

COFFEE'S Conversation Piece

Of all the groceries in daily American use, few have as long a history and romantic background as coffee.

One Arabian legend relates that coffee came into use when it "got the goats" of a herdsman named Kaldi.

This monastic coffee ritual was the predecessor of the daily coffee break enjoyed by millions of American workers and housewives.

Coffee has also been a factor in adventure and espionage. The famed Polish spy, Franz Kozlowski, who saved Vienna from besieging Turks, opened the first Viennese coffee house.

Today, you can find coffee houses in nearly every metropolis of Europe, many with their own history of famous patrons.

In the U.S., Boston's Green Dragon coffee house was called "headquarters of the Revolution" by Daniel Webster.

In addition to its role in adventure, history and literature, coffee—or the lack of it—has been the point of issue in the courtroom.

Here are the other practices Harrison used on his tobacco: he spaced his rows three and one-half feet apart and the plants were spaced 11 inches apart in the row.

Harrison attributed his excellent results to the fact that he was able to save the highest quality lower leaves which he would have lost, and also, due to the fact that he could let the tobacco ripen fully at he toy.

On an acre basis Harrison would have picked his income up nearly 360 over the previous year when he didn't prime.

Hamlin Discovers Priming Burley To Be A Paying Job

Harrison Hamlin, farmer of the California Creek community, has found a way to pick up more income from burley tobacco and I do mean pick it up.

Here are the results of two primings: Off of 0.63 Harrison received a yield of 1732 lbs., which brought him a check of $1070.44.

Last year Harrison's tobacco averaged 6 1/2 a pound. The lowest price any of his tobacco brought was 60c.

HAVE FAITH IN YOURSELF

It is sometimes difficult for many today to maintain faith in any of several ways. Yet, in today's fast-moving world, our faith in our religious principles, in the future of our country, in the goodness within our fellow men, and in ourselves, is our most vital possession.

As Jesus once remarked to a leper, who had come to him begging mercy and then been cured, it was his faith that actually cured him.

Even in the business world, one must have faith in his business—if he expects to build an air of confidence. All of us, likewise, must maintain our faith in our fellow men, for when that is gone, it is not long before one's outlook changes, and usually it changes into that of a bitter, frustrated individual.

We are not accustomed to offering unlimited quantities of personal advice to our readers. However, we like to see a person with abiding and unswerving faith in his God, his country and his fellow men.

Only faith in our country and in our ability can reassure us when we study the international situation, only faith in our friends and our family can support us in times when the world seems to be falling down all around us.

For peace of mind, future happiness and a genuine understanding of life and what is to be accomplished with it, faith seems to be the key. Ask yourself how much faith you have in your fellow citizens, in your community and the life you are leading. If you have none, or very little, do something about it.

PAYS HIS FARE 40 YEARS LATE

Just to prove that the pangs of one's conscience are sharp, we cite a case we recently came across which occurred in the Middle West.

The story began in 1915. A passenger got on the Minneapolis and St. Louis Railroad at Watertown, S. D., his destination being Stafford, S. D. The cost of the ticket had been something over $2.

Now, forty years later, he has been over the bond with his conscience. He recently wrote to the Minneapolis and St. Louis Railroad, explaining why he was writing something over $2 and enclosed a check for $100.

The 1915 traveler wrote that he was not sure about the exact amount of the fare, but he wanted to be positive, so he was sending $2. So his failure to pay the correct fare cost him more in the long run.

At all of which goes to prove that it is best to pay in the first place, if you have the money. Of course, if you don't have the money in 1915, it is comparatively easy to pay in 1956, with today's cheap dollars.

Spring Creek Baptist Church Organizes Training Union

Under the capable leadership of Wade Huey of Marshall, prominent religious leader of Madison County, the Flats of Spring Creek Baptist Church organized a Baptist Training Union Sunday night, February 26, in one of the most enthusiastic services held there for sometime.

Mr. Guy Angel, agriculture and vocational training instructor at the Spring Creek High School, was elected Director, with Jack V. Joyce, instructor at the school, as associate director.

As there is no other Sunday night service at any church through the Spring Creek Valley, it is the desire of the pastor of the Flats church, the Rev. Calverton Caldwell, to get night services underway at the church, with a special invitation to neighboring churches to attend and participate, with the emphasis being placed on training our youth.

Here Comes The Bookmobile

Have just come in from my first "ride the route day" (Monday), after two "stay-in" weeks, and I really did check the books out today. Set up a new stop on Upper Shutin at Mrs. Lura Lamb's home.

Each week do their me right. Thank Mrs. Donald Haynie, for the care and advice, and Mrs. Frances for the help for the turnips.

Now, are coming friends in Hot Springs. I have a "crow to pick" with you. Someone or maybe two or three, get into my reserved books box that is marked in big letters, "PLEASE DO NOT DISTURB" and disturbed it.

We appreciate the gifts of magazines and books. Our thanks this week to Mr. Alton Phoenix, Hot Springs; Messrs. Buford and Otis Martin, Paint Rock, and Mr. Joe Eads, Marshall.

Singing At Hopewell Church Saturday Night

The regular first Saturday night singing will be held at Hopewell Baptist Church Saturday night, March 3 at 7:30 o'clock.

All singers and the public are invited to attend. Edd Ball, well known master ceremonies, will be among the master groups of singers expected to present.
