above mentioned between the first day of October and the first day of June inclusive. No charge shall be made for the granting of said permits.

Surveys Ordered—that we have men of Mr. McWhorter's caliber and that of the entire staff in public office to see that the taxpayer gets his dollar's worth wherever money is spent."

The Asheville group was told "pivot points" on the interstate highway must be Knoxville and Dandridge, Tenn., Asheville, N. C., and Spartanburg, S. C., and that connecting links of the four-lane highway "absolutely" must be limited access construction.

Barfield said "the committee gained the definite impression the SHC recommended Pigeon River plan went to Washington without the approval of the Atlanta division's office."

An Asheville Chamber of Commerce and Madison County delegation visiting Washington several weeks ago was told the SHC recommendation had been sent back to Raleigh for additional information as to why the Pigeon route had been preferred over the French Broad route.

The delegation to Washington was also told McWhorter would have charge of steps for additional surveys and studies.

An "economic" survey, generally speaking, does not mean a firm, full-scale field survey. It is generally considered to involve at least a walking survey of the routes, studies of topographic maps, aerial photographs and use of other materials to both routes.

"We're not going to do anything until such surveys are made and we can tell which route is the cheapest," McWhorter was quoted by Barfield.

Paint Rock: Vance Ricker.

Mr. Chandler also gives the following information and instructions:

Wait till late afternoon to do your burning. This means that no burning permit is required to burn from 4 p. m., to midnight on land you own or have in your charge. Be care. Use all precaution. Have plenty of help. Don't burn if wind is blowing. Champion Paper Co. won't buy wood that has been burned. The sawmill man will pay less for logs that have fire scars. The wildlife loves a green forest.

Everybody loses when the woods burn.

County Ranger.
