Miss Pearl Francis, Bride-Elect, Honored With Shower Thursday

Miss Pearl Francis, who will be married to Dr. Robert Seymour Jr., in LaFollette, Tenn., on June 23, was honored last Thursday night at a miscellaneous shower at the Mars Hill Community Club House.

Approximately 150 people were present for the occasion given by Misses Caroline Biggers, Martha Biggers, Dorothy Blakely and Frances Snelson and Mesdames Opal DeShazo, Gwyn Fish, Violette Henderson, Dorothy Roberts and Julia Tillman.

Miss Francis is a teacher of piano and organ in the department of music at Mars Hill College and Dr. Seymour is the minister of the Mars Hill Baptist Church.

A program of violin selections by Miss Irma Helen Hopkins, a member of the college music faculty, and poetry readings by Miss Caroline Biggers was presented for the guests at the shower.

Gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a pink model of a baby grand piano.

The Club House was decorated in pink, green and white using Pink Dogwood and Laurel. The punch table was set with an arrangement of real Snapdragon and Shasta Daisies centered with a large replica of a wedding ring.

White net outlined the table and was gathered with white satin bows. Two beautiful silver candelabra with pink candles complemented the table decorations.

Favors for the guests were miniature containers of rice decorated with sprigs of Lily of the Valley and white ribbons.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Robert Seymour Sr., of Greenwood, S. C., and Mrs. Paul Francis Sr., and Mrs. Paul Francis Jr., of LaFollette.

Presbyterian Youth Fellowship Attends Meeting At Erwin

A delegation from the Presbyterian Youth Fellowship of the Marshall Presbyterian Church attended an overnight rally at Erwin, Tenn., last Saturday and Sunday.

The delegation heard talks on "Literature" for the coming year, followed by discussion.

A banquet was held Saturday night followed by games and songs. Before retiring to the homes of members of the church, the Marshall group held Vespers services.

The group attended worship services at the church Sunday and officers for the coming year were installed. Robert Bowman of Marshall was re-elected Witness Chairman.

Those attending were: Madeline Ramsey, Dora Lee Edwards, Lew Allen Rice and Robert Bowman. Mrs. W. W. Peek, advisor, accompanied the group.

If you have visitors or if you go on a trip, phone or write this newspaper.

HEARSEN AND ERDEN By "TOP"

The inspection lap on the Island has really been patronized this week — the fellows over there are doing a good job — and for free — if you haven't had your car inspected, do so before the week is over — the Laymen's Revival started at the Marshall Baptist Church Monday night and "Evangelists" Jim Baley and Wade Honey were splendid — the revival continues through Sunday night with emphasis this week-end on "Youth" — come on out and be with us — the revival at the Walnut Methodist Church also continues through Sunday night — I've heard some crazy things that happen to local fishermen but this week I heard one that tops 'em all — heard that Charlie Sawyer went fishing the other day and just as he started to cast a bird lit on the rod — imagine, casting for a fish and catching a bird — but knowing Charlie, I'm not surprised — after attending the revival Tuesday night, Wade, Lyman and I breezed out to Walnut and watched a portion of the wrestling (from the sublime to the ridiculous) — the crowd seemed to thoroughly enjoy the grunt and groan specialists — after watching those jabs toss each other over their heads, through the ropes and bang them against the canvas, I hope that none of the wives present tried those stunts on their husbands when they got home — hope to have some news on the opening of the swimming pool by next week — the gymnasium is really beginning to look great — the floor is now down and the building is magnificent — if you haven't been over to see it, please do — you'll be glad you went — congratulations to Everett Boone and Allen Duckett — what I say is, the more babies, the more cigars — and "Dots all vot I hope."

BUT WE CAN'T BE THE FARMER'S WIFE

So this is "Be Kind to Animals" week — can remember when we took the different weeks seriously and were stressed in our classes at school — that is all over now, since we can't stay in a dither the year round — there might be a week not designated as a special week — we have always given credit to the movie stars for being conceited, temperamental and with a large ego, but that was before we learned so much about wrestlers — they are now my candidates for the title of "Marvelous Me" — it really makes the wrestling programs less popular — just heard on the radio that the National Association of PTA would not approve games of chance or any form of gambling in the schools — it comes late but more power to them — saw blackberry blossoms yesterday so this must be blackberry winter — how does one break their family in on poke? — they won't learn to like it till they have tasted it — so Sunday is Mother's Day — so when you go on Saturday to get her a present or a card, you might register — you might want to vote come election day.
