J. W. Huff. As the guests arrived they were served punch and cakes on the porch. Afterward they assembled in the living room where Mrs. P. C. Stringfield rendered a lovely group of songs in her usual charming manner. Then little Miss Clyde McLeod and Master Billy Huff, dressed as a "teeny-weeny" bride and groom appeared at the doorway pulling a wagon loaded with gifts, the opening of which proved to be full of interest as they were many and of various kinds.

The bridal party, with a number of out-of-town friends, were entertained at dinner Friday by Mrs. Nathan Runyon.

The bride, as teacher of public school music, in the school here last year, was quite popular with students, teachers, and parents; and our school and community united in
